Executive Board Teen Age Center Named Tuesday

Operating Policies of Centers To Be Set Up in Meeting To Be Held

The Blue Ridge Mountain Post No. 1147 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Tuesday night voted to join with the other civic and fraternal organizations of the Wilkesboro in promoting a Wilkes County Teen-Age center. The VFW had announced some time ago that they were decorating their meeting hall in order to establish a Veterans sponsored Teen-Age center. At their meeting Tuesday they offered the use of their hall as one of the meeting places to be used by the county wide teen-age organization.

The Board of Directors of the Teen-Age Center, meeting at the Wilkes Chamber of Commerce office on Tuesday night, appointed an executive committee to take the active management of the Centers. Members appointed to the Executive Committee are Gordon Finley, Paul Osborne, Ivey Moore, Mrs. R. S. Gibbs, and representative from the Wilkesboro Woman's Club, who as yet is unnamed. This committee will meet with a group of five young people on next Tuesday night to establish the operating policies of the Centers. The young people's representatives will be chosen from a group of leaders of school organizations and others at a meeting scheduled for tonight. The young people's meeting has been called by the Teen-Age Center Director, Zeb Dickson, and will be held at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The following organizations have already pledged to underwrite the Teen-Age Centers in the amounts listed: Kiwanis Club, $200.00, Junior Order, $100.00, North Wilkesboro Masonic Lodge $100.00, American Legion $100, Knights of Pythias $100.00, Girl Scouts $50.00 (donations from Girl Scout Leaders and members) and the Wilkesboro Woman's Club $30.00, Dokles Club $100.

Members of the Board of Directors in attendance at the board meeting included: J. B. Carter of the YMCA Board of Directors, Louis Nelson of the Kiwanis Club, Cecil Adamson of the Wilkesboro Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. R. S. Gibbs of the Girl Scouts, Claude Carter of the Junior Order, D. E. Elledge of the North Wilkesboro Masonic Lodge, Mrs. G. T. Mitchell of the Wilkesboro Woman's Club, Dr. J. H. McNeill of the VFW, Max Foster of the Knights of Pythias, Paul Stout of the Lions Club, Boyd Cragan of the North Wilkesboro Schools, Rebecca Moseley of the Red Cross, W. H. McElwee representing the Wilkes Bar Association and the American Legion, Charles C. McNeill, Wilkes Welfare Board and Zeb Dickson, Teen-Age Director.

Further details of the actual organization of the Teen-Age Centers will be announced in the next issue of The Journal-Patriot by Director Zeb Dickson. Individual contributions of both cash and playing equipment will be accepted by the Board of Directors. Any contributions should be left at the Chamber of Commerce Office in the Call Hotel building. The names of all contributors will be announced in the newspaper by the Teen-Age Board.

Liberty Theatre Has Big Opening

The Liberty Theatre, new, modern and enlarged, opened Monday night with more than 1,000 patrons who were enthusiastic in their compliments on the new theatre.

Interior of the enlarged theatre has been completed and is modern in every respect. Meanwhile, work is being continued on the theatre plant. Forty feet were added to the length of the building, which was destroyed by fire on March 5. The larger building is of concrete and steel construction within the old side and front walls. Seating capacity of the main floor and two balconies is approximately 1,000 and modern bodiform seats have been installed. Latest in projection machines and Voice of The Theatre sound assure top quality in motion pictures. — THEATRE — Page 4

ROTOGRAVURE

Pictorial rotogravure edition of The Journal-Patriot, which has been eagerly awaited, is contained with this issue of this newspaper.

Containing 48 pages, this rotogravure section is one of the largest ever issued outside of the larger cities of the south, and is definitely one of the finest pieces of city and county publicity ever compiled for a special edition.

N. Crawford Remsen, of Martinsville, Va., who has lifetime experience in that type of work, was in charge of the compiling of the rotogravure section material. He and the publishers planned a 24-page edition. That the edition is double the anticipated size is indicative of the enthusiastic cooperation received from business firms and individuals in the Wilkesboro and other parts of Wilkes county.

The rotogravure edition contains hundreds of splendid pictures, which were made by Paul W. Harvel, Jr., proprietor of Harvel's studio in this city.

The beautiful pictorial edition, which was printed by Ruralist Press at Atlanta, Ga., is stitched for permanency. It goes to all of the 4,000 subscribers of The Journal-Patriot as of this date and thousands of additional copies will be distributed. The Wilkes Chamber of Commerce purchased 5,000 copies to be used as comprehensive publicity material for the Wilkesboro and Wilkes county.

Those desiring additional copies of the rotogravure edition are requested to place their orders now at The Journal-Patriot office.

Field Artillery Unit National Guard Assigned

Company Here Would Be In 112th Field Artillery Battalion

Raleigh, Oct. 16.—Tentative allocation of 101 National Guard units included in North Carolina's quota of 13,000 men was announced today by Adj. Gen. J. Van B. Metts, who emphasized that the allocations are dependent upon acceptance by the cities and towns to which they were assigned.

General Metts said the assignments were based on the population of the community and its ability to supply sufficient personnel to keep the units at required strength. Units of the same regiments and battalions were assigned to adjacent areas in order to enable commanding officers to "exercise greater supervision of the training and maintenance of the units of their command."

Seventy-three towns and cities received allotments, with some of the larger cities getting several units.

The allocations will not become permanent until they have been accepted by the mayors of each town receiving a unit.

Raleigh, as the home of Maj. Gen. John R. Manning, who will command the 30th Division, was assigned the portion of division headquarters belonging to North Carolina. Tennessee has the other part. Raleigh also received the 30th Division headquarters company, 30th Division headquarters special troops, state headquarters and headquarters detachment for the entire guard and the 94th

ROTOGRAVURE PROMOTER HAS HIGH PRAISE FOR THIS COUNTY

By N. CRAWFORD REMSEN
A popular, influential newspaper, and a great county of progressive, forward looking citizens are the ingredients that make for a successful pictorial rotogravure edition. The promoter, the editor, and even the lithographers who produce the finished work, are only incidental.

