One Killed, Two Injured In Truck Crash Saturday

Boone.—W. O. Hyatt, 52, of Rockingham, was instantly killed and two others were injured, one seriously, Saturday afternoon 12 miles from Boone when the truck in which they were riding went out of control and crashed down an embankment.

Hyatt's son, David H. Hyatt, 30, of Rockingham, driver of the truck, and son of W. O. Hyatt, suffered an injured nose, and his grandson, Wilmer Lassipe, 10, suffered serious head injuries.

Deputy Sheriff Wiley Day, of Boone, said W. O. Hyatt was decapitated when the truck wrecked just west of the Wilkes county line. He said David Hyatt and young Lassipe were pinned in the cab of the truck.

Day said Hyatt brought his truck here and purchased a load of cabbage from the J. C. Goodnight Company, wholesale produce dealers. He was returning to Rockingham when the accident occurred.

Hyatt's body was taken to Rockingham last night.

North Wilkesboro Loses to Elkin In Grid Game Friday

Elkins' high school football team unleashed a surprisingly strong offensive Friday to bowl over North Wilkesboro at Elkin 31 to 0.

During the first period the North Wilkesboro team held Elkin in check, but in the second the Buckin' Elks ran over two touchdowns. North Wilkesboro again held the faster team through the third period but weakened in the final frame and Elkin scored three more.

North Wilkesboro will work hard to get back in the win column Friday of this week when they play Sparta at Sparta, and it is expected that many local football fans will attend the game. The team was well supported at Elkin by a large number of local students and other football fans who went down to see them play.

After the game with Sparta at Sparta this week, North Wilkesboro will have two home games: Mocksville here on November 9 and Booneville here on November 14.

- Lineups for the game at Elkin Friday were as follows: Pos. Elkin. N. Wilkesboro. LE..... S. Adams.....Ballard LT..... Parks.....Ashley LG..... F. Ratledge.....Badgett C..... Yadkin Valley Flying Service New Corporation

Local Firm Offers Plane Service, Charter Trips, Student Instruction.

Yadkin Valley Flying Service, Inc., is the name of the new aviation corporation formed at North Wilkesboro.

Woodrow Wallace is president of the corporation, Cecil Bumgarner is vice-president, and Charles H. Day is secretary-treasurer.

At present the firm has headquarters at the flying field and hangar near Grier Mills west of this city. A number of planes are available for pleasure and sight-seeing trips and for charter plane trips to any point in the county.

One of the main purposes of the corporation, members said today, is to promote interest in aviation with the aim in view of obtaining a modern airport for North Wilkesboro.

In addition to plane trips, the firm offers student instruction. Recently Miss Mary Charles Alexander and H. P. (Pat) Eller made their first solo flights and other students are making progress.

A repair shop at the flying field will be provided to service and make minor and major repairs on planes. Cecil Bumgarner, member of the firm, is a well experienced plane mechanic and will be in charge of the shop.

Yadkin Valley Flying Service, Inc., has the agency for Aeronica planes in Wilkes, Watauga, Caldwell, Alexander, Ashe, Yadkin and Surry counties. Orders have already been placed for eight planes.

Interest in aviation locally is growing rapidly and the movement to obtain a modern airport and put North Wilkesboro on the post-war, aviation map is gaining momentum.

4,387 Lambs Are Sold at Market Located In City

33 Carloads Of Sheep Shipped From North Wilkesboro During Season.

Raleigh.—The central livestock loading zone at North Wilkesboro—established June 1 in an effort to capture the livestock transportation trade in Piedmont and Western North Carolina—is one of the most successful projects ever initiated by the State Department of Agriculture, department officials declared recently.

The occasion of the officials' enthusiasm was a release of a report by the department showing that, from the date of the loading zone's establishment through September, 33 carloads—or 4,387 head—of Western North Carolina sheep had moved through the yards to northern markets.

The project has proven so successful that plans now are in the making for handling calf shipments there. The loading zone was established through the efforts of the civic clubs of North Wilkesboro and R. S. Curtis, sheep marketing specialist with the department.

Thousands View 1946 Model Ford

The 1946 model Ford automobile, the first post-war car to reach North Wilkesboro, was very successfully shown at the Yadkin Valley Motor Co. Friday and Saturday and is remaining on display indefinitely.

A complete check of the visitors eager to see the post-war car was impossible, but it was learned that more than 1,100 visited the show room Friday and a much larger number Saturday. The new car has many features new to the automobile business and was highly praised by the numerous visitors.

A. F. Kilby, president of the Yadkin Valley Motor Co., said today that production of the 1946 Ford is well under way and that the public can expect that the new cars will be available at an early date.
