NEWS AND VIEWS OF SPORTS IN NORTHWEST

North Wilkesboro baseball club owners in the Blue Ridge league are planning to give a prize to the person submitting name most suitable for the team here . . . Millers Creek all stars are to be congratulated for being one of the outstanding all star teams in the state outside of the semi-pro ranks. Many large towns would be glad to have a team as good . . . Henry "Flash" Loman, North Wilkesboro professional baseball manager for 1948, out his baseball teeth under management of Billy Southworth, now Phillies manager in the National League. Billy was at Asheville in 1934 . . . All the fans are praising conditions at the North Wilkesboro gymnasium since the heating plant was installed; and the same goes for Mount Pleasant and Mountain View . . . The Wilkesboro gymnasium is an excellent structure and worth all it cost and then some. Few schools have as good . . . Basketball fans are going to flock to Millers Creek Wednesday night to see the all stars and Eller's Bluejackets fight it out for the Wilkes Industrial Basketball league lead . . . Fans are raving about the ability of the Mount Pleasant high school boys' basketball team. They say they have speed and everything . . . Harold Dancy, from Wilkesboro, is the 128-pound member of Appalachian's wrestling team, which wins practically every match . . . When the baseball park is completed, why not construct a few tennis courts in Memorial Park? We can make of the park one of the best athletic parks in the state . . . North Wilkesboro and Wilkesboro were invited to participate in Class A football next season, but seemingly have elected to play in their own conferences. Anyway, it was splendid recognition to receive from the state high school athletic association for the splendid records made by the teams . . . The Mountain Lions expect to improve next fall, barring injuries, but graduation next year will take many regulars. A great handicap to high school basketball in Wilkes is that so many players, especially girls, don't know the rules. Why not have a rule clinic for the whole county and have some official lecture on rules of the game? . . . Latest hot tip on high school athletics is that Millers Creek will have their first football team next fall and may be angling now for a teacher who can coach on the gridiron. . . The athletic field at Millers Creek, literally dug out of a hillside, is a splendid accomplishment. It is spacious, with about 400 feet on every side. We'd like to see all high schools in the county do as well . . . Wilkes Legion Junior baseball team should knock off some of the leaders this year. The losing experience they got last year will be a valuable asset. You have to start sometime, and last year wasn't as late as now.
