November Is Time For Mailing Your Christmas Parcels

Delivery of the annual flood of Christmas gifts and cards on time, always a serious problem, "will be more than a problem this year—it will be an impossibility—unless Christmas mailings are made largely in November", Postmaster General Frank C. Walker warned today.

"Transportation facilities are burdened to the limit with war materials and personnel, and the Postal Service has sent more than thirty-one thousand experienced employees into the Army and Navy", Mr. Walker said. "The only solution to the Christmas problem is: MAIL IN NOVEMBER. Mark your parcels, 'Do Not Open Until Christmas.' That is the only way to avoid disappointment on Christmas Day not only for many civilians but also for millions of members of the armed forces who are still in this country.

"It is also the only way to avoid the possibility of a Christmas emergency in the transportation and postal services. If the public will cooperate by mailing their Christmas parcels during November, we can handle a small volume of light, last-minute mailings, such as cards, up to December 10—but we can do that and avoid an emergency only if November is really 'Christmas Mailing Month.'"

Postal officials pointed out that the volume of mail now is far above any previous records, that railway cars by the hundreds have been diverted to war service and that the air lines have only about half as many planes as they once operated.

More than two, hundred thousand extra temporary employees normally are employed to help with the holiday postal rush. This year, the extra employees will be largely women and high school boys and girls who are unable to work the long hours usually required and whose work will be relatively slow.

To deliver the Christmas mails on time, therefore, it is necessary that mailings be spread out over a longer period so that available transportation equipment and postal personnel can be used during more weeks. It will be utterly impossible to make the deliveries by Christmas if mailers wait until the last three weeks before the holiday, as in normal years.

There is another reason for shopping and mailing earlier than ever before. Retail stores are short-handed. Purchasers can avoid shopping in crowded stores, long waits for service, and other inconveniences of late shopping if they buy now. They will also doubtless have a better choice of merchandise than will be available later.

Postmaster General Walker observed that his warning is not an attempt to tell the public what to do; it is only an advance notification of what will happen if they mail late. He feels that the public is entitled to the facts, and that when they know them, they will decide to mail in November.

Who will cut a cord FOR THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER?

NOW THAT the new pulpwood drive is on, it won't be hard to get an extra cord cut in honor of the boys who left big families or a lot of friends.

But some went from here whom we barely remember. Like that boy with the funny foreign name. He hadn't lived in town long. He hadn't been in America long. He had, however, been here long enough to know that the things America stood for were important. And so he was one of the very first to enlist.

Just think what a boost you could give that boy with a letter like this:

"Dear Joe: (or Nick; or Sven) "You probably won't remember me but I'm one of your neighbors back home.

"The folks here have been putting on a pulpwood-cutting drive—everybody cutting an extra cord in honor of a son or brother or somebody.

"I didn't think you had any folks of your own here, so I told them my cord was in honor of you.

"We want you to know we're proud of you; we're backing you up every way we can; and when this war is over, we want you back here in town with us again.

"Thanks for what you're doing; and the best of luck."

Your friend,
BILL.

Let's make sure we cut an extra cord for every boy. Let's make sure no boy dies because we have failed.
