SOCIETY

Courtesy Extended Mr. and Mrs. Phillips

A delightful courtesy was extended Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Phillips on Saturday evening when Mesdames William H. Gwyn and Buster Nichols entertained at the home of the former at Purlier. The spacious lawn was lighted for games and contests for the younger guests while others were entertained in the home with bingo. The house was decorated with a profusion of spring and summer flowers. After the contests and cake-cutting with prizes awarded Mr. Phillips and Mr. Roby Eller, the hostesses, assisted by Mesdames Mintie Bumgarner, Richard Vannoy, and Misses Mildred Kliby and Goazel McNeill, served delicious refreshments. Then followed the disclosure of the surprise shower of numerous lovely gifts for Mrs. Phillips who was Miss Rachel Nichols before her marriage in New York City on June 20th. Around seventy-five guests called during the evening.

Nichols-Williamson

In a ceremony marked by beauty and simplicity Miss Doris Nichols became the bride of Mr. Lawrence Williamson in the First Baptist church in Winston-Salem Sunday afternoon.

The bride, who was becomingly attired in white for the ceremony performed by Rev. Mr. Arnold, is an attractive daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James T. Nichols, of Wilkesboro route one. She is a graduate of Reynolds high school and holds a position with H. H. Jones Furniture company in Winston-Salem. Mr. Williamson, who is well and favorably known in Winston-Salem, holds a position with Barber Photo Supply company. They will make their home in Winston-Salem.

3-Year Quotas Will Stabilize Allotments

Tobacco allotments will not be reduced in 1941 and the Government will protect prices of this year's crop "at or slightly above the 1939 price level" if three-year quotas are approved in the flue-cured referendum on July 20, says E. Y. Floyd, AAA executive officer of N. C. State College.

"On the other hand," Floyd declared, "if three-year quotas are rejected and the one-year quota plan is continued through 1941, farm allotments for next year will be 10 per cent less than the 1940 allotments and the Government will not be able to protect prices at the level established last year."

Commenting on what he termed "the most serious market situation ever faced by tobacco growers," the AAA executive said: "Stocks of flue-cured tobacco in this country are now 500 million pounds larger than a year ago. There is now growing around 740,000 acres of flue-cured tobacco. With average yields, this will result in a crop of around 650 million pounds.

"Domestic manufacturers probably will not want to buy over 400 million pounds this season, in view of their large purchases last season and with domestic consumption still under 400 million pounds annually.

"At the present time there is little demand from the export trade. If all the orders for the export trade that will be on the market at the opening of the buying season were added up, they probably would amount to between 100 and 150 million pounds.

"This means, therefore, that the buyers will probably not want more than 500 to 550 million pounds from the 1940 crop of tobacco. This would leave between 100 to 150 million pounds for which there will be no buyers except at extremely low prices. The Government is prepared to make loans to remove this surplus from the regular channels

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: What proportions arsenate, water, and molasses are used for mopping cotton to control boll weevils?

Answer: One pound of arsenate should be added to one gallon of water and thoroughly stirred. Then add one gallon ingredients are thoroughly mixed. This will make enough of the mixture for one application on one acre. Larger amounts may be made by using the same proportions. Only enough of the mixture should be made for each day's use. Frequent stirring while applying is necessary to keep the calcium arsenate in suspension.
