Questions Answered By State College

Question: What have been the reasons for the present trend toward more livestock?

Answer: L. I. Case, extension animal husbandman, says the reasons include the soil conservation program, the increased production of both permanent and temporary pastures, the increased acreage of hay and small grain crops, and the greater desire on the part of farmers to supplement their income through the production and sale of livestock and livestock products.

Judy Garland Back In New Hardy Family Adventures At The Liberty

Judy Garland and Mickey Rooney are together again in "Life Begins for Andy Hardy," latest adventures of the popular Hardy Family, which opens this week on the Liberty screen. This time Andy leaves for New York to become a "captain of industry," and it takes all of Judy's love and resourcefulness to get him out of his resultant scrapes.

Ring the bell once again in its true interpretation of American family life. "Life Begins for Andy Hardy," newest of the Hardy Family pictures, offers entertainment plus at the Liberty Theatre, where it opens Thursday for an engagement of 2 days. This latest venture, which finds Andy facing life on his own away from family ties and the protective influences of Carvel, results in a sobered young man—an Andy who at last realizes that living constitutes something more than class dances and football games.

The plot in brief deals with the problems facing the Hardys after Andy's graduation from high school. Whether he should go on to college to study law, or go out on his own is a situation left entirely up to him by his parents. He decides to leave home for a month and work in New York. With this experience he feels he will be able to make a wiser decision. Once again his path crosses that of Betsy Booth, and once again Betsy helps him out of an embarrassing situation. What happens in the city can best be explained by the fact that Andy, after his month has elapsed, chooses a college career.

The new Hardy picture was directed by George B. Seitz, who has piloted the family through all but one of their adventures thus far.

Dellaplane and Roaring River News In Brief

Roaring River, Route 2, Aug. 19. Successful revivals closed last Sunday at Oak Forest and Cranberry.

Rev. W. F. Lawrence, former pastor, assisted Rev. L. T. Younger, pastor, in the recent meeting at Cranberry.

Several of the descendants of Will Harris, of Elkin, came up to the Oak Forest revival last Saturday night, bringing a piano, and presented a musical program, which was enjoyed. Most of them belong to the Holiness church.

Miss Nelie Jane Glass, of the Brier Creek vicinity, visited her aunt, Mrs. Roxie Love, and cousin, Miss Madeline Love, one or two nights last week and attended the Oak Forest revival.

Mr. Lee St. John spent several days last week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. T. Love, and attended the Cranberry revival.

Messrs. Frank Staley, Walter L. Foster, and Jim Harris were appointed messengers from Oak Forest last Wednesday to the Brier Creek Association at New Hope, October 2. Mrs. Viola Johnson, Mrs. Nora Belle Harris, and Mrs. Alice Staley were appointed alternates.

Calf men buying "Bobby Shaftoe" at the old Tilley place Monday expressed the opinion that it was the most inaccessible spot on earth. It is true that Jim Amos hid here during the War Between the States and that several have expressed the intention of hiding here during the second world war, but 600,000 or 700,000 feet of lumber was hauled away from the old Tilley place during the past year, which suggests that cars and trucks may have been known to negotiate the road in time, though everyone declares otherwise.

everyone thinks that the occupants of the old Tilley place should be hung and quartered for not going out and working the road. But, we would venture to opine that it is not the only bad road in Wilkes county, though to hear people talk, one would think all the others were hard-surfaced.

The graveyard was nicely cleaned off at Oak Forest just before the recent revival.

Nothing has been heard here of the condition of Mrs. Blanche Younts Loflin, Jackson Creek, Randolph County, who shot herself three times through the chest on August 9th. She had visited in this neighborhood several times before her marriage.

Rev. J. P. Roberson and Rev. Mr. Poole visited in many homes of the community while conducting the revival at Oak Forest last week. The congregation expressed high approval of Mr. Poole, who had not preached much here previously.

It is said that at Brier Creek and many rural churches there is a floating congregation, made up of new tenants who move to the river farms each year. This is not exactly true of Oak Forest. It was noted Wednesday that the congregation was largely composed of descendants of the Harris, Foster, Staley, and Johnson families, most of whose ancestors have probably worshipped there for generations, or ever since the church was constituted 82 years ago. Even this correspondent's grandfather, Capt. A. H. Martin, was a charter member of Oak Forest when it was founded in 1859.

It is said Mr. Jonah Porter is going to put up a market at his store at Roaring River. He has bought many fat cattle and sheep and put them in a pasture he bought last year from Mrs. Anna Lee Salmon Lambeth on the south side of the Yadkin.

Vast Cut Looms In Motor Car Output

The only way to treat such individuals is to wholly ignore them, and, satisfied we are right to go ahead with what is to be done.

Washington.—Production of passenger automobiles between now and December probably will be cut about 20 per cent. below the 1940 levels, William S. Knutsen, director of the office of production management said yesterday.

The automobile advisory committee has been called to meet today with representatives of the OPM and the office of price control and civilian supply. Knutsen said exact quotas would be announced then.

He told his press conference that about 100,000 cars would be made this month. That total, he said, is above the level of last August but the production during the following three months probably will be curtailed until the average for the first four months of the model year is about 20 per cent under the 1940 mark.

Automobile manufacturers agreed some months ago to an initial curtailment of 20 per cent in 1942 models.

Baptists Plan To Fight Indifference

Launch A Four-Year Campaign To Begin This Year and Continue Thru 1945

By NEIL MORGAN (In Biblical Recorder)

Ridgecrest, July 15.—Re-realizing the urgent need for revitalization of individual moral life to combat international decline of Christianity, Southern Baptists have launched a four-year campaign to fight religious indifference "to the last Baptist."

The program, beginning this year, the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Sunday school board, is to continue until 1945, one hundred years after the organization of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Chester Quarles, associational director of the Southwest Baptist Training Union, and Dr. Jerry E. Lambdin, general secretary, who are in charge of the movement, played a prominent role last week in the Southern Baptist editorial conference at the Ridgecrest assembly.

Among goals for the campaign is the raising of the present enrollment of 920,000 Southern Baptists in training unions to 1,200,000 by January, 1945. The present 14,000 churches having unions would be increased to 18,000.

"We would bring about a closer coordination of evangelism and training in our churches and strive for an increase in Christian intelligence," Mr. Quarles said.

Teams of picked training union workers are touring the South, conducting associational conferences in which the task of enlargement and improvement is discussed.

Twenty-two teams worked simultaneously in Texas this spring, using 110 pastors, educational directors, and Southwide workers in covering 110 associations. About 11,500 persons attended the meetings.

This week Mr. Quarles received a letter from a girl in Southern Texas. She wasn't able to attend state meetings of the training union, because of the travel involved; but she was "so happy because the meetings have come to me."

Individual revitalization is being accomplished, and the renaissance of the group is coming with it. A Baptist association in the Arkansas Ozarks visited recently had never had a training union in any of its more than twenty churches. When the Baptist workers left, a fully graded union was established, and others were in the making.

More than 66,000 Southern Baptists have been reached through the associational meetings already this year. The number will skyrocket throughout the four years as the goal of training union work is approached.