So, I was not surprised when the rotogravure printers, who produce practically all work of this class in the middle and southeastern states, advised me that the Journal-Patriot's special number on Wilkes County was the very best ever turned out by their immense plant.

Now, for a personal word. My work as a community publicist has carried me into all the best counties east of the Mississippi river during the last quarter century.

Today, if I were asked which of all the counties I have visited had the best promise, and basic essentials for development, I would unhesitatingly say Wilkes. Already first in poultry, apples and lumber, and above all, in the robust, enterprising character of her people, Wilkes has all the elements for community greatness. Three-fourths of her lands are still covered by mountain forests, but the rich valleys of the Yadkin and tributaries are so fruitful as to give it a high ranking among the agricultural counties of the state. Livestock raising, dairying, and a stable, prosperous and diverse industry give its economy a sound basis. An all year ideal climate, the frost proof thermal belt, give it a further distinction that makes it a unique among the favored communities of America.

But, Wilkes' most valuable asset, sure promise of a great future, is in the character of her people. Of the purest Anglo-Saxon strain on the continent, likeable, unaffected, with a unalterable determination to squarely meet and overcome all complex problems in a simple, straight forward sensible manner, strongly reminiscent of their ancestors at King's Mountain and in pushing forward the western frontiers of the young nation. And, such an outlook upon life as they possess has never produced a "stuffed shirt" within her borders during the long years since the first family settled on the south bank of the Yadkin.

My congratulations to Wilkes County and to The Journal-Patriot on the production of the best piece of countrywide publicity issued in recent years.

Red Cross Was Reported

Case Load of Cases Heaviest In History During Month of September

At the monthly meeting of the Red Cross Board of Directors, October 14, the monthly report of the workers reported a record-breaking number of cases acted on in September. During the month 490 requests were assisted in various ways.

Mrs. A. B. ... Chairman, gave an interesting account of the two food stores now being conducted by Mrs. Addie Malone, whose services were made available through the generosity of the Duke Power Company.

Mrs. Ira Payne, Chairman of Nursing Service, stated that Home Nursing Classes would be started as soon as an instructor could be secured.

For the Junior Red Cross, Mrs. Carl VanDeman announced the enrollment campaign would be carried on in the schools as usual, November 1st. Mrs. VanDeman commended both pupils and school authorities on their splendid cooperation last year in carrying out the Junior Red Cross motto: "Be True." She stated that between now and Saturday, October 28th, each grade of each school in Wilkes County and City systems would be given the opportunity of giving one Christmas gift box for foreign children, this project meeting a very urgent need in supporting health and educational materials for children in war-devastated areas. In her report the Junior Chairman stated that during the past school session the primary and city schools, including the colored schools, received the gifts and filled 264 boxes. She quoted from a letter written by a Duted girl:

"Oh! I am so happy with the things in the package. I wished for them so long. And how sweet smells the soap. I wash myself with it only on Sunday. I was so happy with the thread, for we do not have any. It was all stolen by the enemy. Thousands of those who like us ate flower bulbs and beet roots. There was nothing left and everything was so sad, but now we can be happy again."

In closing the meeting, A. F. Kilby, Chapter Chairman, urged that members impress on the community the fact that peace-time has not brought an end to Red Cross activities. On the contrary, he stated, many of these activities have been geared to meet special peacetime needs.

Wilkes Y. M. C. A. fund in the current campaign to reach the $150,000 goal this year is now approximately $115,000. C. Jack Swofford, campaign chairman, announced today.

Today a thermometer indicator was placed at the corner of Main and Ninth streets to report progress of the campaign, which is attracting much interest throughout the county.

In order to give all the people of the county better opportunity to participate in the campaign and to have a part in making a modern Y. M. C. A. plant a reality, Chairman Swofford has appointed a large group of representative citizens in all parts of the county to act as representatives in the campaign, and to contact all the people for Y. M. C. A. fund donations.

The following have been designated as community representatives:

Mrs. Tom Greer, Seth Walsh, T. W. Ferguson, Mrs. Sheridan Miller, W. O. Barnette, J. C. McNeil, T. C. Osborne, Zeb Beshears, Mrs. Wayne Richardson, Joe Hayes, P. W. Greer, Mrs. Dewey Turner, Eugene Taylor, Odell Whittington, O. O. Absher, H. H. Jennings, Charles S. Felts, Mrs. Rudd McNeil, N. P. To each of the above Chairman Swofford directed the following message:

Wilkes County is to have a real Y. M. C. A.

The following is quoted from Article 1, Section 2 of the Wilkes YMCA Constitution:

"The purpose of this Association shall be to lead young people to faith in God through Jesus Christ, to promote their growth into fullness of Christian Character, to lead them into active membership in the Church of their choice, and to make the extension of the Kingdom of God throughout the World the governing purpose of their lives."

Will you give five hours of your time to help turn this Constitution into a live force in the lives of the Wilkes county young people?

Will you see your neighbors in your community and ask their active support for the Wilkes YMCA?

The drive for funds for the YMCA is being handled in this informal way all over the county. We are asking the civic leaders of the various communities to give their neighbors the opportunity of helping all young people by building the Wilkes YMCA.

You have no quota or special list of people to solicit. We hope that you will not just send your own donation and forget about it. It is important that everyone in our County be given the opportunity to give for this cause.

It would be appreciated if you will send or bring the funds collected to the undersigned by the 25th of October.

Yours for youth,
C. J. SWOFFORD,
Chairman Finance Committee.
