

SPORTS BRIEFS

As the baseball season gets under way here we would like to make a plea for fans to be genuine boosters, and to please lay off the youngsters who are lacking in experience. Boos can do irreparable damage to a young player when he fails to make a play as it should be.

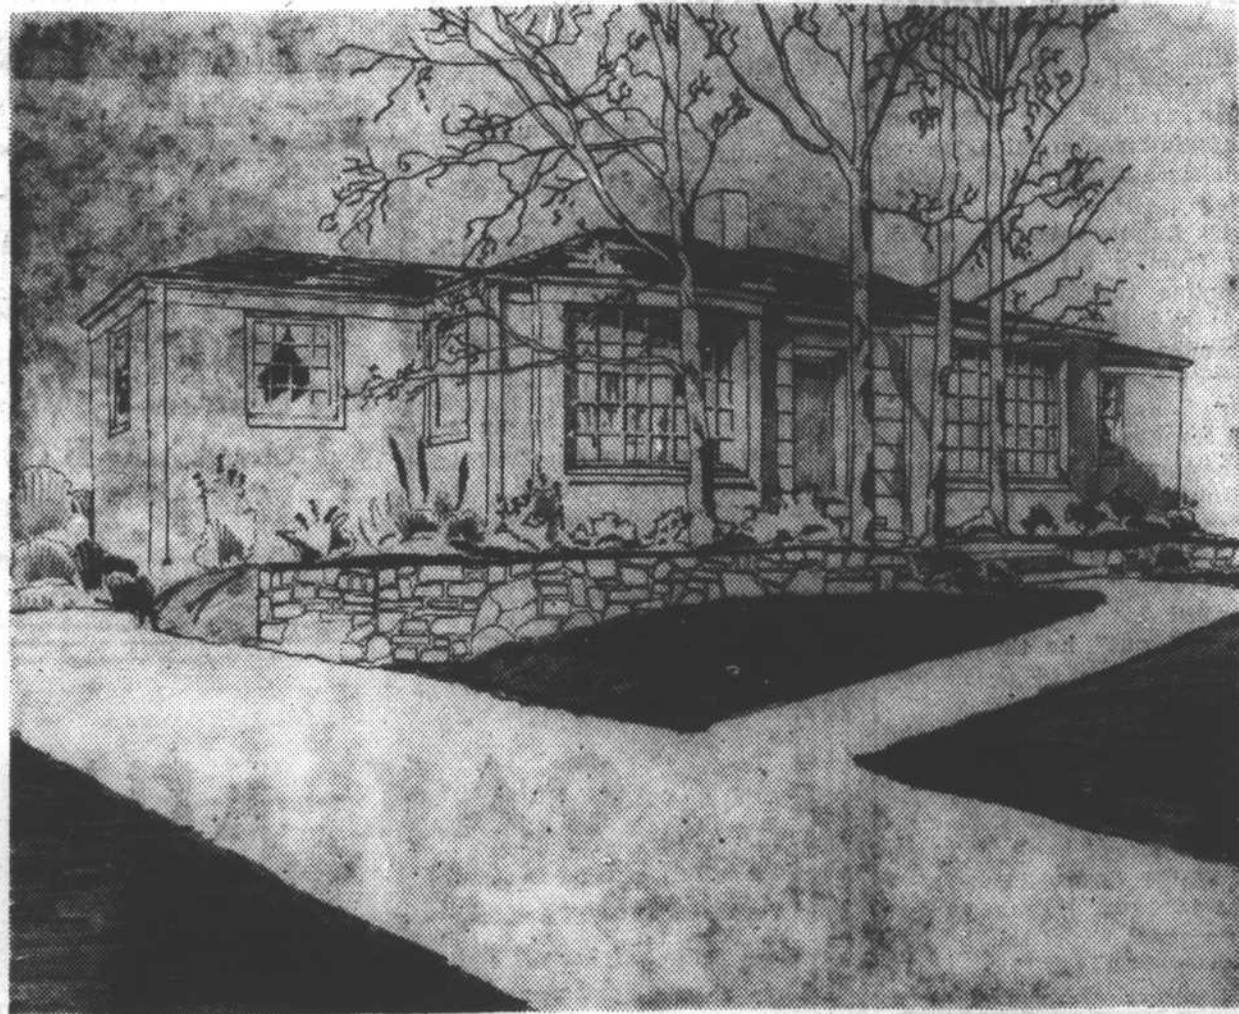

The North Wilkesboro club is made up principally of youngsters in the first and second years in baseball. From our observation, there are several players on the club who can go on up in baseball, and we want to help them go up.

