THE JOURNAL PATRIOT, NEWTH WILKE BORD, N. C.

MONDAY, SEPT. 13th, 1943

Schools At War---

This week has been designated as "Schools At War Week".

In North Wilkesboro school Thursday the third war loan drive was launched by an assembly program carried out by the student body council and speakers urged that the school continue its record of last year, which resulted in the school being awarded the coveted Minute Men flag.

What one school child can do in buying bonds and stamps is not much, but the collective buying of millions represents a valuable contribution to war financing-

What one student does in gathering scrap is little, but last year students gathered a large percentage of the scrap turned in to keep the steel mills going and to hasten the defeat of the axis.

Never be discouraged with the thought that what you can do is insignificant. Do what you can, and when what you have done is put with what others have done there is a real accomplishment of great magnitude.

-V-

Buy Bonds NOW—

If you think we write too much about war bonds, consider the story of the new preacher who went to a church and for four consecutive weeks preached sermons on the subject of "Repentance". Finally, a deacon approached him and kindly said that the people wanted to hear sermons on other subjects. "Why do you still preach on 'Repentance'?", he asked.

The simple reply was, "The people have not yet repented.

As long as we write and urge the importance of buying war bonds you may know that there is need for buying war bonds.

There is no risk in buying bonds. In fact, bond buyers are benefitting themselves because they are saving and accumulating money to use in later years.

Your son, brother or friend on the battle front is risking his life; and he may lose it.

You who are asked to help in the war effort by buying bonds will not lose anything, and you are risking nothing.

There should be no need of an urge to buy war bonds. Every person with money should see the need for war financing and should rally 100 per cent to the nation's all for money.

government sets up must have reports from everybody. About the first thing is new bureau does is to order a class of business firms and individuals to make reports, 99 per ant of which are never-used for any purpose.

In so doing the government is wasting more manpower than anything else.

It takes time to make the complicated reports. Ask any merchant or business man. Ask the farmer what he thinks of the complicated reports. Ask the trucker what he has to do.

And many small business firms do not have people who can make the myriads of reports. That means they must hire some- RULES, REGUL VIENS body to do it, and who can they get? .

That forces them to worry over reports ernmental bureaus is the source at midnight, and when they send them in it is very likely that in a few days they will get them back with the notation that they have failed to give the information "asked in item 13".

Right off some government man is going to read this and say: "That editor doesn't understand".

Borrowed Comment

IT IS MIDAS-LIKE (The Cleveland Times)

Many are the housewives whose complaints we have heard during the past few months, bemoaning the fact that they cannot procure household help for love of money. All of which sets one to thinking. Are times so easy and money so plentiful that those who once did this work can live alcanal who received a delayed without employment? Certainly those who employed them heretofore have to work as usual, even harder to meet advanced cost of living and to pay exceptionally higher taxes, not to mention patriotic purchases of war bonds and many a donation to war- when we poke fun at their silly worthy charity.

The situation is indeed a puzzling one. Recently a house-wife complained to the maid because of her absence the day before. The maid explained "that it rained yesterday and I stayed at home." The house-wife said: "That's a bit funny, my husband went to work in the rain yesterday-he had to do so in order to make a living and to be able to pay you Saturday."

While a very small boy we used to hear a song that went in this wise:

'Taint no us o' me working so hard Cause I got a woman in the white on nails", she said. "Well, I should be able to pay folks' vard

She brings me meat and she brings me lard and sometimes a chicken from the is hunting for a nail in one of my precious tires", was our reply. white folks' yard."

We can well understand how that song around the house you could not solved the problem of living in that other find one with a whole batallion in day but with "the woman gone from the " searching party. white folks' yard" we can hardly grapple your car with thin tires. The tire the situation. To attempt to fathom it will first find the nail and pick it puts one immediately in the field of mysti- up, then you can after so long a cism and there we must find a magic financial build-up that certainly is lending itself to an undeniably Utopian existenceit is the envy of us all, this Midas-like touch that transforms idleness into profit.

The maze of regulations by govfor many things that rightfully belong under the heading of "Abnormal Absurdities".

In order to buy new farm equipnent now, you've got to promise to lend it to neighbors if they need

There was the case of a farmer rying to huy some chicken wire o fence off a lot in which to keep 1.200 chickens.

