

Dellaplane and Roaring River Route 2 News

ROARING RIVER, Route 2, Nov. 7.—Mr. Eugene Johnson, of Point, formerly of this section, writes he and Miss Gladys Agie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Cagle, also of High Point, were married Oct. 13 in Cheraw, S. C. The bridegroom, second son of Mr. J. Reason Johnson and the late Mrs. Ollie Burchette Johnson, is employed by the Carolina Container Co. For the present the young couple are making their home with the bride's parents.

Mrs. D. S. Lane, of North Wilkesboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Turner Church, of Crickert, visited Rev. M. T. Jarvis and Mrs. Lois Roberts in the Cranberry community Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Gatton, of Winston-Salem, recently visited her mother, Mrs. Ada Cothren. Mrs. Gatton, who was married in the late summer, is remembered here as Miss Esther Cothren, popular fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cothren.

Mr. Fisher Joyner, who will move in Mrs. Cornelia Johnson's house as soon as the new metal roof is finished, has been boarding at Mrs. B. L. Johnson's while moving wheat.

The young twin Guernsey oxen born to one of Mr. Ranse Staley's cows the past summer are said to be identical in appearance.

Mr. Thurmond Sparks is planning to build a large new barn at his home, formerly Mrs. Minnie Shew's place, which he purchased during the past year.

Mrs. Cornelia Chappell Johnson has been visiting in the home of her oldest son, Mr. B. L. Johnson. Her house is going to be covered.

As election draws near, people here are taking a lively interest in politics. Amusingly enough, one woman, who said she had always been a Republican in sentiment but had never voted and did not expect to this year, said she was out lecturing for the Democrats!

Mrs. W. J. Kiaroun is planning to have her house covered.

Whoever carried off this correspondent's step-grandfather's old ax by mistake will please bring it back again. It is guaranteed not to cut anything and we have to have it to drive stumps for "old Spotty," "Pansy Blossom," "Beauty Girl," "Wonder Baby," and any cattle we may rent for the winter.

Mrs. H. A. Martin, Winston-Salem, and her guest, Mrs. E. S. Clayton (Mrs. Bethel Roberts Clayton), of Asheville, spent a few hours last Wednesday with Mrs. Laura Linney, Mrs. Martin is a niece by marriage of Mrs. Linney, while Mrs. Clayton is a first cousin.

Mr. J. L. Mastin's auction sale was not held last Saturday a week ago as advertised. He did not expect to leave his home on the "Uncle Trib" Mastin farm.

Mr. Gales Scroggs is the new rural carrier on route 2. Mr. Sam Parks had been delivering the mail since retirement of Mr. H. E. Parks in 1939.

Miss Hazel Mastin, who had a NYA job in the summer, has been staying this autumn with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rogers, at Elkin.

Misses Winnie and Bess McLean, of Crickert, spent a few minutes Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Laura Linney. Miss Bess McLean taught at Dellaplane the winter of 1920-1921 and boarded with Mrs. Linney.

The kitchen and the so-called "new room" at the old Tilley place were re-roofed last week with slate-surfaced asphalt thatch shingles. The work was done by Mansfield Parks, colored, and Mr. Greene Brown. The 2-story portion of the century-old house was covered in 1939.

Harmonizers Now On Radio Station WPTF

The Southern Harmonizers, popular radio male quartet heard over Winston-Salem and Greensboro stations last year, are now on Raleigh radio station WPTF every morning except Sunday at 6:05 a. m. It was learned here today from a member of the quartet.

The Harmonizers will be with WPTF for an indefinite period and will also make personal appearances in central North Carolina.

The quartet is composed of Clarence Sebastian, Earl Wiles Eugene Sebastian and Paul Luffman, all of North Wilkesboro route two.

Ronda Route 2 News Reported

RONDA, Route 2, Oct. 31.—Mr. George Matthews and daughter, Pauline, with her husband, Mr. John Snow, and their little son, Ronnie, were recent guests of Mr. Walter Walker and family.

Mr. Fayette Pardue was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Green, on Saturday before the third Sunday and attending services at Pleasant Grove church in the afternoon.

