Questions Answered By State College

QUESTION—How can one determine which hens to cull from the flock?

ANSWER—If the comb is blood-red and waxy, the hen is on the job; if the comb is pale and shriveled, she is loafing. If the bird belongs to one of the common yellow-skin varieties and if she is laying, the color will be faded or bleached out. Also the skin of the layer has a soft texture, while the non-layer has a hard, dry skin that is relatively tight. Then, too, the laying hen has a soft, pliable abdomen and well-spread bones.

Martin county farmers are now selling many top hogs to add to the nation's wartime meat stores, reports John I. Eagles, assistant farm agent of the N. C. State College Extension Service.

Save 10% . . . to Save 100%

All over the nation, patriotic Americans are spending less and saving more—putting at least 10% of their incomes into War Bonds and Stamps. So our boys can have the planes and tanks and guns they need to fight and attack and WIN for us!

hadn't tried to enslave America, too—and won't ever try it again!

And it's going to take 10% in War Bonds to do it!

So, if you've been postponing buckling down, remember, it's "Everybody 10%" or "Nobody (except our Axis masters) having a cent."
