Handiwork Club Met With Mrs. Mitchell

The annual Christmas party of the Handiwork club was held on Friday evening with Mrs. John W. Mitchell as hostess at her home on Fifth Street. The guests, which included a number of visitors, upon arrival were served a salad course with sweets, being seated at small tables, arranged against a background of Christmas decorations. Bingo was played with a number of prizes being awarded, and gifts were exchanged. To Mrs. J. T. Kerbaugh, who is leaving soon to make her home in Lenoir, the group gave a handkerchief shower.

Mrs. J. W. Neel Is Bible Class Hostess

Mrs. J. W. Neel was hostess to the members of the Ia Holman Bible class of the Wilkesboro Baptist church in their monthly meeting and Christmas party held on Tuesday afternoon at the Neel home having eleven members and two visitors present. "Joy to the World" was used as the opening hymn and the prayer was offered by Mrs. Everett Tedder. Mrs. Parsons led the devotions using the Christmas story from Luke. Mrs. Elmore Dancy told about the gift of the Wise Men, Mrs. Coley Parker the glad tidings, Mrs. T. M. Foster a Christmas poem, Mrs. J. R. Turner a poem, "The Town of Bethlehem in the Christmas Season," Mrs. M. F. Brown, who is 86 years of age, sang a solo "We Shall Know Each Other Over There." "Silent Night" was used as the closing hymn. In the exchange of gifts, which were numbered, the members drew for stars with corresponding numbers. The January meeting is to be with Mrs. T. M. Foster. In serving refreshments at the close of the afternoon the hostess was aided by her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Arthur Lowe and Rebecca Lowe.

Miss Forester Honored During the Week

During the week two lovely courtesies were extended to Miss Nancy Forester, popular bride-elect of the month, who is to be married next week to Mr. Dwight Miller, also of this city. The bridal pink and white made a pretty setting for the bridge party given on Thursday evening by Miss Dot Powell at her home on D Street. The guests on arrival were served a dessert course by the hostess being assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. W. Powell, after which bridge was played at three tables. Miss Mary Caroon and Mrs. Ed Koontz were the winners of the high and second high score prizes, while the travelers award went to Miss Joanna McNeil. Honor gift for Miss Forester was crystal in her pattern and a pink corsage. Pink hearts made attractive place cards.

Christmas decorations were used for the informal tea given Friday afternoon by Misses Lillian and Mary Lindsay Stafford and Mrs. Frank Stafford at the Stafford home on E Street. A round thirty-five guests, close friends of the honoree and family members, were received by the hostesses between the hours of four to six. Assisting in the serving were Misses Betty Church, Betty Hill, and Harriett Crutchfield. Miss Forester's corsage from the hostesses, was of white carnations, tied with blue ribbon, which matched the blue in her accessories. They also gave her a toastmaster. Mrs. Charles Jenkins, Jr., the former Miss Reba Sparks, of Traphill, was a special guest at the tea and was remembered with a gift.

Mrs. A. A. Sturdivant Entertains at Party

Mrs. A. A. Sturdivant was hostess at a delightful party at her home in Wilkesboro Monday evening honoring Mrs. George Parlier, Sr., the former Alene Godfrey Uppchurch. Three tables were made up for bridge and three for rook, arranged in a setting suggestive of the bridal motif, and was preceded by a dessert course. In bridge the prizes for high and low scores went to Mrs. Johnson Sanders and Mrs. Page Choate, and in rook to Mrs. O. K. Stevens and Mrs. Tal Pearson. Mrs. Pressley Myers won out in bingo. Mrs. Sturdivant had for the honoree crystal in her pattern and a corsage of white gardenias. Tallies were in bridal designs.

LETTERS TO SANTA

Dear Santa:
 I am a little girl four years old. I am a good little girl. Go to Sunday school every Sunday. I want a doll, crayons and a coloring book for Christmas. Also some candy, oranges, nuts, apples. I'll be looking for you at Christmas.
 Lots of love,
 MARGARET STALEY,
 Reddies River, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Houck, of Lenoir, were visitors to the city last week. They were accompanied here by Mrs. W. A. Snyder, Mrs. Houck's sister, who is spending sometime in Lenoir with Mr. and Mrs. Houck.
