Pastime Club, Met With Mrs. Cook

A delightful club party of the week was the one given by Mrs. Flake Cook at her home in Wilkesboro Monday evening, entertaining for members of the Pastime bridge club. A salad course followed the game played at two tables. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Page Choate for high score, to Mrs. Johnson Sanders for second high score, and to Mrs. Bob Kite for bingo.

Mrs. M. B. McNeil Entertains At Bridge

Mrs. M. B. McNeil was hostess at a small bridge party at her home on Ninth street Saturday afternoon. Prizes for high and low scores were awarded to Mrs. Russell Pearson and Mrs. D. L. Crook. A dessert course was served at the beginning of play.

Sauls-West Vows Are Spoken In Sumter, S. C.

Sumter, S. C.—The wedding of Miss Margaret Ellen Sauls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Allen Sauls and Lee Allen West, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert James West, of Spartanburg, was solemnized in the First Presbyterian church at eight o'clock Friday evening, March 18. The Reverend Richard R. Potter performed the double ring ceremony against a background of burning white cathedral tapers and baskets of white gladioli and calla lilies.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Catherine Wells, organist, and James Cuttino, vocalist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of candle light satin featuring a silk illusion yoke giving an off shoulder effect and outlined with an embroidered motif of seed pearls and extending over the front of the moulded bodice. Her long fitted sleeves came to a point over the hands and were edged with lace which was made by the bride's maternal great grandmother, and was worn by her grandmother at her wedding. The skirt was full gathered in a sweeping train. Her full length veil of imported illusion was caught to a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and stephanotis centered with a yellow throat orchid.

Miss Frances Cava Stukes, of Walterboro and Manning, was her cousin's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Nash and Miss Byrd Murray, of Sumter and Columbia, Miss Rosa Weinberg and Miss Irene Yates, both of Sumter. The attendants wore identical gowns of ice green satin designed with low rounded necklines with soft berthas giving an off shoulder effect, fitted bodices and full skirts with a bustle back. They carried nosegays of pale pink carnations and hyacinths.

Ellen Louise Forester, cousin of the bride, of Sumter, and Nora Kitchen, cousin of the bridegroom, of Danville, Va., were junior bridesmaids. They wore ice green satin dresses identical to the other attendants and carried nosegays of pale pink carnations and hyacinths.

Dr. George Raymond Kitchen, Sumter, served as his nephew's best man. Ushers were Wesley Sineath, of Timonsville, James Alexander, of Camden, Bo Carrigan, of Sumter, and Gene Forester, Lake City, cousin of the bride. Gene Forester, Jr., cousin of the bride, and Sep Harvin, Jr., lighted the candles.

Mrs. Sauls, mother of the bride, wore a gown of mist green crepe featuring a yoke with iridescent beading. She wore long gloves of avocado green and matching shoes. Her corsage was of pink roses. Mrs. George Raymond Kitchen, aunt of the bridegroom, wore a gown of slate blue crepe, and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

A reception was held, following the ceremony at the Sunset Country club. During the evening the bride and bridegroom left for a wedding trip and after the 28th of March will make their home on Montague Street in the city of Charleston.

For traveling, the bride wore a navy blue suit of Milanteen with an ice blue satin stock, navy blue suede shoes and milan hat, white doe skin gloves, mink fur and the yellow throat orchid from her bridal bouquet on her navy blue handbag.

Mrs. West was graduated from the Edmunds high school and Converse College in 1947, and was a member of the Spinners' club of Sumter. Mr. West, who makes his home with Dr. and Mrs. Kitchen here, spent two years in the air corps, served in the Mediterranean theatre, and is now attending the Citadel where he is a senior.

The bride's mother, the former Margaret Tate Forester, is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Forester, of Goshen.

Miss Evans, Mr. Scroggs Speak Vows

Raleigh.—Miss Martha Louise Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus E. Evans of Nashville, was married to Gales W. Scroggs Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gales Scroggs of Roaring River, Saturday morning in the Hayes Barton Baptist parsonage.

Rev. John W. Kinchloe, Jr., officiated at the double ring ceremony. A program of wedding music was presented by Robin Scroggs, pianist, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Nelson Edens, soloist.

The bride and bridegroom entered together, unattended. Miss Evans wore a suit of navy blue with navy accessories and a corsage of white orchids. She carried a prayer book.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for an unannounced wedding trip.

Mrs. Scroggs is a graduate of the Goldsboro Hospital School of Nursing. Mr. Scroggs is a senior at North Carolina State College, Raleigh.

Mrs. J. R. Hix Bible Class Hostess

Eighteen were present for the March meeting of the Woman's Bible class and the Spiritual Life Group of the North Wilkesboro First Methodist church held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. R. Hix. Mrs. E. F. Gardner presided for the first part of the meeting during which time Miss Mamie Sockwell led a meditation period on the 122nd Psalm, and Mrs. Fred Clark presented the first chapter in the Bible study book, "Newness of Life". Sentence prayers were given by the group.

Mrs. Isaac Eller, Sr., president of the class, was in charge of the business session. Plans were discussed for a food sale, definite announcement to be made at a later date. It was decided to hold the April meeting in the Ladies' Parlor of the new educational building. The hostess served refreshments during the social hour.
