building on Main street.

R. C. Rigdon, a high official in the Dixie Home Stores organization, here for the opening said the company was happy to locate a store in North Wilkesboro, something which they had been wanting to do for some time but until now had not been able to and a suitable location. He described North Wilkesboro as a fast growing, thriving little city. The new store here is the 32nd of the self-service type opened by the company, which, with the 165 others, make a total of 197 stores in North and South Carolina. Headquarters are in Greenville, S. C., and the owners are North and South Carolina people.

H. W. Marler, who has wide experience in the grocery merchandising field, is manager here. He and his family have moved from Asheville and will make their home here. H. W. Sigmom "who knows his meats" is manager of the market. Although it is a self-service type store, six capable assistants are employed to assist customers. Harry Falls, superintendent of this district of Dixie Home Stores, was here for the opening.

The building was thoroughly renovated and refurnished for the new store and presents a beautiful appearance. Excellent equipment is provided throughout, including noiseless gliders which roll with finger-tip control and make shopping a pleasure. An itemized cash register slip is furnished each customer. The store is fluorescently lighted.

A complete stock of staple and fancy groceries will be carried, attractively arranged along spacious aisles. Daily deliveries from many parts of the country will assure fresh vegetables constantly.

The market will be an outstanding feature of the new store with all kinds of meats and with a seafood compartment with fresh water and salt seafoods at all times. A cordial invitation is extended by the company officials, the store management and personnel to visit the store at any time.

IN NYA CENTERS Four Boys To Get Defense Training

Samuel Dancy, James F. Williams, William R. Key, Ward Pardue Accepted

Mrs. Lawrence Miller, personnel supervisor for the NYA in this district, said today that four more boys have been accepted for defense industries training in NYA training centers.

Samuel Dancy, of Cricket, and James Floyd Williams, of North Wilkesboro route one, will enter the center at Durham to learn the sheet metal trade. William Rufus Key and Ward Pardue, both of Roaring River, will take a machine shop course in the NYA center at Raleigh.

Mrs. Miller explained that some boys may be accepted in the ship yard training center at Wilmington and may obtain jobs there if they complete their courses successfully. Applications for NYA center training may be filed with Mrs. Miller on Wednesdays and Fridays at her office in the Wilkes court house.

schools of the county shows several thousand boys of Scout age in Wilkes county and out of this number over seven hundred have asked for the opportunity to join the Boy Scout organization. An opportunity is now presented to extend the Boy Scout work over the county so as to put it within reach of most country boys as well as those in the towns. However, in order to take advantage of this opportunity, we will have to take immediate action, because it will have to be included in plans now being made for the work for the coming year.

A mass meeting has been called to be held in the Town Hall in North Wilkesboro on Friday afternoon, December 5th, at 4:30 o'clock. To this meeting are invited all parents of boys about the age (from 12 to 16 years) both fathers and mothers, all parents of younger boys and friends of young people, as well as all citizens who are interested in the future welfare and improved citizenship of the county.

This matter should be of especial interest to out-of-town families and it is urged that every one who can possibly come and who is willing to devote an hour to this matter of the most vital importance to Wilkes county make it a point to attend this meeting without fail. A representative of Boy Scout headquarters will be here to explain the plan of extending the work throughout the county, and to tell us just how it is planned to do this.
