Mrs. J. B. Carter Entertains G. C. Alumnae Association

An interesting meeting of the Wilkes County Greensboro College Alumnae Association was held Friday evening at the home of Mrs. J. B. Carter on Ninth Street. Due to the absence of the president, Mrs. Charles Hulcher, the vice president, Mrs. Darwin Smithy, presided over the business session.

A special feature of the meeting was the group listening to the broadcast of Mrs. Gwendolyn Mitchell Farrell, an alumnae of the college. A large number of the members were present and at the close of the evening were served tempting refreshments by Mrs. Carter.

Dinner Party To Be At Clubhouse Thursday Night

A program on "Americanism" is to be given at the dinner party that the Senior Woman's club of North Wilkesboro is giving at the Woman's clubhouse on Trogon Street Thursday evening, October 24, at 6:45 o'clock. The program is to be in charge of Judge Johnson J. Hayes. Tickets are on sale and may be secured from the finance committee, of which Mrs. Frank Tomlinson is chairman.

Mrs. Clyde Price, district president, and Mrs. Hayes, district secretary, both of Hickory, plan to attend the dinner.

Mrs. W. C. Grier Is Sewing Club Hostess

Mrs. W. C. Grier charmingly entertained the members of the Wednesday Sewing club at her home on E Street Wednesday afternoon. Fall flowers made colorful decorations for the living room where the guests spent an informal hour together in sewing and conversation. A salad course with sweets was served by Mrs. Grier at the close of the afternoon.

Fruit that has been sprayed with poison should be washed before eating.

Misses Young, Troutman Entertain At Bridge

An outstanding social affair of the week was the lovely dessert-bridge given by Miss Luellie Young and Miss Kathryn Troutman, members of the city school faculty, at the home of Mrs. Chal McNeil on D Street Thursday evening. Twelve tables were arranged for play in a festive setting of autumn flowers with the tallies carrying the same note. Miniature corsages were given as favors.

Those winning prizes in the game were Miss Evelyn Sharpe for high score, Mrs. W. P. Grier, Jr., second high, and Mrs. Lewis Vickery for low score. Mrs. Otis Keeling, the former Miss Marguerite Harris, of Louisburg, and Mrs. Wright Williams, were remembered with gifts. Mrs. Keeling received a silver sandwich tray, and Mrs. Williams, of Norfolk, Va., formerly of North Wilkesboro, who is here visiting with friends, was given a handkerchief of the month.

Mrs. Charlie Bumgarner Is Bridge Club Hostess

With Mrs. Charlie Bumgarner as hostess the members of the Wilkesboro bridge club were delightfully entertained at her home in Wilkesboro Thursday evening. Mixed cut flowers made a pretty background for the players at two tables. The top score prize in the game was won by Mrs. Ben Perkins. A salad course followed play.

McLain-McGee Vows Announced

Mrs. Ella McLain, of Wilkesboro, announces the marriage of her daughter, Grace, to Wade Vance McGee, of Lenoir, September 14, at York, South Carolina, with Judge E. Gettys Nunn officiating and using the impressive ring ceremony.

Mrs. McGee is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Ella McLain and the late James P. McLain.

Mr. McGee is the son of Mrs. Inez McGee and the late F. M. McGee, of Lenoir. Mr. McGee is an employe of Hibriten Chair Company in Lenoir. The young couple plan to make their home in Lenoir soon.

Man Robbed Of $60,000 In Gems

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 17.—A city-wide police search was under way today for two youthful bandits who last night slugged Soj Roseman, sixty, of New York city, and robbed him of a bag containing cut diamonds and rings valued at from $60,000 to $75,000.

The muskellunge is found only in North America.

J.; Betty Jean Knosky, Asheville; Mildred Knotts, Lilesville; Dorothy McDuffie, Henderson; Charlotte Moseley, Kinston; Betty O'Neal, Sugar Grove; Ida Bland Overman, Elizabeth City; Eleanor Pearce, Wake Forest; Betty White Clayton; and Sarah Witherspoon, Murphy.

Pershing's Son To Wait For The Draft And Take Pot Luck

New York, Oct. 16.—Among the 1,107,000 New York men who will register today in the nation's first peace-time conscription is Francis Warren Pershing, only son of Gen. John J. Pershing, who commanded the A.E.F. in the World war.

Young Pershing, who is 31, said he was willing to do anything—including kitchen police if and when he is called for duty. "There's no reason in the world why I shouldn't be called up," he said. "And there certainly is no reason for me to get a good job out of it."

Gasoline and kerosene should be kept in plainly marked containers and kept a safe distance from all farm buildings.

Comedy Lightens Draft Registry

Draft registration had its special moments from coast to coast. For instance:

Philadelphia.—A school teacher, acting as registrar, got a proposal from an enrollee who wanted her to marry him and "save him from the Army."

Too Much Name
Hardy, Ky.—John Boggs Tom Dick William Howard Taft Weddington could not get his full name on the registration card. He settled for John B. T. D. W. H. T. Weddington.

Newark, N. J.—The City Clerk refused a marriage license to a man who said he was marrying to escape the Army. A man wrapped in a sheet while waiting at a school to be the first in line was reported to police as a "ghost."

Plainfield, N. J.—A man listed his sister as being the person who always would know his address, explaining that he did not know how long his wife would stick with him.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Alvin D. Loomis, eighty-six, who voted for 15 Presidents, sought to enroll, saying he had been too young for the Civil War and too old for all others.

Large Families

Little Falls and Harkimer, N. Y.—Each city had eight sons of one family among its enrollees.

Glendale, Calif.—Triplets registered.

Columbus, Ohio.—Charles O'Hara, blind piano tuner, was set to registration place by his son. Gilliam said he would "play in the Army band."

Seattle.—A negro who insisted he had no name chose one from among samples written by a registrar.

Rochester, N. Y.—"Here's my exemption," said a registrant, who brought along his son in a baby carriage.

Present indications are that an all-time high of eight million bales of cotton will be used in the United States alone during the coming year, although exports will not exceed two million bales.

Because of a short cotton crop last year, many Northampton county farm families are now growing more small grain and beef cattle, says H. G. Snipes, assistant farm agent.

Resolutions Of Respect

We, the members of The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Beulah Methodist church, desire to express our deep sense of loss in the passing of one of our most esteemed members, Mrs. Ida Davis, our friend and co-worker. She was quiet, unassuming, and gentle in disposition. She was devoted to her church, her home, and friends. Her strong Christian character and her life of splendid loving service inspire us to follow in her footsteps, and impels us to live a better and nobler life, devoted to Jesus Christ.

Our love and sympathy go out to her family and friends.

In appreciation of her consecrated life of devoted service, we desire that this tribute of love and respect be entered in the record in our Society, that a copy be sent to the family, and a copy be sent to The North Carolina Christian Advocate and The Journal-Patriot.

MRS. J. M. GREEN, President.
MRS. B. B. PEARSON, Vice President.
MRS. W. C. SCROGGS, Secretary.
