Miss Pansy Gilliam Wed to Mr. Carson

A wedding beautiful in its simplicity and of cordial interest in this section of the state was that of Miss Pansy Gilliam and Ray Henry Carson, of Taylorsville, which was solemnized at five o'clock Friday afternoon, November 19, in the First Baptist church. Dr. John W. Kincheloe, pastor of the bride, heard the vows in the presence of a large assemblage, using the impressive ritual.

Effective decorations in the nuptial colors of green and white graced the church, with white pine and ferns forming the background of greenery. Bouquets of white gladioli were used in the foreground about which artistic arrangements of white candles shed a soft glow. White candles, entwined with ivy, gleamed in the windows, and pews for members of the families and intimate friends were marked with a sole candle, caught with white gladioli, and tied with white satin ribbon.

Wedding music, a lovely part of the service, was rendered by Mrs. L. M. Nelson, organist, and Mr. Lewis Vickery who sang, "At Dawning". Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Nelson played a program of nuptial music, and as the solemn marriage pledge was taken sounded muted notes of "Liebstrum", Liszt. The traditional wedding marches, Lohengrin and Mendelssohn, were used for the processional and recessional.

Only attendant for the bride was her little niece, Miss Colleen Moore, who preceded her to the altar wearing a dress of pink net and carrying a nosegay of mixed flowers in which pink roses predominated. The bride's mother wore a dress of navy blue lace with a shoulder corsage of gardenias, and the groom's mother wore a black dress, with touches of white, and her flowers were talisman roses.

Ushers were S. B. Moore, brother-in-law of the bride, and L. O. Hutchins, of High Point, brother-in-law of the groom.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves, puffed at the shoulder, and ending in a point over the hands. Tiny buttons fastened the back to the fitted waistline and made a row on the sleeves. Her finger-tip veil, caught with orange blossoms, fell in graceful folds over the skirt which ended in a train. She carried a white prayer book, tied with orchids, and her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony the bridal couple left for a wedding trip, after which they will be at home at 412 Ninth street, North Wilkesboro.

For travel the bride wore a navy suit with navy shoes, navy bag, and natural kid gloves. Her blouse and hat were purple, while for her shoulder corsage she used the orchids from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Gilliam, of Hays, is a graduate of the School of Nursing at Davis Hospital in Statesville. She is engaged in private duty in North Wilkesboro.

Mr. Carson, son of Mrs. John Robert Carson, of Taylorsville, and the late Mr. Carson, received his education at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and the George Washington University at Washington, D. C., and was former State Senator from the 28th Senatorial District.

At present he is sales manager for the Universal Jewelry Company.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Miss Lena Maude Ellis, Durham; Mrs. Joe Ellis, Roxboro; Miss Manah Sigmon, Hickory; Mrs. Harlon Gilliam, Greensboro; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Warren, High Point; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hutchins and two small daughters, Roberta and Pat, High Point; Miss Lena Culler, Dandridge, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. White, Dr. and Mrs. George Cafer, and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Zackery, all of Taylorsville.

Three Brides-Elect Feted at Party

Three bride-elects, Miss Pansy Gilliam, Miss Anne Duncan, and Miss Wilma Rose Call, were shown a lovely courtesy by Mrs. W. K. Sturdivant, Mrs. Vernon Deal, and Mrs. Zella Cuipepper at the Sturdivant home on Ninth street last Tuesday evening. A dessert course preceded a game of bridge and rook in which seven tables were made up for play. Mrs. Carlyle Ingle and Mrs. Ralph Duncan were winners of the awards for the highest scores in bridge and rook.

Miss Carolyn Cuipepper, daughter of Mrs. Cuipepper and who has just received her wings at Sweetwater, Texas, and home on twelve days leave, was remembered with a gift, and the three honorees received crystal in their wedding patterns.

Pink and white was the color motif for the party appointments, and the tallies carried wedding bell designs. Each of the three honorees, positions were marked with nosegays of pink and white rosebuds, while at Miss Cuipepper's place was one of red, white and blue flowers.

Mrs. Guy Lillard Is Bridge Club Hostess
Mrs. Guy Lillard was hostess to the members of her book club at her home on C street Friday evening. During the evening bridge was played at two tables, and was followed by tempting refreshments.

Mrs. C. S. Sink and Daughter Entertain For Brides

Mrs. C. S. Sink and her daughter, Mrs. Darwin Smithey, were hostesses at a charming "come-and-sit" tea at the Sink home on Sixth street Wednesday afternoon honoring Miss Pansy Gilliam and Miss Wilma Rose Call, both bride-elects of the month. Two groups of friends were received, the first from four to five and second from five to six. Inspiration for the golden note in the decorations and appointments was the date of tea being on the fifty-second wedding anniversary of Mrs. Sink's mother, Mrs. C. P. Walter.

Mrs. R. T. McNeil greeted the guests at the door, who were received by Mrs. Sink and Mrs. Smithey, and directed to the dining room by Miss Norma Stevenson, where tea was poured by Mrs. William Marlow. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Vernon Deal and Miss Grace Brown.

Those being remembered with gifts besides the two honorees were Mrs. Walter and Miss Anne Duncan, another bride-elect of the season. The dining table, spread with a white crochet cover, had for its centerpiece a silver bowl of yellow chrysanthemums and on either side were yellow candles in the silver holders. Throughout the home were artistic arrangements of the yellow flowers and yellow candles in silver containers.

