New Lamour In Film Promising Fun and Drama At The Liberty

A sparkling new alignment of high-priced talent, consisting of Dorothy Lamour, a "new" Lamour in a short, half-do, by the way, Robert Preston and Preston Foster, gets its chance to show what it can do in the way of having fun in the tropics in Paramount's "Moon Over Burma," the picture which will open Thursday at the Liberty Theatre.
 Judging by the past performances of Miss Lamour et al., they can do plenty.

In equipping this trio for being sportive on the screen together, Paramount has trotted out some of its best talent to provide story and direction of high calibre. No less than three writers worked on the screen-play to fill it choicful of cracks, while Louis King turned his directorial mind to comedy situations, varied with moments of drama.

To get down to cases, we find Miss Lamour cast as an entertainer in a night club in a province Rangoon is in Burma, a province of India, just to throw in an odd fact for good measure. The boys
 —Robert Preston and Preston Foster (don't get them mixed up, now), are seen as a couple of lively lads who deal in teak.

Boys meet girl when they encounter her during a trip down the river to Rangoon to pick up some money to keep the teak business percolating. They find Dorothy in a night club, and after a time, she goes back with them to the compound whence they operate. A compound is not a formula for gunpowder or a medicine—it's just one of those places they have in India for sleeping, eating, etc.

From that point on, the story gets a lot more complicated and we're not going to tangle you up in it. But you'll find that cobras menace Lamour, and there is a forest fire that really is something, we understand, not to mention a log jam that really jams thrills into the motion picture.

Others who are in the cast include Doris Nolan, seen as a young lady who falls in love with Foster, who is in love with Dorothy. But so is Preston, for that matter. And it makes for lots of romance. Albert Basserman, a fine actor, is also cast as a partner of the boys. He happens to be blind, and so can't keep track of their hijinks.

No, we haven't forgotten to tell you. Miss Lamour sings in the picture. Two new songs are chanted in her best manner:
 "Moon Over Burma" and "Mexican Magic." From what we hear, you'll like them.

Wilkes Man Hurt
 In Auto Accident

Statesville.—One man suffered a broken neck in an automobile-truck crash about 1 o'clock Saturday morning at the intersection of Center and Water streets.

The truck, driven by Lewis A.
 Martin, of Mount Airy, headed east on Water, crashed into the left side of an automobile, operated by Leroy Burton, negro teacher, of Wilkesboro, who was going north on Center street.

Both vehicles were badly damaged and Gordon Blair, 22, who was asleep in the truck, received a fractured vertebra of the neck.
 At Long's Hospital, where Blair is a patient, it is learned that his condition is satisfactory and he will probably be confined at the hospital for three weeks.

Local police charged both drivers with reckless driving and they are to have a hearing in mayor's court October 21.

Ballroom Dancing Classes Formed

The ballroom dancing classes for the tenth and eleventh grades of the high school have been changed, for the convenience of many, and will meet on Tuesday night of each week at 8:00 o'- clock. These classes are being conducted at the Finley Studio of Dance by Miss Melvina Williams. The classes for the lower high school grades meets at seven o'clock on the same night.
 Much enthusiasm is being shown in these classes where all the latest steps are being taught.

It is very important that young people be taught early the proper etiquette at a dance, as well as learning to dance well. This will be emphasized. So don't wait until you have that important dance invitation before you give serious thought to your antiquated dance steps. A class is being arranged for business men and women so communicate with the studio if you are interested.

We have audited the books and accounting records of the Town of North Wilkesboro, North Carolina for the twelve months period ended June 30, 1940, and have prepared the above consolidated statement of Receipts and Disbursements. Cash in Banks shown by the Municipal records was reconciled with statements furnished by the depository banks as of June 29, 1940. Taxes Receivable, all Levies, were checked in detail and other sources of receipts of record were found to be in agreement with the Town's general books. All Disbursements were carefully analyzed and expenditures were found to have been authorized by the Municipal Governing Body.

We, therefore, certify that in our opinion the above statement of Receipts and Disbursements is correct. This October 10th, 1940.

Respectfully submitted,
Charles E. Hagaman,
 Certified Public Accountant
