Guam .- U. S. Pacific Fleet carrier planes and warships attacked long by-passed Wake Island yesterday as Adm. William F. Halsey's Third Fleet remained under a security black-out now almost 60 hours old. The tiny island where a few marines held off the Japanese in a heroic 14-day stand at the start of the war was blasted by war-plane bombs and battleship shells, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced.

The attack, first in months by major fleet units on Wake, was designed to harass the hungerweakened garrison cut off from its homeland by the Allied advance to the homelands of Japan.

80 SUPER FORTS DROP 6,000 TONS BOMBS

Guam.-In the greatest single ir raid of all time 800 Super Fortresses dropped 6,000 tons of incendiary bombs and two-ton blockbusters on four fore-warned Japanese cities and a petroleum center today in the first B-29 strike executed under command of Gen. Carl A. Spaats's U. S. Army Stategic Air Forces.

A gigantic sky train of Super Forts stretching more than 150 miles over the enemy's homeland spread flery devastation through the Honshu industrial and transportation centers of Hachioit, Tovama, Nagaoka and Mito.

The tonnage of bombs exceeded the weight dropped in single largest previous raids by both U. S. and Royal Air Force bombers, making it the greatest individual nerial blow struck in history.

Headquarters also disclosed that Thunderbolt fighters had joined the assault on Honshu, striking from Iwo along with Mustang fighters yesterday against the Nagoya-Kobe area.
