Moscow, Leningrad, Battles Rage On Despite Blizzards

London.—British authoritative sources reported today that new and heavy fighting is in progress on the Leningrad and Moscow fronts despite blizzards, sleet and mud which had immobilized the German forces on many sectors.

According to British reports, both the Germans and the Russians are making attacks at various points on the Leningrad and Moscow fronts. Thus far, experts said, most seem to be of local nature. Russian lines are holding well, it was reported.

Farmers Pledge Increased Food, Feed Production

Canvassers Find Farmers More Than Willing To Produce Defense Food

Triple A canvassers have the task of calling on the farmers for greater production of food and feed well under way and some of their first reports have been tabulated. Lawrence Miller, secretary of the Triple A in Wilkes, said today.

The canvass is being made this month in order to ascertain how much farmers can and will increase production of milk, poultry and eggs, hogs, soybeans, garden vegetables and hay crops next year.

The first reports are very encouraging and the canvassers say that the farmers are giving the call for greater food and feed production enthusiastic responses.

Reports indicate that the increase in Wilkes in each division will be much greater than the average asked by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard.

A survey of the first farms visited indicates that milk production will be stepped up as fast as herds can be built up in a practical manner.

A big increase in production of poultry and eggs is in prospect. Wilkes is already one of the largest poultry producing counties in the south and expansion of the poultry industry will not represent a very difficult task.

Production of soybeans for beans will be increased several times and farmers in each community where a combine is available have agreed to go into soybean production. Many have promised to produce more hogs than formerly and hay crops will be increased far beyond the requested figure.

Increase in the production of the foods and feeds in demand may be as high as 25 per cent on the average for Wilkes, according to first reports of the canvass.