When he came to the question in the application about would he willing to lend the equipment which he intended to buy. He wrote in "'NO".

So would we. Just imagine your predicament if you should have a chicken lot in which 1,200 hans were fenced in. Your neighbor came and borrowed the wire. what would 1,200 hens do to your other neighbor's garden?

And what would your other neighbor do to you? And there was the wounded soldier in a field hospital on Guadletter from the Department of Agriculture saying that he was penalized $50 for growing too nuch wheat.

And yet government bureau heads get hot under the collar stand the gaff. They even quarrel among themselves, and some of them would be happy if they could muzzle the newspapers so their silly business would not be properly held up to public ridiule.

ESSAY ON NAILS-A few weeks ago we stated that we would try to write 200 words on any subject given us.

One day last week a lady on the street gave us a present. It was a rusty nail about one and one-half inches in length. She had pick ed it up on the street to keep it from going into somebody's tire. "D want your write an essay my respect to nails. A service station man at this very instant There are nails-and there are

When you need a nail nails. Easiest way ve know to find a nail is to drive time find the nail in the tire.

When you pick up nails with ires, the said tires have a habit of becoming flat on the bottom. and no matter how much the wheel is turned the flat place remains on the bottom. Else where it retains about its normal shape.

In case you ever find a nail lying around without using a tire to pick it up, it is a good idea to pick up said nail with your fingers and put it where a tire can't find

Having fulfilled our obligation to write an essay on "Nails", we'll quit writing long enough see if our tires have found any more nails.

tresh shell eggs but also by the she drying plants,' the packry specialist advises. The best temperature for stor-me eggs is between 40 and 50 de-Dying Gunner Shot Down Enemy Plane and Returned Safely to Field around not be standed to temps three below 21 or 29 degrees

Washington Densis of how a drug gunner on a B-20 Entender bornier of the United States Army dar forces crewled to his gun, abot down an atjacking Messerschmitt, over Bicily, and then photo-graphed it crashing to such in flames, were announced today by the War department. 5-Year-Old Milker 12

Hames, were announced tomy of the War department. The guinart was Screeant G. P. Corl, of Denvar, Golo, who died as he was being lifted from the bomber after it had fanded at its base in North Africa. Two other members of the crew were wound-members of the crew were wound-ing the same mission-Lieutence. ed on the same mission-Lieuten ant T. B. Elliott of Raleigh, N. C. the bombardler, and Sergeant Cecil White of Royalty, Texas.

The story of Sergeant Corl's courageous action was reported by Captain John E. Criswell of Pitts burg, pilot of the Marauder, who "All of us in the crew sàid: thought it was the grandest exhibition of pluck we had ever seen in the air". "We were landing the third ele ment of the first flight", he said

"when we ran into severe flak above Trapani. Three men in the ship were hit about the same time. Lieutenant Elliott was leaning ov er his bombsight when flak came through the window and hit him off the bombsight, but he crawled to it again, got his bearings, and dropped his bomb.

"Almost simultaneously Sergeant White called that he was hit Corl must have got his at the same time, but just as the bomb was dropped he caught sight of the Messerschmitt coming up from below. "Corl had been knocked down and away from his gun. With three bullet wounds, he crawled back and got in a square burst against the attackers. All the wounded men stayed at their positions until the ship was through the flak and partly out of danger.

ton, Wis.), administered first aid to Corl and kept him alive until the ship reached the landing field.

Crude rubber shipped from Nic arauga last year exceeded all estimates, and production is expected to increase. The British government has offered to convert all country houses donated to it into educational centers.

whith heranse of the darger of freeding is minimize the tem-perature should not be allowed to to above as degrees for fertile eses "Every farm, which produces any considerable number of extra-should have a specially propagated agg cellar or storage room ", Man Din says. Ouestions - Answers

es milk-

Alian Schuckman, five years old.

of Livingston, N. J., continues mill-ing one of his grandfather's cows in steady rhythm even while his pic-ture is snapped. He has been milk-

makes spending money at the rate

Best Prices Paid

e age of 3% years and

ing since t

of five cents a cow.

Question: How should I cook meat for canning?

Answer: There are several ways to pre-cook meat for canning, says Mrs. Cornelia C. Mor-Extension Food conservationist at State College. recommends that if meat is to be cooked before it is canned, that it should not be more than half done. 'It can be browned quickly in a small amount of hot fat in a frying pan; it can he roasted in an oven; or it oin be stewed or boiled. Do not add salt to the meat until after it is packed in the jars" save Mrs. Morris. She also emphasizes that a pressure cooker is essential in canning meats and that other methods are not safe.

