Japan. "The Marshall Islanders have not only assisted our fighting forces physically, but their faithfulness has touched the hearts of some of those army and navy men; and no one knows how many will come to know and love Christ because of this and will return to the United States with a determination to work for a world brotherhood", adds Miss Wilson

Trainees to enable women to meet the emotional disturbances of returning service men is being offered in classes in Louisville, Ky., under the auspices of the Louisville Council of Church Women, of which Mrs. R. M. Pegram is president. Classes taught by a psychiatrist have been organized in response to a statement made by another psychiatrist in addressing a group of church women. The speaker said that many returning veterans now facing institutional care could be saved to lead normal lives if wives, sisters, mothers and sweethearts were trained to help them.

Junior Red Cross Conference Held

Wilkes county has 7,251 members of the American Junior Red Cross. These members represent the boys and girls of the high schools and the grammar schools of the county and are not to be confused with the adult members of the organization. The Junior Red Cross carries on its own program of home nursing production for the military hospitals, and community services through the schools. Although the Wilkes County Junior Red Cross has done some outstanding pieces of work there is a great deal more waiting to be done. Mrs. Mayme Y. Miller, Junior Red Cross chairman, said the local chapter is eager to expand the present program in order to give more schools an opportunity to participate in the work. A county-wide conference will be held October 5th for representatives of all the Wilkes schools and for others interested in the work. Mrs. Marston Ritzert, representative of National Red Cross, will lead the discussion and will be available immediately following the program to answer special questions about the work.

The Junior Red Cross committee is composed of the following: Active Committee—Mrs. Ira Payne, Mrs. Richard Finley, Mrs.

H. B. Smith, and Frank Bookman. Honorary Committee—Messrs. John Layton, H. E. Priddy, L. B. Dula, Andrew Kilby, Robert Gibbs, Jr., Tom Finley, Bertha Bell, Messrs. C. Miller, Vernon Deal, Paul Osborne, Paul E. Cragan, and Gordon Finley. A teacher-sponsor from each school and the home economics teacher from each school.

Women in the Church by Mary Fowler

Church women of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths will participate in the country-wide clothing drive, to be conducted under the auspices of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. In churches and communities 15,000,000 pounds of new and used clothing will be collected and shipped to the newly liberated people of Europe. Clean winter and summer clothing for men, women, children and infants is needed, also bedding, hosiery and gloves. The collection is endorsed by the United Council of Church Women, the National Council of Jewish Women and the War Relief Services of the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

Probably the only woman in the United States today who has lived within recent years among the people of the Marshall and Caroline Islands is Miss Eleanor Wilson, Congregational missionary. She predicts representation from the Micronesian churches at coming world gathering. For, says she, "surely a people who will be shot rather than give up their hymn books and Bibles have a contribution to make to the life of our Christian church." Miss Wilson is even now studying anthropology and sociology, and refreshing herself on the language to go back to the South Seas when the war is over. She served in the Congregational school at Kusaie, Caroline Islands, for five years. Prior to that she was in

"...Sorta' look out for my kid sister till I get back, will ya'?"

GET THIS RIGHT—she's a good girl. She walks straight and proud and unafraid, only...

She's walking into a different world, a grown-up world. These are tough times for kids her age. Most of the boys she knew have left town, have gone to war. There aren't so many parties, clubs, games... No, but there are still plenty of the same old ugly, dangerous things to do. War makes them look different. Exciting. Glamorous. Even patriotic.

See how good kids drift into juvenile delinquency?

Please... don't let it happen to my sister. Sorta' look out for her till I get back.

Will ya'?

When you give to your Community War Fund you help fight juvenile delinquency here at home. Your dollars help supply recreational facilities, the wise counsel and practical help of trained workers for children of all families including service men and war workers. There are more children who need your help more than ever before.

They need that help now... Visiting Nurse Service, Family and Child Welfare Work, Recreation, Hospital and Clinic Services... And part of your gift, through the National War Fund, provides U.S.O. clubs, canteens and lounges for servicemen... delivers games, musical instruments, educational and recreational equipment to American prisoners of war.

You only give once to help them all. So give generously. Let your heart decide how much.
