Mrs. Upchurch Entertains Her Bridge Club Monday

Mrs. Alene Godfrey Upchurch was hostess to the members of Our Bridge club at her home in Wilkesboro Monday evening. A variety of cut flowers made a colorful setting for the players at three tables.

The top score award in the game went to Miss Willie Guthrie while the bingo prize was won by Miss Helen Blevins. A dessert course was served at the beginning of the evening.

Friendly Circle Met With Miss Patty Somers

Miss Patty Somers was hostess to the members of the Friendly circle of the Wilkesboro Methodist church at her home in Wilkesboro Tuesday evening, having twelve members present. Mrs. George Parlier, the president of the circle, was in charge of the meeting, and Miss Irene Culler taught the Bible study. Mrs. Roy Reece, the treasurer, presided for a short business session. At the close of the evening the hostess served an ice course.

Miss Mamie McNeil Is Bridge Club Hostess

With Miss Mamie McNeil as hostess the members of the Young Matron's Contract club were delightfully entertained at her home on D Street Monday evening. A dessert course preceded the bridge game, which was played at three tables.

Those winning prizes were Mrs. S. T. Taylor for high score, Mrs. Rufus Church low score, and Mrs. O. E. Triplett the honor prize. Mrs. John R. Faison, of Asheville, a guest of Mrs. J. B. Highsmith, was a visitor of the club. Gladioli and other summer flowers made lovely decorations for the home.

Presbyterian Young People At Glade Valley Conference

A number of young people from the Presbyterian church have been attending conferences at Glade Valley. Last week the Senior Young People's conference of the Winston-Salem Presbyterian was directed by Rev. Watt Cooper, pastor of the local church, and the people in attendance from here were: George Oglvie, who is president of the Young People's Conference of the Winston-Salem Presbyterian, Corrine Faw, Neel Eddinger, Joyce Brewer, Catherine Brewer, Barbara Oglvie, Mary Charles Alexander, and Frances Finley.

This week the conference is for the Intermediate group and is being directed by Mr. J. W. Foster, of Cooleemee. Those attending from here are: Mary Elmore Finley, Dorothy Summers, Clate Miller, George Woodie, and James Shumaker.

Mrs. Critcher Hostess At Home Tuesday

On Tuesday afternoon, July 2, Mrs. J. C. Critcher, Jr., charmingly entertained the members of her bridge club and several visitors. Four tables were arranged for play in the living room and sun room which were decorated with bowles of summer flowers. After the play, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Paul Vestal, served a delicious two-course dinner. A color scheme of red, white and blue was effectively used.

Mrs. J. G. Bentley won high score prize and Mrs. Floyd Jennings won consolation prize.

Miss Ruth Laxton, C. Knoxville, Tenn., and sister of the hostess was a visitor. Also Miss Jessie Coachman, of Clearwater, Fla.; Mrs. Lou Kane, Mrs. Shafter Laws, Mrs. E. D. Greer were visitors to the club.

Mrs. Warner Miller Is Missionary Society Hostess

The members of the Wilkesboro Methodist Missionary Society were entertained in their monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Warner Miller, having twelve members and one visitor present. Mrs. N. O. Smock, the president, occupied the chair during the business session and the program, the theme of which was "Our Human Heritage," was given by Mrs. J. B. Henderson. Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Pleasant Home Y. W. A. Held Monthly Meeting

The Frances Turner Y. W. A. met at the Pleasant Home Baptist church Sunday night, July 7, having thirteen members present. Mrs. W. K. Sturdivant and Miss Beth Jones, both of North Wilkesboro, met with the group and made interesting talks. The president of the Y. W. A., Miss Dare Johnson, presided over the business session. There has been an increase in the membership enrollment, and it is hoped that many more will join later. The next meeting is to be held August 4, at 7:30 p. m.

Metrick and daughters, Miss Mary Jo Metrick and Mrs. Rufus Robertson, of Hickory; Mr. and Mrs. James Worrell and daughters, Misses Jane and Elizabeth Worrell, of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Kearns and little daughter, Greensboro; Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Hubbard and daughter, Miss Hope Hubbard, Farmer.

Small Plots Grow Needed Vegetables

Growing enough vegetables on a plot 25 feet square to feed a family and then have a surplus for canning is being accomplished this season in a Davie county mill community, reports H. R. Niswonger, horticulturist of the State College Extension Service. Intensive cultivation of small plots of ground is keeping a large percentage of the Erwin Cotton Mill workers in Cooleemee well-supplied with wholesome, nutritious food.

Although some of the gardens occupy from one-fourth to one-third of an acre, many are only 25 to 50 feet square. Of the 350 white mill families, 250 are using their backyards to grow vegetables. In addition, all of the 25 Negro families have gardens.

Advantage is taken of the favorable growing season during the spring and summer to build up a surplus for canning soup mixtures, snap beans, tomatoes, kraut, and other vegetables. One woman reported canning last year 30 quarts of soup mixture, 10 cans of tomatoes, and 12 cans of snap beans from a garden 25 feet square. Also, she fed a family of seven with fresh vegetables.

To stimulate interest, a garden contest is held each year. Farm and home agents of Davie county and Miss Maude Graham, social service worker for the mill, select the best gardens. Prizes are offered for the best plots.

Every inch of ground is utilized, with the outside edges of the garden and the sides next to the houses planted to flowers. The distance between rows varies from 12 to 24 inches. Inter-planting and rotation of crops are practiced.

Niswonger said these gardens contain all of the popular vegetables, these being planted in succession so as to make fullest use of the land.
