Miss Ray Speaks to Wilkesboro Club

Miss Florine Ray, itinerant Girl Scout director and who has been here for a month, was the speaker at the January meeting of the Wilkesboro Woman's club, which was held at the home of Mrs. G. T. Mitchell Friday evening. Twenty-six were present including some visitors.

Mrs. Claude Doughton, program chairman, presented Miss Ray, who made a most interesting talk on Girl Scouting.

Current Topic Club Met Wednesday

A delightful club party of the week was the one given by Mrs. Ralph Duncan and Mrs. W. R. Absher at the Absher home on Ninth Street Wednesday afternoon entertaining for members of the Current Topic Club and some additional guests. Mrs. E. E. Eller, the president, presided for current events.

Four tables were arranged for rook in a setting of early spring flowers, and the tables carried the Valentine note.

The high and low score prizes, which were defense stamps, went to Mrs. Chal McNeil and Mrs. C. G. Poindexter.

At the close of play the hostess served a salad course, and at this time four other guests came in for refreshments.

First Baptist Church Has Dinner Meeting

A meeting of unusual interest was held by the leaders and workers in the First Baptist church at the Lodge Hall Thursday evening. Hosts for the occasion were members of the workers council in the Sunday school, who hold monthly meetings, and at this time they had as guests representatives from all the organizations of the church. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock with covers laid for 63.

Mr. D. E. Elledge, superintendent of the Sunday school, was master of ceremonies, and during the evening introduced the department heads of the entire church who gave reports of their work and plans for the year.

Mr. C. B. Eller is chairman of the board of deacons; Miss Mary Nichols, president of the Baptist Training Union; Mrs. C. E. Jenkins, president of the Women's Missionary Union, and Mrs. Andrew Kilby, choir director. Reports and plans were submitted from each of the department superintendents in the Sunday school.

The get-together was known as "church night," and the principal speaker for the evening was Dr. John W. Kincheloe, Jr., pastor of the church, who spoke on "The Church at Work." The woman's chorus, of the choir, sang two numbers, "Rise Up Shepherd, and Follow," and "Send Out Thy Light."

An impressive part of the evening's program was the candle-light consecration service, when each one present pledged their loyalty and unity to the church. Dr. Kincheloe, with a large lighted candle, lighted Mr. Elledge's, then each one's candles in turn was lighted all the way around the table. Yellow roses and white candles were used for the table appointments.

Among some important announcements made was about the beginning of a church library, a study course to be held at the church from February 22-26, which is to be on a standard Sunday school and to be taught by a worker from Raleigh, and the Training Union course to be given through this week.

Funds for the library are now being raised and the shelves are being built. A gift of $100.00 from a family has already been received on the library fund, and other donations are coming in.

Idlewise Club Met With Mrs. McNeil

Mrs. Chal McNeil was hostess to the members of the Idlewise club and a number of extra guests at her home on D Street Friday evening. The hostess was assisted by Misses Lucille Young, Elizabeth Smith, Kathryn Troutman, Mrs. Oliver Absher and small son, Buddie Absher, in serving a two course dinner at seven o'clock, after which bridge was played at five tables. The top score prize among the club members went to Mrs. Frank Tomlin son, while among the visitors Mrs. Johnson H. Hayes was the winner. Jasmine and primroses gave a spring-like setting for the occasion.
