Republicans And Democrats Hurl New Accusations

The political campaign moved ahead Wednesday with Republicans assailing the Administration's financing methods and Democrats accusing the C. O. P. of injecting religion into the campaign.

Bricker asserted Tuesday that the Roosevelt administration was undermining the financial independence of states by subsidies, and, in his strongest utterance to date on foreign policy, said "God grant" that the U. S. would participate in "strong international relations" after the war.

In Boston, House Democratic Leader John M. McCormack (D-Mass.) charged that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey the Republican presidential nominee, had attempted to inject "the vicious religious issue" into his campaign whereas Mr. Roosevelt is "free of any such charge".

Other developments: Rep. Patrick Drewry (D-Va.), chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, said continued Democratic control of the House was a "ten-to-one" certainty if Mr. Roosevelt were re-elected.

Sen. Claude Pepper (D-Fla.), charged in New York that Dewey's advisor of foreign affairs, John Foster Dulles, had violated official confidences in a letter to a Connecticut voter stating that Republicans would be less willing to back peace plans if Mr. Roosevelt were re-elected.

Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, in Salt Lake City, challenged Dewey to repeat his statement that the Administration had neglected the West, declaring that average crop values per acre there have increased from $30.10 "under the Republican reaction" to $95.94.

Meanwhile it was announced that Vice-President Henry A. Wallace would address a mass meeting in Gary, Ind., next Sunday afternoon and that Dewey's next major campaign speech would be made the following day, Oct. 16, in St. Louis.

OPA Puts Ceiling On Price of Eggs

Washington.—OPA today fixed egg price ceilings and sales levels for the last two months of this year and all of 1945.

At retail the new prices are generally higher for the fall and lower for the spring than previous prices for these periods. OPA said, adding that the schedule does not increase the average annual cost of eggs to the public, "but permits the farmer to receive full parity for each month of the year".

OPA gave these examples of highest retail prices housewives will pay for a dozen Grade A eggs: Raleigh, N. C.—Nov. .69; Jan. .61; Mar. .28; July, .55; Sept., .67.

Two cents may be added to the above prices when eggs are sold in cartons.

M'Arthur's Methods Satisfy Fifth-Grader

Holmes, Pa.—Billy White, 10-year-old fifth grader, likes Gen. Douglas MacArthur's military tactics.

Billy wrote: "I think it is a very good idea the way you attack a different place, bombing one place and then attack another. I wish you all the luck in the world".

The general answered: "Thanks, Billy, and the same to you".
