Lenoir Leader Dies In Wreck

Charles D. Frye Killed as Car Plunges From Road Into Pole; Funeral Saturday

LENOIR, Oct. 9.—Charles D. Frye, 46, president and manager of the Frye Chevrolet company, died at a local hospital at 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon as a result of fatal chest injuries received when the automobile he was driving plunged down a deep fill and crashed head-on into a telephone pole six miles out of Lenoir on the Morganton highway early Thursday morning.

Members of the company staff said that Mr. Frye evidently lost control of the automobile causing the wreck. No other occupants were in the car.

Charles Frye was born in Catawba county, the son of the late William Perry and Martha Jane Frye. He attended the schools of Catawba county and graduated at Startown High Schools.

Mr. Frye came to Lenoir in 1925 and organized the Chevrolet company. He remained as its head.

He was a member of First Presbyterian church.

He is survived by his wife and one son, David Frye, a student at the Citadel, Charleston, S. C.

The funeral will be held at First Presbyterian church Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Burial will be in the city cemetery at Belmont.

He'll Learn Not To Excite His Little Pets

Hickory, Oct. 1.—A. L. Stewart, 48-year-old leard textile worker who was bitten by one of his pet rattlesnakes last Friday, has been dismissed from a local hospital in a "satisfactory" condition. Stewart said he excited the snake by "patting him on the head too quick." Only one fang of the reptile found its mark in his left wrist.

Stewart has 16 snakes in cages on a porch of his home. He plans to move them inside the house by the fireside when the weather becomes cold, he said.

Mr. A. R. Miller, well known merchant of the Vannoy community, was among visitors to North Wilkesboro Friday.

As It Goes in Beleaguered Russia

Soldier Plays Cavalier's Part To Young Girl

Laurinburg, Oct. 1.—Powers that he have decreed that dispenser of soft drinks must use paper cups instead of glass (unless equipped with standard sterilizing machinery) during the fall army maneuvers, through this section.

Tradesmen say the cups cost about a cent each and where only a drink of water is required the fountain operator not only supplies the water free but is penalized a cent for so doing.

A little girl, about seven years old, dived into a local drug store and, peeping up over the soda fountain, asked the druggist to "gimme-a-drink-a-water." Slowly the druggist filled a brand new paper cup and handed it over.

Then to the crowd he said sorrowfully: "There goes a penny." But the United States army in the person of a uniformed stranger draining a cup of milk, gallantly came to the rescue. Stepping quickly to the fountain he extended his used cup. "Just fill that up with milk again and you will be even on your penny," he said.
