Long Record Of Public Service

M. A. Vickery, assistant postmaster, yesterday retired from his position after more than 33 years of diligent service to the public in this community.

Mr. Vickery began his duties in the postoffice in 1916. During a third of a century he rendered valuable and efficient service in his position, serving the people daily and constantly.

During the past few years two other postal employes retired after long service at the North Wilkesboro postoffice—George McMiller and Charlie Finley. It is indeed fitting that a word of commendation go to them for service well and diligently rendered over a long period of time.

In the postal service the three who have completed their years of work saw this city grow from a village to a thriving commercial and industrial center, and the efficient service of such public servants as they contributed much to the growth and progress of the community.

Fines Are Aid To School Financing

During the August term of court much money was collected in fines. A complete report was not available today, but it was indicated that the total would run into many thousands of dollars.

It is appropriately right that law violators should be made to pay, either in time of money, for their offenses. Courts and law enforcement are one of the most costly phases of government, and fines help to offset that cost.

Fines go into the school current expense funds. In other words, the fines collected help to defray the incidental expenses of school operation.

The school funds in Wilkes county need the revenue from fines. Courts should always as nearly as possible, and in line with justice, be made to pay their own way. The fines collected help to keep the courts from being a total loss on the financial side of the ledger. Lack of education has been found to be one of the greatest causes of crime. It is very fitting that revenue from fines should aid the cause of education.

Highway Death Toll Increases

The highest traffic toll for the month of July in eight years was chalked up on North Carolina highways, the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles reported.

A total of 80 persons were killed in highway accidents, the largest July figure since July, 1941, when 95 persons were killed. Fatalities showed a 31 per cent increase over July of last year when 61 persons died. The July total brought to 445 the number of persons killed so far this year.

Accidents numbered 1,852, an increase of 38 per cent over the 1,342 in the same month last year. A total of 941 persons were injured, representing an increase of 40 per cent over the 670 injured during July, 1948, and bringing to 5,098 the number of injuries for the first seven months of the year.

Seventeen pedestrians killed by cars brought the total for the year to 93. Alamance and Burke Counties led the State in pedestrian fatalities with two each. Each of the following counties had one: Bertie, Brunswick, Caswell, Columbus, Craven, Duplin, Edgecombe, Martin, McDowell, Robeson, Sampson, Surry and Wayne. Seven were children and 10 adults. Thirty-eight children were injured and 36 adults.

Collision of motor vehicles took the lives of 24 persons, bringing the total killed in this type of accident to 151. Train-auto collisions cost the lives of two persons. Eighteen have died in the first seven months of this year from this cause. Four bicyclists killed by motor vehicles brought to 20 the number killed through July. One person was killed when his car crashed into a fixed object. Twenty-nine died when their vehicles ran off the roadway. Two were killed when their vehicles overturned in the road.

Of 3,171 drivers involved in all accidents in July, 1,667 were city residents and 1,320 lived in rural areas. A total of 2,300 drivers involved in accidents were residing within 25 miles of the accident location.

Washington observers are already beginning to guess about Truman's 1952 intentions. Well, that surely will provide time in which their guess work can accumulate on 'em. — Greensboro Daily News.

Here's the Fruit Salad Dressing You've Been Looking For!

The best fruit salad dressing we know is made with fruit juice and Dixie-Home Mayonnaise. We especially recommend Pineapple Juice — tho' your favorite will do as well. To ½ pint Dixie-Home Mayonnaise slowly add while beating ½ cup of juice drained from a can of Pineapple. Chill and use. No need to mention that Pineapple is the best addition to any salad!