College. quality eggs.

"Then Sergeant Bullian (Staff Sergeant E. W. Bullian of Edgerare laid", Maupin says.

but the shock had been too great"

v

"As long as they are dying you can't stop buying".

More Doctors In Uniform-

Representatives of the medical profession in conference with military authorities, have announced that 6,000 more doctors are needed in the imemdiate future to serve the armed forces. The American Medical Journal, in explanation of the demand for more doctors, says: "As the war continues and intensifies, new needs for the services of the medical profession become apparent. An army in motion and one engaged in the kind of aggressive combat that now concerns our armed forces needs physicians in even greater number than have heretofore been demanded. Many thousands of interned aliens and prisoners are now the burden of the United States and must be given medical care".

It is up to civilians more than ever before to cooperate with the remaining medical men to the end that everyone will receive the best that can be given to them under the circumstances. If this cooperation is given there need be little hardships. _____V__

Red Tape Reports Before going into this subject, we wish to say that we know that government must have reports. But are all the reports required of business firms now necessary? Our enswer is no, definitely no! ne that every new burelu that the It and

An answer soft when things go wrong

Will do a lot of good; 'Twill put within your heart a song,

Though you're misunderstood: For God will use the kindly word

With which to 'settle strife, And bring to naught what you have heard

That might defeat your life.

An answer soft when under fire Of Satan's awful rage May peace within someone inspire

And make of him a sage,

By showing him what God can do To conquer all that's bad,

And make him kind and gentle, too, When wrong would keep him mad.

An answer soft reveals the grace You've gained in other days

While keeping in your given place, Although you've had no praise:

Yet great it is to know you've built

By slow and sure degrees,

And in great trials feel no guilt, While others fall by these.

An answer soft may be the proof Of manhood's' noble gems Which you have gained beneath your roof, Worth more than diadems: For character and manhood great Are better than a crown, Though one may never rule a state Nor live in great renown.

WANT MORE SUBJECTS-We want one or more of our 12 readers to send in more subjects. Reader number 12, who thought ne or she was number 13, suggests we wash dishes under eaky faucet and write about that. We promised to write, but have made no promises to do any dishwashing. So that's out.

FARM ETIQUETTE-

Axle had just hired himself out to a farmer and on the occasion of his first meal was trying to show all he knew about table was no sticker for etiquette. Axle was struggling manfully with a fork, trying to eat some peas, when the farmer got out of patience.

Farmer-Axel, remember fing ers were made before f rks! Axle-Ja, but dis svede ban tarn glat he didn't haff to clean stables in t'em days.

WAS DREAMING-

The colored minister had just finished an unusually long and dry sermon . . . so long in fact, that several members of his congregation had drifted off to dreamland . . . so to close the morning's ritual, he asked one of the sleeping deacons:

Minister-And, now we will have a few minutes of prayer . . Deacon Brown, will you lead? Deucon Brown (awakening sud-denly)-Lead I just dealt.

BUY MORE WAR BONDS

immy's over there

now, fighting our enemies

to keep the Stars and Stripes flying. "Before he left, he told me they are going to need more equipment, more ammunition and more food for INVASION of enemy lands.

"The more bonds the folks at home buy-the more they'll be helping us fighters to win.' That's what Jimmy said."

* * * * The 3rd War Loan of 15 billion dollars must produce the money to pay for these essentials te victory. Buy at least one EXTRA

$100 Bend besides your

Forester Avenue

regular bond purchases-many will have to invest thousands!

Don't think that what you do isn't important. It will take all every individual in America can raise to put this 3rd War Loan over the top. So buy more bonds out of your pey-out of extra incomeout of "rainy-day" funds!

The quicker you do that the more you'll help Jimmy and our other boys smash through to Victory. What do you say? It's the safest, soundest investment you'll ever makel Let's gol

This Advertisement Is A Contribution To America's All-Out War Effort By

ilkes Tie & Feed Store

North Wilkesboro, N. C.

Agrico Fertilizers - Wholesale and Retail Groceries, Flour, and Feed

BACK THE ATTACK WITH WAR BOND.