1948 Studebaker Models On Display at Motor Market Here

Representative models of 1948 Studebaker automobiles and trucks are now on display at Motor Market, Inc., on Ninth street and are receiving high praise from many spectators. The new series, which is the first since the company introduced its sensationally re-styled postwar models in May, 1946, has several outstanding features. New to the industry is a method of adjusting front seat cushion springs to the weight of the occupants. Also new are airfoam cushions and nylon upholstery.