And let us remember that umpires run the ball game, and that is the only way it can be. The umpires are the representatives of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, the backbone of baseball, and must be protected. Often we think an umpire missed a play. Sure, they call 'em wrong sometimes, but there is no other system by which baseball can be run than by umpires. League President Judge Bivins thinks he has a capable staff of umpires this year. It is part of baseball that umpires will receive plenty of boos and be the object of myriads of not too complimentary remarks, but never should fans do any act which might be construed as violence or dangerous to umpires. It just can't be done and stay in baseball. Any time there is a demonstration against umpires it will cost the home club, possibly with loss of franchise.

It would be well worth while to remember these facts next time the ump "gets your dauder up."

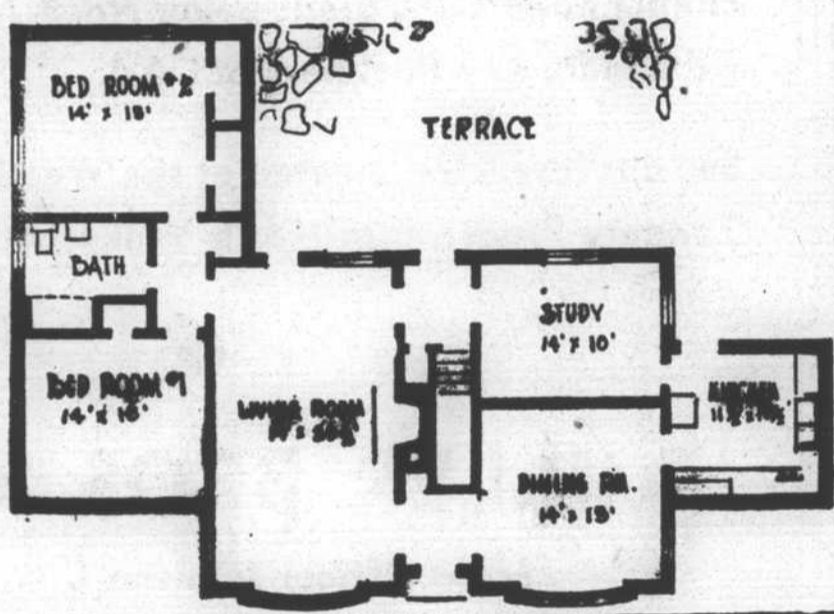

Most Cleveland County orchardists expect a good fruit crop this year in spite of some damage from freezing weather in March.

BRICK HOUSE PLAN NO. 309 HAS LOW BOW WINDOWS

BRICK HOUSE PLAN NO. 309—Designed by James A. Malcolm, Architect, Charlotte

This is one of many houses designed by Carolina architects which are featured in the plan book, "Carolina Homes," just published by Brick and Tile Service, Inc., Raleigh building, Raleigh. This book may be obtained by writing them or plans and specifications for this house may be purchased at moderate cost.

This modern six-room house features two beautiful low bow windows, one in the living room and one in the dining room. The two bedrooms with the bath between are isolated for peaceful sleeping. The kitchen is spacious with the built-in cabinets and monel working surfaces. It has a private entrance. The living room is entered through a small rectangular hall with an ample coat closet, and an enclosed terrace at the rear. The dining room and den are located on the kitchen side for convenient living. The wall of native stone and the lovely landscaping make this one of the most attractive small homes.

This is a rare small house plan into which has been designed a place for everything without the whole house being cluttered. The spacious rooms, the wide use of glass and the back terrace all are features which give you a luxurious dwelling that is available at a moderate price.

The entrance hall leads into the large living room with its bow window and its fireplace. This room extends the entire width of the house and has a back door opening onto the terrace. This arrangement increases the easy circulation of the entire house. The terrace will serve in many ways to increase the pleasure and liveability of your home. It is a perfect lounge and sunbathing spot and is fine for outdoor dining. The back yard, finished with an outdoor fireplace will present not only a pretty view for your living room but a functional part of your home as well. The dining room, opening to the left of the living room, contains a bow-window. This spacious room is large enough for entertaining at meals without a worry as to space. It opens into the kitchen to the left. The kitchen is an efficiently designed room with ample cabinet space and a service entrance at the rear, which is very convenient to a garage to be built in the rear of the house.

The sleeping area can be effectively closed off from the rest of the house and is a complete unit in itself with ample closet space and a bath between the two rooms. As both the bedrooms are corner rooms they have the advantage of cross ventilation.

A pleasing exterior design plus an attractive, functional interior combine to make this a small house which is moderately priced and which contains all the features necessary for convenient modern living.
