FRED R. SNOW ON CAPTURED SUBMARINE

Aboard the Japanese Submarine I-14 in Tokyo Bay.—(Delayed).—When this giant, sea-plane-carrying submarine surrendered to American naval forces recently off the coast of Japan, one of the members of the prize crew who sailed her into Tokyo Bay was Fred R. Snow, seaman, first class, Traphill, N. C.

Seven days before the final surrender of Japan, the submarine surfaced some three hundred miles north of the units of the 3rd fleet, flying the black flag of surrender. A picked crew was detached from the USS Proteus and sent northward.

The Japanese crew was friendly, helpful and eager to please in small ways. They showed the Americans how to operate the sub and began working to clean it up.

One of Japan's most modern submarines, the I-14 was built primarily as a cargo-carrying boat with a wide cruising range. Commissioned in February of this year she had made only one run to Truk and back.

PFC. JOSEPH B. LINNEY SERVING ON THE WASP

On the USS Wasp Off Tokyo.—Joseph B. Linney, private, first class, USMCR, son of Mrs. W. E. Linney, Wilkesboro, N. C., is serving on this aircraft carrier in the 3rd Fleet's victory cruise.

However, the Wasp's record week, March 14-20, still is the main topic of conversation. The ship took a 500-pound bomb through the flight deck, suffering 102 casualties. Within 50 minutes she was ready to launch her planes.

In that week the Wasp and her planes shot down 14 aircraft and destroyed six on the ground, scored two 500-pound bomb hits on each of two enemy carriers, dropped two 1,000-pound bombs on a battleship, a 1,000-pounder on another battleship, three 500-pounders on a heavy cruiser, a 1,000-pounder on a big cargo ship and heavily strafed a large submarine.

Lincoln Heights Boys In Dairy Calf Show

The Lincoln Heights Agricultural Department participated on September 20, 21, in the Junior Dairy Cattle Show, which was held in Greensboro, at the Woodlawn Dairy Farm. The department was the winner of one second prize and one third prize. The winner of the second prize was James Wesley Harris, and the winner of the third prize was Sylvester Cockerham. Calves used were under one year old. Breed, Guernsey.

Calves were eligible for registration due to not being registered, were placed under grade group, which showed all dairy qualities. The department is making all efforts that these calves are registered at once and, advising all farmers who have such type calves eligible for registration to consult A. M. Overton, teacher of vocational education at Lincoln Heights School, Wilkesboro, N. C., in order that their calves be registered at once, so that next year we'll have more participating in the dairy cattle show.—Reported.

J. Myron Maxwell, in charge of Extension entomology at State College, says that the dinitro dust program helped farmers in 17 counties save about $25,000 worth of corn from chinch bug damage.
