Casey-Wilson Vows Are Spoken In Church Ceremony

Miss Anne Lucille Casey and George Campbell Wilson, of Belmont, were married in a lovely ceremony, which took place Saturday evening, September the third, at the First Baptist church. The bride is the older daughter of Mrs. Andrew Harrison Casey, of North Wilkesboro, and the late Mr. Casey, and the groom is a son of Mrs. George Sparrow Wilson, of Belmont, and the late Mr. Wilson.

Dr. John T. Wayland, pastor of the bride, heard the vows at six o'clock, using the double ring ceremony. Tall baskets of white gladioli against a background of ferns and smilax, lighted white tapers in five seven-branched candelabra, decorated the church.

Wedding music was furnished by Miss Lois Scroggs, organist, Miss Martha Lue Frazier and John T. Cashion, as soloists. In prelude Miss Scroggs rendered a program of sacred wedding music, Miss Frazier sang, "The Greatest of These is Love" (Biblical), Mr. Cashion "Through the Years" (Youmans), and as a benediction they sang together "O Perfect Love" (Barnby). The traditional wedding marches were used for the professional and recessional.

Mr. William Eller Casey gave his sister in marriage, Miss Mary Ann Casey, sister of the bride, maid of honor, Mrs. Bob F. Day, matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Ann Campbell, Salisbury, cousin of groom; Miss Alma Casey, Cycle, cousin of bride; Mrs. James Dalton, Asheville, and Mrs. W. Jennings Dixon, Charlotte.

Best man for the groom was Cornelius Harold Willard, Jr., High Point; and serving as ushers were James L. Wilson, Belmont, brother of groom; Bernard L. Jessup, Jr., Concord, Frank Neal Houston and Joe R. Stillwell, both of Charlotte.

The bride wore a gown of candlelight Duchess satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, square neckline and long sheath sleeves ending in a point over the hand. The full skirt gathered to the bodice with corded detail terminated in a peacock spread of train. Her chapel-length veil of imported illusion fell from a cap of illusion and pearls. She carried a bouquet of gardenias showered with tube roses.

Dresses for the bride's attendants were of gold satin brocade made with fitted bodices and portrait necklines. The full skirts slightly longer in the back featured the design in the material making a V from the waistline to the floor. Their bouquets of purple asters, in varying shades, arranged similar to the bride's bouquet, were tied with lavender ribbon.

Mrs. Casey, mother of the bride, chose a gown of cornflower blue crepe embroidered at the neckline with bugle beads. Mrs. Wilson, mother of the groom, was dressed in emerald green crepe with bead trim. Both wore purple orchids.

Following the ceremony the bride's mother entertained at a reception at the Woman's club on Trogdon Street, after which the bridal couple left for a wedding trip through Western North Carolina. For travel the bride changed to a striped Forstman suit with which she used taupe accessories. Her shoulder carriage was of gardenias.

The bride, since her graduation from Meredith College in Raleigh, has held a position as case worker with the department of Public Welfare in Yadkin County. The groom, who attended Belmont Abbey at Belmont, is a graduate of the Textile School at the North Carolina State College in Raleigh, where he was a member of Sigma Nu, Social fraternity. He served as a First Lieutenant and pilot in the Army Air Force and now holds a position with the Knit Products in Belmont where the couple will make their home.

The date of the bridal couple's marriage marked the fifty-fifth wedding anniversary of the bride's maternal grandparents Dr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson Eller.

The Reception

At the reception Mr. and Mrs. R. T. McNeil were at the door to welcome the guests, who were presented by Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Kilby to the first receiving line composed of the bride's and groom's mothers, and members of the wedding party. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Eller introduced guests to the second receiving line which included relatives of the bridal couple; Mr. and Mrs. William L. Campbell, and Mrs. Frank Gamble, all of Salisbury; Mr. and Mrs. Miles S. Carpenter, of Charlotte, uncles and aunts of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Silas B. Casey and Mr. Paul W. Casey, all of High Point, and Dr. R. P. Casey, uncles and aunts of the bride.

Mrs. Edd F. Gardner and Mrs. Boyd Stout presided at the punch bowl and assisting with the serving were Misses Carolyn Casey and Sandra Casey, of High Point; Myra Carpenter and Katie Carpenter, of Charlotte; Florence Moore, of Graham; Hiwatha Lupo, Green Sea, S. C.; Geraldine Caldwell and Harriet Crutchfield.

Mrs. Tal S. Barnes, Sr., directed guests to the bride's register which was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smoak and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Watts. Goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Chal McNeil and Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Sturdivant.

Bridal decorations of green and white were used about the spacious room of the clubhouse, which was lighted chiefly with floor lamps. Large ferns and clematis made a background for the setting, and the punch table, spread with a white Maderia cloth, was decorated with white candles in silver holders, white flowers, and greenery.
