High School Clubs Have Holiday Dances

Two high school clubs of the North Wilkesboro public school held their annual Christmas dances during the holidays at the Legion Hut. The HI-Y club, composed of high school boys, held their dance on Christmas Eve having around eighty guests, and the JUG Club, composed of a group of high school girls, gave their dance Monday evening, which was attended by about two hundred and fifty people. At each dance the gifts included high school boys and girls, the younger college set, and a number of visitors from out of town.

Chaperones for the HI-Y dances were Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Gibbs, and Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Horton, and the Hortons also for the JUG Club dance. At each occasion punch and cookies were served during the evening. Presidents of the two clubs are Mr. Chip Caudill and Miss Margie Newton.

Miss Rebecca Hayes Gives Tea Dance

Miss Rebecca Hayes, student at Greensboro College and home for the holidays with her parents, Judge and Mrs. Johnson J. Hayes, entertained at a lovely tea dance on Saturday afternoon at the Club Pines from five until seven-thirty o'clock honoring her houseguests for the week-end. The visitors, Miss Catherine Schiff and Miss Louise Moore, both of Charlotte; Miss Margaret Fields, of Winstonburg, Misses DeNeale Peeler and Donna Ring, both of Lexington, were with Miss Hayes from Saturday until Monday. Miss Schiff attends Sales College, Miss Moore Queens College, and the other three girls Greensboro College. Chaperones for the dance, which was attended by around eighty guests, mostly college boys and girls, were Judge and Mrs. Johnson J. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Ivey Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Elliott, and Mrs. F. C. Forester.

The room of the club was decorated with holly, mistletoe, green and red streamers; cups and napkins were in Christmas colors, the sandwiches and cookies were suggestive of Christmas wreaths, and the mints were star shape. The table, spread with a white cutwork cloth, was centered with a miniature tree decorated in Christmas balls about which four red candles gleamed. Also on the table was a miniature angel choir, and the punch bowl, embedded in holly and red and green cellophane.

Mrs. C. E. Jarvis Hostess Friday

Mrs. C. E. Jarvis entertained at a delightful party at her home in Wilkesboro Friday evening having guests for four tables of dice hearts. The high and second high score prizes went to Mrs. Fred Caldwell and Mrs. Zeb Dickson. Drinks were served during the evening, and at the close of play an ice course in which the Christmas colors were noted.

Methodist Students Honored at Dinner

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the North Wilkesboro First Methodist church entertained at a Student Dinner Saturday evening at the Carolina Restaurant honoring the Methodist college students home for the holidays. A three course dinner was served at seven o'clock with covers laid for about forty. The table was beautifully appointed in the Christmas motif, while at each plate was a green program booklet decorated with Christmas bells and holly. Mr. Pat Hunt acted as toastmaster.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by the following program: Invocation, "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow"; welcome to students by Mrs. Palmer Horton, secretary of student work in the Society; two songs, "We're Here For Fun" and "Jingle Bells"; toast to the Woman's Society, Mr. Ward Eshelman, Jr.; response by Mrs. Edd F. Gardner, president of the Society; and a contest "You Name It", which consisted of naming baby pictures of the group. Mr. Bill Gardner was the winner and received a box of candy. As a closing number the group sang "Good Night Ladies." Some of the students had out of town friends as guests at the dinner. Mr. Dick Hix had Mr. Hebron Coble, of High Point College; Miss Shirley Atkinson had Miss Lois Wilson, of Philadelphia; Miss Elizabeth McNeil had two of her former classmates at the University of North Carolina, Miss Evelyn Johnson, of Statesville, and Miss Doris Lyles, of Charlotte, and Misses Frances and Nancy Rousseau had Messrs. Dave Sewell, of Greensboro, and Mr. Bob Stone, of Raleigh. Mrs. Gilbert R. Combs was also a special guest at the dinner. Dr. Combs was unable to attend.

The value of wheat is almost entirely dependent upon its milling and baking quality, which can be determined accurately only through milling and baking tests.

Mrs. L. D. Cook Gives Party Saturday

Mrs. L. D. Cook was hostess at her home on Sixth Street Saturday afternoon honoring her houseguest for the week-end, Mrs. James Blackwood, of Lenoir, a former resident of this city. Cards were played at four tables and following play the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Russell Pearson, served a salad course. High and low score prizes in bridge went to Mrs. Dermont Smith and Mrs. Frank Stafford, in rummy to Mrs. Isaac Eller, Sr., and Mrs. Ray Cashion, and in rummy to Miss Margie Gabriel. Another out of town guest at the party was Mrs. Jerome Burns, of Asheville, houseguest of Mrs. Pearson, who was remembered with a gift as well as the honoree, Mrs. Blackwood. The home was attractively decorated in keeping with the holiday season.

McNeill-Caudill Vows Dec. 24th

Mr. W. E. McNeill, of Purlear, announces the marriage of his daughter, Alma Jean, to Mr. B. H. Caudill, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Caudill, of Millers Creek, at 8:00 p. m., December 24. The vows were spoken in the home of Rev. Glenna Huffman, who officiated. After the ceremony the bride and groom took a short wedding trip.

The average North Carolina cow produces only about 170 pounds of butterfat annually. If by good feeding and care this could be increased 70 per cent or to 289 pounds it would amount to a total increased production of 44,800,000 pounds of butterfat annually by the 400,000 cows in the State.
