HAWKINSON TREAD PATENTS (METHOD & APPARATUS)

*Upheld by United States Circuit Court of Appeals**

AN IMPORTANT FEATURE—

TIRE IS CONTRACTED TO FIT THE "ROLLING RADIUS" CURING RING

TIRE (with New Tread Rubber)
Placed on Tire Spreader
(Before Spreading)

SAME TIRE
Beads Spread Radius
CONTRACTED

Hawkinson
Rolling Radius Curing Ring
Applied to Radially CONTRACTED Tire

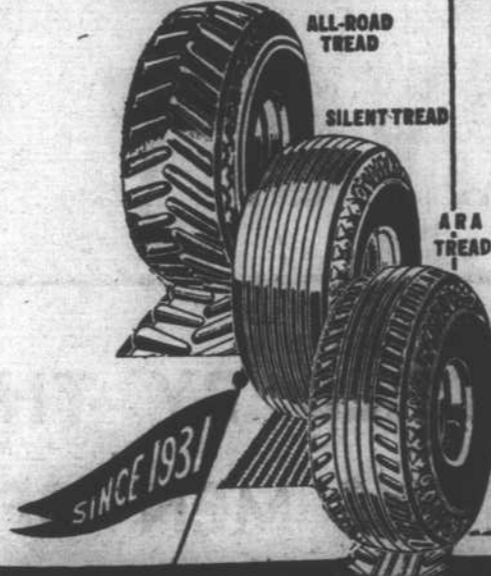

NOTE
Only NEW TREAD is Cured

Side Walls and Shoulders Remain Cool

By evenly spreading the beads and sidewalls of a tire casing, the treaded surface of the casing is uniformly contracted to its "Loaded Rolling Radius." Fitting a tire into a smaller diameter curing ring by this patented Hawkinson Method insures the obtaining of even curing pressure between all parts of the new tread and curing ring, and avoids any possibility of buckling the casing.

Hawkinson TREAD DESIGNS

In Sustaining the Patents the Court said:

*"It was not until Hawkinson perceived the reduction and seized upon the phenomenon to make possible the placing of a tire in a mold smaller than itself that use was made of it in the retreading art. We have recounted the advantages of the Method, it facilitated the recapping of tires and eliminated the distortion of the casing."

"We conclude that upon the record presented here the claim connotes invention. We think that the Hawkinson Mold went beyond the skill of an expert and that its conception and construction involved more than the obvious. It certainly achieved large commercial success. . . . Hawkinson shook loose from the prior conception of U-shaped molds and devised an apparatus that was palpably new. We think it has all elements of validity—to-wit, novelty, utility and invention."

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR A Hawkinson TREAD

NOW — With this Revolutionary Method it is possible to RETREAD white side wall tires with out injury to the casing because the heat is applied only to the top of the casing while the sidewalls remain COOL!
