As the parched hills of Palestine helped the Jews appreciate what Jesus said about wells and "living water", hot summer days may, perhaps, prepare us today to respond to His invitation and promise: "If any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink. He that believeth on me, as the Scripture hath said, from within him shall flow rivers of living water" (John 7:37, 38). These words will be the text for the theme of the Sunday morning service, "Rivers of Living Water".

Union services will be held in

'HERS TO HOLD' AT THE ALLEN

Stirring romance and appropriate, believable drama, have been deftly blended and brought to the screen in Universal's very special production, "Hers To Hold," which opens Monday at the Allen Theatre.

Deanna Durbin and Joseph Cotten are co-starred in a story, remarkable for its timeliness and completely satisfying for its vivid emotional appeal.

Charles Winninger, Evelyn Ankers and Gus Schilling have important supporting roles and a large cast includes Nella Walker and Ludwig Stossel.

"Hers to Hold" is by far the most serious picture in which Miss Durbin has been presented. Though the plot has its lighter moments, musical interludes and other diverting highlights, the bright romantic thread is never obscured. There is a throbbing love theme which grips and holds attention from beginning to end. Deanna portrays the debutante who adores an Army aviator. The aviator returns her love but secretly realizes the futility of the attachment. Cotten has the latter role and surpasses his previous performances as the story reaches its happy but profound conclusion.

Particularly effective are scenes actually made inside the vast Vega Aircraft plant in Burbank,

MORE PULPWOOD IS NEEDED NOW

This effort as one "without precedent in this country" and declared "that the results surpassed my fondest hopes."

Of the current pulpwood campaign, Mr. Nelson said, "Once again in an emergency situation involving production for the war effort, American newspapers have offered their assistance to the War Production Board. This voluntary and un solicited action represents the highest expression of practical patriotism—the kind of patriotism which, if emulated by farmers and woodsmen in pulpwood areas of the United States, will solve the problem of current and threatening pulpwood shortages and, by its broader example, help to hasten the winning of the war. Personally, and as chairman of the War Production Board, I am happy to welcome the assistance of the newspapers in this important production campaign."

The campaign to increase the production of pulpwood for the manufacture of products vitally necessary for military needs overseas and for home front war uses, is addressed to farmers, woodland owners, forest laborers and other available workers in the three major pulpwood producing areas of the South, Northeast and Lake States, where manpower shortages have developed because of the withdrawal of woodsmen for service in the armed forces or other war work.

The growing seriousness of pulpwood shortages prompted Mr. Nelson to issue the following appeal to farmers:

"If every one of the more than 2,800,000 farmers in the 27 pulpwood producing states were to devote three extra days in 1943 to cutting pulpwood we could overcome the threatened 2,500,000-cord shortage."

Highway Patrol Official and S.B.I. Agent Indicted

The grand jury was instructed by the solicitor to insert names of those on the bills of indictment against whom probable cause was found, if any.

The bills of indictment listed as witnesses the following: Sergeant Carlyle Ingle, of the state highway patrol and who is stationed here; Phillip Yates, owner of the liquor before it was seized; Paul J. Vestal, chairman of the Wilkes county board of commissioners; and F. D. Forester, member of the board of county commissioners.

Among those summoned to appear before the grand jury in the investigation which led to the indictments were members of the highway patrol who made the raid, persons who were present at the time the liquor was removed from an outbuilding at Yates' home, and others who had any knowledge of the happenings relative to the liquor seizure.

The bills of indictment listed the missing liquor as being 59 cases of Old Crow and 31 cases of imported Scotch, two of the more expensive brands of liquor in the vast amount seized, and which Yates described as "being worth $50 a case of anybody's money."

Evidence before the grand jury, on which the indictments were based, was not disclosed, although reports have been circulated that quantities of liquor placed in cars used by patrol officers did not reach the point to which the bulk of the liquor seized was hauled by trucks.

Officers who made the liquor seizure on June 1 were listed by a member of the raiding party as follows: Guy Scott and "Doc" Zimmerman, of the SBI; Highway Patrol Capt. L. R. Fisher, of Charlotte; Lt. W. B. Lentz, of Asheville; Sgt. Guy R. Duncan, of Morganton; Cpl. C. F. Kennedy, of North Wilkesboro; Patrolmen J. T. Jolly, W. R. Beaver and J. H. O'Kelly.

Henry Anderson, who pleaded guilty to the charge of battery, received a sentence of six months suspended on condition he pay to Annie Lee Harris the sum of $175 and that he pay court costs.

Three divorces were granted this week. The parties were: Zurie Myers versus Tarnie Myers; Attis Johnson versus Grant Johnson; Conrad Church versus Doris Church.
