Miners' Chief And Lckes Fix A Truce

New York—John L. Lewis announced last night a two-week agreement has been made with the government ending the work stoppage in the nation's anthracite and bituminous coal fields as of Tuesday, pending further negotiations.

He made the following statement:

"The policy committee of the Mine Workers of America have just agreed by unanimous vote of the membership to restore all mines to immediate operation for a period of 15 days beginning Tuesday.

"This period is to be utilized in co-operation with the co-ordinator of solid fuels for war on the authority of the United States Government to work out a new wage contract for the anthracite and bituminous coal industry.

"The agreement when worked out will be retroactive in all its terms and provisions to April 1, 1943, in bituminous coal and to May 1 in anthracite.

President's Appeal Is Made After Pact

Washington—President Roosevelt, speaking 20 minutes after announcement of a 15-day truce in the coal strike, declared last night "coal will be mined no matter what any individual thinks about it" and expressed hope that every man will be at work today as the mines resume operation under government control.

Mr. Roosevelt addressed the nation at 10 p. m. (e.w.t.) after President John L. Lewis announced at 9:40 p. m. that the United Mine Workers' policy committee had voted unanimously "to restore all mines to immediate operation for a period of 15 days beginning Tuesday.

"This period, Lewis said, will be utilized in co-operation with Fuel that they have a new employer who has not had time to appreciate the immediate problems facing the industry.

"It is our desire to co-operate with the government and to remove the country from the confusion and stress of the existing situation.

Administrator Llewellyn, designated by President Roosevelt to direct government operation of the mines, in working out new wage contracts to replace those which have expired in the hard and soft coal industries.

The President, not once mentioned Lewis by name, told the nation that "the tremendous forward movement of the United States... must not be hampered by any one individual or by the leaders of any one group here back home."

"I want to make it clear," the President said, "that every American miner who has stopped mining coal—no matter how sincere his motives, no matter how legitimate he may believe his grievances to be—every idle miner directly and individually is obstructing our war effort.

"Stopping of the coal supply, even for a short time, would involve a gamble with the lives of American soldiers and sailors and the future security of our whole people.

"Therefore I say to all miners—and to all Americans everywhere, at home and abroad—the production of coal will not be stopped."