Mrs. J. J. Hayes Gives Large Party

An interesting social event of the week was the large party given by Mrs. Johnson J. Hayes at her home in Wilkesboro Tuesday afternoon as a courtesy to Miss Anne Duncan and Miss Wilma Rose Call, bride-elects, and the hostess' daughter-in-law, Mrs. Hayden Hayes, who left Wednesday to join her husband in Des Moines, Iowa, after a couple of week's visit here in the Hayes' home. The guests upon arrival were served tempting refreshments from the dining room table buffet style.

Eight tables were arranged for bridge and two for rook in a setting which emphasized the bridal note of green and white. Winners of the high and low score awards in bridge were Mrs. R. T. McNeil and Mrs. Glenn Greene while in rook prizes for the same scores went to Mrs. J. M. Crawford and Mrs. J. Q. Adams. The honorees received gifts.

N. W. Woman's Club Met On Monday

A large number of women were present for the monthly meeting of the North Wilkesboro Woman's club which was held at Red Cross headquarters Monday afternoon. Sometime was spent in making surgical dressings and during the afternoon those present had the pleasure of hearing two out-of-town speakers, Miss Marjorie Beal, of Raleigh, director of the North Carolina Library Commission, and Miss Robertine McClendon, Girl scout executive secretary working in the Wilkesboros at the present time. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames J. Q. Adams, J. E. Spainhour, W. E. Jones, Joe E. Johnson, J. C. Reins, and Rufus Church, who took the group to the drug store for refreshments.

Mrs. Carlyle Ingle Entertains For Brides

To begin the week of entertaining for the brides of the season, Mrs. Carlyle Ingle was hostess at five tables of bridge and one of rook at her home on Trogdon street Monday evening. A two course dinner was served at seven o'clock. The brides honored, Miss Wilma Rose Call and Miss Anne Duncan, received crystal in their wedding patterns. Miss Call is to wed Eugene Theon Bailey, of Williston, Florida, the 30th of this month, and Miss Duncan and Samuel Russell Besant, of Wilkesboro, are to be married in the early winter. In the bridge game Miss Mame Witherspoon and Miss Lillian Stafford won high and second high score prizes while in rook Mrs. Ralph Duncan was the winner of the low score award.

Mrs. Dexter Chadwick Is Feted at Bridge

To honor Mrs. Dexter Chadwick who left Thursday to make her home in Charlotte, Mrs. Presley Myers and Mrs. Edward Podrebarac were hostesses at a party at the Myers home Monday. Bridge was played at three tables and during the afternoon the hostesses served a salad course. Mrs. Ray Hoover and Mrs. Ray Barnes received prizes for high and second high scores, and the honoree was remembered with a gift.

Woman's Society Met With Mrs. J. R. Hix

The November meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Services of the North Wilkesboro First Methodist church was held last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. R. Hix, having twenty present. The program, "The Congo Women in a New Life", was given by the Mary Braine circle, with Mrs. W. E. Jones being the devotional leader. Miss Lula Hinton, a member of the city school faculty, presented the topic. Miss Mamie Sockwell, temporary chairman, presided for routine business during which time the usual reports were heard. A nominating committee, composed of Mrs. Ivey Moore, Mrs. R. E. Gibbs, and Mrs. R. J. Hinshaw, was appointed to secure new officers for the coming year.

Miss Blackwelder Is Honored at Party

Miss Neta Blackwelder, a member of the city school faculty, and bride-elect of the month, was honored at a delightful dinner-bridge given by Mrs. Andrew Kilby and Miss Betty Story, piano and band instructors in the city school, at the Kilby home on Sixth street Monday evening. Miss Blackwelder, who lives in Wadesboro and is to wed Lee Haywood, of Mt. Gilead, the last of this month, received silver in her pattern. A two course dinner was served at seven o'clock, after which bridge was played at five tables, the bridal note being emphasized in the party appointments. Miss Lula Hinton received the prize for the top score while the traveler's prize was held by Miss Elizabeth Finley.

Musical Stars Met On Tuesday

The Musical Stars met Tuesday, November 9, at 4:00 o'clock with Mrs. R. S. Gibbs. Fourteen members were present.

During the business a report was given from the social committee and the December meeting was discussed. During the program everyone sang, "Come Ye Thankful People Come" and "Old Folk at Home". Gordon Forester gave a report on the life of Felix Mendelssohn, and records were played of the "Wedding March" and "Overture" from Mendelssohn's "A Midsummer Night's Dream"; piano solos were played by Anne Smith and Mickey Somers; Gene Somers and Mickey Somers gave a musical recitation; a violin duet was played by John Gibbs and Mary Elmore Finley; the orchestra played two selections, with Betty

Highway Chief To Be Named By January First

Raleigh.—A full-time chairman of the state highway and public works commission will be appointed by January 1, a reliable source said here.

D. B. McCrary, Asheboro, textile manufacturer and highway commissioner, has been serving as acting chairman on a part-time basis since Maj. Ben Price entered service some months ago.

It was understood that Governor Broughton had requested McCrary to take over the full-time chairmanship but McCrary said he was unable to do so because of business.

Asked about the scheduled change, Governor Broughton said he had no comment to make at this time.

The names of Chief Counsel Charles Ross and Chief Engineer Vance Baise have been mentioned for the chairmanship.

Betty Gwyn Finley was in charge of the games.

John Gibbs and Isabella Gibbs were in charge of the refreshments.

Tina Jo Warner was a visitor.
