WILKES Men With The Colors

Editor's note: The Journal-Patriot today is beginning this column as a special news feature which will be sure to have items of interest to every reader. In this column we shall endeavor to give as much news of the hundreds of Wilkes men who are in the armed services of our country as possible without divulging any military secrets. We welcome from every person any items about Wilkes men in the army, navy or marine corps, telling where they are in training, their promotions, their visits home on furlough or other news items in which they have a part.)

At Camp Crowder
Pvt. James E. Hayes, one of the many Wilkes men in the service is now stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo.

First Draftee Volunteer
Pvt. Raymond Pearson returned Friday to Daniel Field, Augusta, Ga., after spending a week with relatives in the Millers Creek community. Pvt. Pearson, who is in the signal corps, was the first Wilkes volunteer under the Selective Service act.

Now In Tennessee
Pvt. Abram Mathis, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Mathis, of Wilkesboro route two, is now stationed at Smyrna, Tennessee. He had been stationed at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Lenderman In Marines
Mr. Tom Lenderman, who has transferred from the navy to the marine medical corps and is now stationed at New River, N. C., spent the week-end in Wilkesboro with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Lenderman.

Going To Coast Guard
Paul Nichols, of Millers Creek, received an honorable discharge from the marine corps and is spending a short time at home before entering the coast guard. Before receiving his discharge, he was stationed at Quantico, Va.

Bitten By Spider
Sgt. Wayne Church, of Fort Bragg, was bitten by a black widow spider last week while on a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Church, at their home near Purlair. After treatment by Dr. W. R. Triplett, and the aid of a neighbor, Bill Johnson, he is getting along as well as could be expected. Among those who visited Sgt. Church during the past few days were: his sisters, Mrs. Vetra Tadlock, of Charlotte; Mrs. Edith W. Horn, of North Wilkesboro; Mr. and Mrs. R. Don Nichols and daughters, Faye and Ruth, of Purlair; and his uncle, Mr. Gaither Canter, of Greensboro.

Pvt. Clegg Culler Home
Pvt. Clegg Culler, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Culler, of Wilkesboro, has returned to Fort Bragg, N. C., after spending the weekend in Wilkesboro. His father and brother, John Culler, accompanied him.

Nelson Honored A Camp Lasater

Son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Nelson Chosen To Membership Secret Society

Another North Wilkesboro boy has won distinction in Boy Scout work. He is Tom Nelson, fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Nelson, of this city. Tom has just returned home from the Boy Scout Mecca—Camp Lasater—which is located near Winston-Salem, and while there was honored by being chosen into membership of the Boy Scout secret organization known as "Order of the Arrow". Tom had the honor of being one of six Scouts out of sixty-five to be selected for membership in this national secret order of campers.

Mr. W. E. Colvard, of this city, spent a few hours Thursday in Boone with his son, Mr. Rufus W. Colvard.

Many Wilkes Men Are Called For Induction

Both Boards Will Send Men July 21

Both Selective Service Boards in Wilkes county will send men to the army induction center on Tuesday, July 21, for examination and those not rejected will be inducted into the army.

Under the new regulations all men who desire it will immediately get a 14-day furlough after induction, will be brought back (transportation paid) and will report to begin their service at the end of the furlough. This period is allowed in order that they might look after any unfinished business or duties before beginning service in the army.

Following are the lists of men notified by Wilkes boards 1 and 2 to report on July 21:

FOR RATIONING— Service Station Men to Inventory Gasoline July 21

Gasoline Dealers To Report Inventory and Register With Boards July 22nd

Rationing board officials here today announced that all gasoline dealers will be required to inventory their stocks of gasoline at the close of business on July 21.

Reporting the inventory, they must register on July 22nd at their respective rationing board offices.

Vehicles Registered
Registration of consumers for gasoline rationing to begin July 22 was carried out in Wilkes Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Automobiles and motorcycles were registered at schools and given A books. At the same time application forms for B books, which are to be filled out and sent to the rationing boards after July 15, were given out.

Trucks and commercial users were registered at the town hall here and other users of gasoline were registered at the federal building in Wilkesboro.

Many volunteer workers did the clerical work of registering here and throughout the county. Rationing boards today had not received complete returns on the number of vehicles registered for gasoline rationing.

Rev. Mr. Jarvis, whose home is four miles west of Wilkesboro in the Adley community of the Yadkin Valley, served for 23 months in the Confederate army and was wounded in his left shoulder. After he returned home he sustained a broken leg in an accident. Despite those physical mishaps, he retained vigorous health until about two years ago.

His 96th birthday anniversary was November 17, 1941. He spent practically all his life on the farm. At an early age he became a minister in the Baptist church and served many churches in Wilkes, Caldwell and Alexander counties. He continued his work in the ministry as long as his physical condition would permit. His health remains reasonably good until this day, but his legs, especially the one which was broken, have become weak and he is not able to walk. He was married to Miss Martha Ann Pardue, a sister of the late Rev. A. T. Pardue. There were nine children, six of whom are living. Rev. Mr. Jarvis has seven brothers and sisters.

FOR THE FARMERS— Five Purebred Bulls Purchased

J. B. Snipes, Wilkes farm agent, went to John Sprunt Hill's famous dairy farm at Durham Saturday and bought five purebred Guernsey bulls for Wilkes farmers. These animals, from dams giving 10,000 to 11,000 pounds of milk yearly, will be placed among Wilkes farmers for improvement of dairy herds, and are in addition to 11 purebred jennys purchased at the Blitmore Farm several days ago.

Scrap Rubber Campaign Nets 350,000 Lbs.

Chairman Bason Now Making Report Of Drive

Approximately 350,000 pounds of scrap rubber were collected in Wilkes county during the scrap rubber collection campaign, which ended July 10.

The figures were released today by W. J. Bason, petroleum industries scrap rubber chairman for Wilkes county.

Mr. Bason said that the figures are approximate and that some few reports from dealers have not been received.

This total represents the amount of rubber collected by the petroleum products dealers and by scrap dealers. Of that amount approximately 225,000 pounds were collected by petroleum products dealers and distributors.

Taking into consideration that many of the residents of the county are away in service in the armed forces and on war industry and construction jobs, the total scrap rubber collected is near the goal of ten pounds per person for the county, making Wilkes rank very high among the counties of the state and nation in average amount of rubber collected per capita.

The rubber collection campaign was instituted and carried out at the direct request of President Roosevelt in order to ascertain the amount of scrap rubber for use.

Had all people of the nation turned in amounts on the average as high as the people of Wilkes county, the amount collected would have been about double the approximately 350,000 tons which were turned in during the drive.

GOOD NEWS— North Wilkesboro Tax Rate Lowered For Ensuing Year

City Council Reduces Rate From $1.15 To $1.10 In July Meeting

North Wilkesboro town tax rate was reduced five cents in the July meeting of the city council.

The council tentatively adopted a tax rate of $1.10 on each hundred dollars valuation of property, as compared with the rate of $1.15 for the fiscal year which ended June 30th.

With the bonded debt being decreased steadily, the town is in excellent financial condition. During the past year bond principal in the amount of $23,500 was paid and the same amount of bonds will be retired during the ensuing fiscal year.

The tentative rate of $1.10 has 24 cents for the general fund, a reduction of two cents under the 1941 levy; 72 cents for debt service, a reduction of three cents under the 75 cent levy for the previous year. The school current expense fund levy will remain at 14 cents.

The proposed budget lists estimated expenditures for the general fund at $49,075. To meet this budget there was a balance of $8,351.57, water revenue will amount to $22,000, the tax levy will raise $12,373.43, special (Continued on page 8)
