

Stenographers, Typist Needed By U. S. Navy

Charleston, S. C., Dec. 18.—The U. S. Navy still needs men who are qualified in typists and stenographers at both typists and stenographers' and headquarters of the Sixth and seventh Naval Districts today issued a second call this month for men filling these requirements.

The volunteers should be between the ages of 17 and 50 and will enlist as yeomen, with ratings offered depending on professional qualifications. They will receive from $50 to $99 per month, depending on their rating and are provided living quarters and meals, or additional allowance if not stationed on a naval reservation.

Volunteers must be in good health and those enlisting will be subject to active duty for the duration of the war. Men in the reserve are not subject to military service as prescribed under the selective service act.

An original uniform and medical facilities are furnished at no cost to the volunteer.

Those men interested in this branch of the service should write to Captain A. G. Howe, USN (Retired), Box 147, Charleston, S. C. This letter should state typing speed, rate of tak-

DR. REYNOLDS SAYS—Protect Water From Sabotage

Raleigh. — Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, state health officer, has received the following telegram from Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General, United States Public Health Service.

"In view of the present emergency, urge proper officials in charge of domestic water supplies to take immediate steps against sabotage by excluding all unauthorized persons and visitors from water works properties, to provide guards at danger points and places where sabotage may interrupt continuous maintenance of supply and to set up chlorine dosages to maintain a residual sufficient to provide disinfecting action throughout the distributing system. Letter follows."

Replying, Dr. Reynolds telegraphed Dr. Parran:

"We raised chlorine residual content water plants over state last summer. Later we began insisting on pre and post chlorination in numerous sections and are now endeavoring to extend this over state. We are communicating your message re: precautions against sabotage by quickest methods. Await your letter containing further instructions. North Carolina State Board of Health, backed by press, radio and public sentiment, solidly behind you in all-out health program to cooperate with any emergency."

Need Guards For S. C. Navy Yard

Navy Yard, S. C. — A United States at war necessitates an increase in security of defense centers and the Navy announced here today that more men were needed as guards for the Charleston Navy Yard.

The position of senior guard at $1500 per year is open through civil service examinations and those men selected will be assigned to duty at the Charleston yard. The guard force here will be more than doubled.

Applicants must be able to use small arms weapons and must have had at least one year's experience in the army, navy, marine corps or coast guard requiring regular target practice in small arms or as a full time police officer, or have had at least two years of experience as guard or in a related position requiring the guarding of life or property or in which the duties were law enforcement or the equivalent of the combination of these two requirements.

Applicants should be between the ages of 21 and 50 and ratings will be based on their experience and their fitness. No written examination is required.

The pay of $1500 per year is based on a 40-hour week and time and a half is authorized for overtime work. At present all guards at the Charleston yard are on 48 hour duty.

Application forms can be obtained from the Labor Board, Navy Yard, Charleston, S. C.; the U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Post Office, Charleston, S. C.; or from the Fifth U. S. Civil Service District, New Post Office Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Questions Answered By State College

Question: Do dairy cows provide a profitable sideline?

Answer: Fred M. Haig, professor of dairying, says North Carolina is still lagging behind more progressive states in the number of dairy cattle. Nearly one-third of the state's farms do not have a single dairy cow, this being specially true of tobacco and cotton farms. Thousands of these farms, Professor Haig believes, could grow sufficient feed for five to ten cows without interfering with the production of regular cash crops. This would provide a profitable source of extra cash for these farms and also help the food-for-freedom campaign.

President Greet Scouts In Nation

In his annual Christmas message to the Boy Scouts of America of which he is Honorary President, and in which he himself was active for more than seventeen years, President Roosevelt paid high tribute to the Boy Scouts, expressing "the appreciation of the Nation for the contribution which Scouts and Scouting make to our national strength and morale by helping to keep alive the manly virtues of truthfulness, loyalty, courage and helpfulness."

The President's greeting to the nation's 1,470,316 Scouts, Cubs, and their leaders follows: The White House

Washington

To the Boy Scouts of America: Once again I send sincerest Christmas greetings to the Boy Scouts of America; bespeaking also the appreciation of the Nation for the contribution which Scouts and Scouting make to our national strength and morale by helping to keep alive the manly virtues of truthfulness, loyalty, courage and helpfulness. Now, as always, the Nation needs citizens who are pledged to keep themselves physically fit, mentally alert and morally straight.

Defense Courses At State College

Raleigh. — A new schedule of 14 defense courses in engineering, science and management training will begin at State College during January and February with all expenses except students subsistence paid by the Federal government, Director Edward J. Ruggles of the College Extension Division, announced today.

Two other courses will begin at Wake Forest College under supervision of the State College agency.

Sponsored by the Federal government as a means of obtaining technically skilled men for defense work, the special courses will vary in length from 10 to 20 weeks.

High school graduation is required of all applicants. Courses will be dropped from the schedule if an insufficient number of men apply. Director Ruggles said.

Since the engineering defense training program began nearly a year ago, several hundreds of students have received the special training and their record for securing jobs is believed to have been nearly perfect. Director Ruggles has a list of 360 trainees placed in jobs and there are many from whom he has not heard. Scores have been placed in giant aircraft plants.

The Wake Forest courses in surveying and engineering drawing, will begin February 2.

First course on the State College schedule will be ultrahigh frequency techniques, scheduled to start January 1st. A course in Diesel engineering is scheduled to start January 19 and a course in radio communication will begin February 9.

All other courses at State College are scheduled to start February 2. They follow: aircraft inspection, architectural engineering and drawing, chemical testing and inspection, defense production management, electrical construction, engineering drawing, fabric testing and inspection, high temperature measurements and heat treating, instrument men and topographers, production supervision and materials inspection and testing.

A bulletin describing the courses may be secured from Director Ruggles.

IN THIS STATE—$127,086,678 In Tobacco Sales

North Carolina warehousemen sold 424,474,167 pounds of tobacco for growers to December 1 for a total of $127,086,678. Farmers have received $29.94 a hundred pounds compared with $17.44 for sales to date last year. This is an increase of $12.50 per hundred or 72 per cent.

The value of sales to date is 52 percent above the valuation of last year's fluecured warehouse sales. Warehousemen reported paying farmers $33,866,318 for the 1940 bright leaf crop.

November producers' sales totaled 24,583,715 pounds compared with $73,525,536 pounds sold during this month of last year. The average price, reported at $26.39 per hundred, was $2.97 less than last year's average, but $11.97 more than the November 1940 price.

The Wilson and Rocky Mount markets remained open a few days in November and sold 1,324,686 pounds for an average of $24.98.

Practically all houses in the middle belt have closed for the season. Farmers in this area have received $1.58 per hundred above the state average for the 1941 crop. For the season to date middle belt growers have sold 79,914,091 pounds at an average of $32.50 per hundred or $15.52 more than was paid to this date last season.

Road Damages Over $100,000

Raleigh, Dec. 15.—The great army maneuvers in the Carolinas during October and November resulted in damages of more than $100,000 to North Carolina's highways, road officials indicated today.

W. Vance Baise, chief engineer of the state highway and public road commission, emphasized that reports of damages were still very incomplete, but said a rough guess of the road-repair bill would be $125,000.

He said that the State, in reaching an estimate, was trying to be conservative. The claim eventually will be submitted to the War department, which in turn will send it to the Public Works administration.

The estimate, Baise said, did not include damages to roads at Carolina Beach, which were torn up when heavy guns were moved between Camp Davis and Fort Fisher. The engineer added that he had not inspected the Carolina Beach roads, but that he understood damages was considerable.
