

A. M. Hanes Rites Held Wednesday

Elkin.—Funeral for A. M. Hanes, 63, retired farmer of Cycle who died Monday at his home was held Wednesday afternoon at Swain's Baptist church.

Burial was in the church cemetery. Hanes moved to Yadkin from Kansas 10 years ago.

Many tobacco farmers in Wake County have used cyanamid and uramion with success on tobacco plant beds to control weeds and diseases, according to the county's farm agent.

Mrs. Alexander, 100, Last Rites Jan. 20th

Nancy Catherine Thompson Alexander, daughter of the late William Thompson and Sallie Alexander Thompson, was born January 30, 1946. She died Jan. 18, 1947, at the home of her grandson, Robert Alexander, in Walnut Grove township; age 100 years, 11 months and 18 days.

When she was about 22 years of age she was married to Jessie T. Alexander. Unto this union were born 6 children, 5 sons and 1 daughter.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Jessie T. Alexander, and three children, John Alexander, Mary Alexander Joines, and Robert L. Alexander.

She is survived by 3 sons: Sam T. Alexander, of Abshers, William F. and Joe Alexander, of Hays; also 13 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

She professed a hope in Christ and joined the church in Clay County, N. C. She later got a letter of dismission and was in the constitution of Piney Grove church on April 21, 1888, where she remained a member until death.

Funeral service was held Monday, Jan. 20, at Double Creek church by Revs. Louis Everette Sparks, S. L. Blevins, Troy Blevins and Arthur Gambill, after which her body was laid to rest beside her husband in the church cemetery.

While it is our loss we hope heaven is her gain.

May God bless the hands of all those who cared for her during her long affliction.—Contributed.

Farmer Finds Gain In Dairy Operation

An example of what a farmer, operating on a small scale, can do with a few dairy cows, is demonstrated by Guy Anderson of Brasstown, Cherokee County.

Since August 1, Anderson's milk checks from these four dairy cows have totaled $329.78, after his haul bill was deducted. In addition to the milk sold off his farm, two and a half gallons per day were used for home consumption.

From August 1 to December 31, Anderson spent $88.75 for feed and the rest was grown on the farm. Part of this feed went to his dry cattle and calves, explains assistant farm agent, Lemuel Goode of the State College Extension Service, so the cows producing milk didn't use this entire amount of feed.

Anderson was one of the first farmers in the county to seed ladino clover on his farm. At the present time, he has seeded 21 acres of pasture and meadow to this clover. Results have been so good that Anderson plans to include it in all of his pasture mixtures.

BRAME'S DRUG STORE RED CROSS PHARMACY

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Sam Abernathy Holds the Line!

Folks in our town have been making mighty complimentary remarks about Sam Abernathy. In spite of talk about inflation, Sam's prices—(say, on eggs for instance)—are what they were a year ago.

"Shucks," says Sam, "Don't give me credit. I get my eggs from Slim Hines' dairy farm. Slim hasn't raised his wholesale prices, because Bert Childers has kept his price the same on chicken feed. It works by mutual agreement!"

And there again you have Self-Regulation, doing what no law could ever do! Like Self-Regulation in the Brewing Industry... Brewers and tavern keepers get together by mutual agreement to maintain decent, law-abiding standards among pieces that sell beer.

From where I sit, the more you leave things up to the people themselves, the more you get the kind of results America is famous for—co-operation by mutual agreement. Or, if you want another name for it, self-regulation!

A Little Light is a DANGEROUS THING

Along the Dunes of Albemarle a legend lingers... There Teach and his pirates hung a lantern around a nag's neck, then drove the nag and his dangling light into the darkness of the high dunes.

Twinkling out to sea, the lantern's light lured ships into the shallow waters of the Sound. Then waiting pirate bands went leisurely about their business of looting the grounded ships.

The danger of too little light is less spectacular in our own lives, but it is just as real. Surveys have shown that seven out of ten adults have defective sight—often traceable to eyestrain.

Yet light is more abundant and economical today than ever before. At Duke Power Company, Lighting Engineers are busy continuously to make Light more valuable than ever before for Better working conditions and greater production.

Decreased spoilage and increased profits on the farm.
Comfort, health, and SAFETY throughout the Piedmont Carolinas.
