"ENTER ARSENE LUPIN" AT ALLEN

Arsene Lupin in the person of attractive screen heroine Charles Korven, is interrupted at his work in University's costume "Enter Arsene Lupin", which opens Monday at the Allen Theatre. The lady whose jewel, and heart, he seeks is Ella Raines, his co-star.

Ferguson News The Past Week

Beaver Creek Baptist church has recently installed new pews in the building, which are very nice and comfortable. This congregation deserves much credit for the manner in which they have equipped their new church building. Individual seats had already been installed for the choir. The complete job was done by the Hickory Desk Co., of Hickory. The pastor, Rev. Alfred Foster, spoke to a very attentive audience at the regular third Sunday service, and Rev. Robt. Lee Isbel came down from Lenoir and conducted his usual fourth Sunday service at the Advent Christian church.

Mrs. John Smithey and little son William, of Lenoir, spent the past week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Foster. Mr. Foster, although indisposed for more than a year, does not improve, his friends will regret to learn.

The Grange will meet Tuesday night, Feb. 6, at seven-thirty. All members are urged to attend.

The few days of fair weather has put our roads in much better condition, so that both the commercial bus and the school buses are able to operate without so much trouble. Esq. E. Horton, who operates two pool buses, is always glad to see fair weather. He advises us that he burned a total of 23 gallons of gas one day when the roads were at the worst.

The war news for the last few weeks has looked much better, with the Russians advancing rapidly on the eastern front and the Yanks and the British having closed out the Belgium salient and have their long line of battle well under way again, advancing slowly but surely towards Berlin. We might be in for a number of unforeseen reverses before the Germans are knocked out of the war, but experts are now predicting freely that they will certainly not last through 1945 and a sudden surrender might take place at any time. Not knowing the strength and the morale of the German people, it is hard for anyone to predict the trend of events, but when German radio broadcasts the desperate conditions existing in that doomed nation, the end will come with starvation and hopelessness.

A wedding of much interest to the community and to adjoining sections took place Sunday, January 28, at York, S. C., when Mrs. Maggie Russell Edminsten, of Kings Creek, but formerly of this community, became the bride of Hill R. Triplett, of Lenoir and Boomer. The marriage vows were spoken before Justice of the Peace E. Gettys Nunn. The bride was attired in a beautiful beige dress with navy accessories. Upon the return from York a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. W. C. Walsh, of Boomer. The cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, occupied the center of the table and refreshments were served to 45 guests. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at their new home, Lenoir route one. The best wishes of this community are extended to the newlyweds.

and family visited Mr. Phillip's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hart, of Fairplains, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nell Laws, of Statesville, visited Mrs. Laws' parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Swanson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. O. Briggs, of Lenoir, visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Phillips Sunday evening.

Mr. Nord Hart and Mr. Emerson Hart spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Phillips.

Mr. A. F. Greer is as always busy with his shop work.

The farmers of this community are getting busy these days since the rain stopped.

Sunday was a beautiful day and many people throughout the county attended church and Sunday school. Did you do?

SERVING
PIEDMONT CAROLINAS

Industries in the famous Piedmont Section of North and South Carolina have a production record that speaks for itself. It has been our business for more than forty years to serve this area.

The Duke Power Company today has 1 1/4 million horse power installed capacity in steam-electric and hydro-electric stations designed to meet the present and future requirements of an expanding industrial section. Climatic advantages, natural resources and forward looking population presage splendid opportunities in the years just ahead.