Mrs. Joe Mathis returned home last Friday after spending a week with her father, Rev. N. T. Jarvis, near Cranberry church, who suffered a heart attack the day she went. However he is almost normal but lies in bed most of his time, since he suffered the attack.

Messrs. Armstrong and Richard Pardue, Clarke Walker and Columbus Sturdivant made a business trip to Taylor's Warehouse, Winston-Salem last week.

Mrs. Graham Myers and son, David, with her aunt, Mrs. W. G. Church and Miss Delight Church, of Elkin, visited relatives at Holly Hill last Thursday.

Mrs. Vetrail Boyd, who is spending the winter in Winston-Salem, with her daughter, Mrs. Dan Hayes, came home the past week-end. Her father, Mr. Richard Walker, is in very poor health.

Rev. R. R. Crater preached a spiritually strengthening sermon, text Romans 14:12, to Brier Creek church last Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Mr. Joe Mathis' goat, with a long chain around his neck, came running and rattling in the church about the middle of the sermon. One of the members tried to catch the 'Billygoat,' only succeeded in driving the goat out and closing the door. Evidently the goat wanted to be in the audience; as he proceeded around the house and began to try to climb in at a window. Mrs. Worth Sale quickly let the window down. The goat lingered near and waited patiently till services closed. Nevertheless, Rev. Mr. Crater was not interrupted, just finished his discourse as if nothing unusual had happened.

Mrs. Tom Walter Hanks gave her husband a delightful surprise birthday dinner last Saturday night.

Miss Myra Sale came home from Rex Hospital several days ago and has improved rapidly. She has returned to where she is teaching just beyond Raleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Pardue, of Cycle, came to visit her parents, Mr. Martin and Mrs. Pardue the past week-end. They attended the eleven o'clock service at Brier Creek. In the afternoon Messrs. Kermit and Martin with Mesdames, Florence and Julia visited Mr. Chap Pardue's family.

Rev. Mr. Crater preached his best sermon at eleven o'clock Sunday at Brier Creek, his subject "I need Jesus."

Mr. Graham Myers, yesterday carried his little son, David, to visit his grandparents, Mr. Worth and Mrs. Sale while he and Mrs. Iyres visited Mr. and Mrs. John Sappenfield, at High Point.

Mrs. Chap Pardue has been quite ill but is nearly normal again.

Mesdames Julia Pardue and Nancy Walker were bedtime guests of Misses Mattie and Armisa Sale last night, while Miss Polly Pardue and Clarke Walker visited Mrs. Worth Sale.

Miss Emma Pardue spent a day last week with Mr. Martin Pardue's family as she was passing Mr. Osborn's at Brier Creek a goat joined her. It followed her some distance. She goodnaturedly tried to drive it back and couldn't. Thinking Mr. Osborn's she went back to his house with the goat as no one was at home she couldn't get away from Billy. He followed her butting her and rearing on her in spite of her blows till she reached her mother's Luther's. There it was that Mr. Joe Mathis went for him next day.

Whoever heard of a billy goat attacking one on the highway and going to church to disturb public worship? What an outlaw! We are sure since his nature has been manifested he will not have an opportunity to make a repetition.

Barbara Jean Sale of Ronda came over with Rev. Mr. Crater to Brier Creek Saturday afternoon and spent the night with her "Granny" Sale, George Harvey and Mrs. Sale came over after attending Mr. Tom Walter Hanks' birthday party.

Mr. Chap Pardue and family are moving soon to the home Mr. Sam Pardue purchased of Mr. Sam Key near Brier Creek school house where Mr. Luther Pardue now lives.

Mr. Luther Pardue is moving to Mr. Lambert's place on the Yaddin.

Mr. Sam Gray is moving from the Morrison place near Brier Creek to Mr. Edward Glass' on Hunting Creek. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sparks have rented the Morrison farm.

We regret to lose Mr. Fisher Joyner's family.

Mrs. and Arville Pardue returned home with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pardue last night.

Mr. Roy Martin and Mrs. Martin, of Winston-Salem, made a business trip to their farm at Brier Creek last week.

Mr. Manoel and Mrs. Shumate visited Misses Mattie and Armisa Sale recently.

Mr. Fletcher and Mrs. Pardue, of Bethel community, were the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chap Pardue last Sunday.
