

$2,000 People Visit Blue Ridge Parkway In Sept.

An announcement, made by Ben F. Moomaw, assistant chief ranger of the Bluff Park Maintenance Area, stated that approximately 13,025 cars have passed through the Parkway section between Deep Gap and the Virginia State line. Approximately 52,000 people passed through that section in cars in September. The ranger reported this week that the Parkway is now a maze of color. The oak trees still are green, but the birches are showing vast splashes of yellow, the maples are showing scarlet leaves and the black gums and dogwood trees are turning a deep red. It is expected that the color display will be at its height beginning this week and lasting through the following two weeks.

The facilities of Bluff and Cumberland Knob Recreational Areas will remain open through October 31, the public is reminded.

Child Dies After Drinking Kerosene

Fuquay Springs, Oct. 17.—Funeral services were to be held today for 18-month-old Barbara Ann Temple who died after drinking kerosene Friday.

Barbara Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Temple, was visiting at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. John Temple at the time of the accident.

Vast Amounts Illegal Liquor Come Into State

WINSTON-SALEM — Three-fourth of the illegal whisky poured into North Carolina this year went to the "dry" Piedmont area and one-third of the liquor was consigned directly to the Greensboro-High Point - Winston-Salem area.

State ABC Chairman R. W. Winston reported at Raleigh that 99 per cent of illegal shipments of $151,624.5 gallons of liquor allegedly consigned to 30 operators in North Carolina during the first six months of 1949 was shipped to prohibition counties.

Only 1,533 gallons of the whisky went to ABC counties—900 gallons to Wilson, he said. The rest was used to wet down "dry" counties.

North Wilkesboro was the largest whisky receiving town, getting 26,847 gallons—one sixth of the illegal liquor traced to North Carolina. The fact that the small town got so much whisky does not mean, however, that all of it was consumed in North Wilkesboro, which, with many other small towns, is believed to have been a distribution center.

High Point was second on the whisky list with 23,878.8 gallons. Winston-Salem, where police have conducted a long battle with big-time holders of Federal wholesale liquor permits, had but 2,331.4 gallons listed, but the ABC board noted part of Greensboro's 18,051 gallons as going on to Winston-Salem.

Consignments of liquor to small towns near large cities were noticeable. Such distribution systems make it increasingly difficult for city police to disrupt bootleg networks across the State, it was explained.

Prime example of the system is Ronda, a small town near Elkin, which received 11,714.6 gallons, very little of which was consumed in the town itself.

Although shipments of 9,160.2 gallons were consigned to Asheville, which has a city ABC system, they were believed to have gone outside into "dry" Buncombe County.

Points to which the liquor was purportedly consigned were:

- Greensboro, 18,051 gallons;
- Morganton, 903;
- North Wilkesboro, 26,847.8;
- Forest City, 10,702.8;
- Concord, 1,299.6;
- Hickory, 3,287.6;
- Winston-Salem, 2,331.4;
- Lumberton, 9,230.4;
- Garland, 5,698.2;
- Burlington, 4,221.2;
- Statesville, 7,321.8;
- Asheboro, 2,035.2;
- Creedmoor, 3,078.6;
- High Point, 23,878.8;
- Ronda, 11,714.6;
- Morven, 3,747.6;
- Spray, 1,112.4;
- Kernersville, 1,626.9;
- St. Paul, 3,862.4;
- Asheville, 9,160.2.

Library Wanting Books, Magazines

Subscription to Life magazine which has been coming to the Wilkes County Library as a gift has expired! This magazine has proven very popular among readers at the library, and if some friend would like to renew the subscription, reasonable Christmas rates are now in effect, and a year's subscription would be very much appreciated.

Used copies of Life, Time, children's magazines (except comics) Good Housekeeping, State or any good magazines will be gratefully received at the library, for distribution from the bookmobile at various stations in the county.

Donors of books to the library during September were Mrs. Myrtle Smith Hayes, Robert Kerley and Miss Margaret Perry.

Pythian Bowl Game In Salisbury December 10; School Band Here Going

Pythians and Dokies of North Carolina are sponsors of a new football bowl to begin operation this year.

First game in the Pythian Bowl will be played in Catawba College stadium at Salisbury Saturday, December 10, between the outstanding team of the North State College conference and a team to be selected from some other college in the nation.

The bowl game, to be an annual affair, will be sponsored to raise funds for the Pythian Orphans Home.

The North Wilkesboro Pythians and Dokies will help promote the bowl game, and will make a big contribution by taking the entire North Wilkesboro high school band to take part in the parade at ten a. m. and to play at the game. Local lodge members are now raising funds to defray expenses of the band on the trip.

A full day of entertainment has been arranged at Salisbury on the date of the game December 10. A mammoth parade will be held at ten a. m., with crowning of the bowl queen.

Miss Dottie Winters, daughter of G. Sam Winters, will represent the North Wilkesboro lodge in the beauty pageant.

The bowl game will be at two p. m., and the day's festivities will close with a dance that night at Armory Auditorium in Salisbury.

North Wilkesboro lodge members and Dokies will sell bowl game tickets, which will be three dollars each.

Football fans are asked to make plans to attend the game and to contact any lodge or Dokie club member for tickets.

Deer Prefers Spaghetti To Normal Deer Fare

Clarksburg, Ga.—Bambi, a spaghetti-eating deer has deserted the ways of the wild for the customs of civilization.

The one-year-old buck, who was found near starvation by Mrs. Emil Geigle, now snubs his nose at berries and tender green leaves. Instead he prefers such robust bill of fare as spaghetti, meatballs and good strong garlic.

The omnivorous Bambi so far has not taken a stand on the edibility of venison.

Scouts Hike Over Grandfather Mtn.

North Wilkesboro Boy Scout Troop No. 36 met Sunday morning at 9:30 on the Yonahlossee Trail at the eastern entrance to the Daniel Boone Scout Trail over Grandfather Mountain. The troop hit the trail at 9:40 and finished the trek at 2:00 P. M. at the western entrance. The entire hike was made in dense fog which swirled about the peak obscuring the beautiful autumn foliage of the Blue Ridge range.

Scouts making the hike were Gordon Forester, Jr., senior patrol leader, Johnny Winkler, Pete Candill, Bobby Wooten, Jimmy Swofford, Thomas Finley, Hyatt Gibbs, Terry Wayland, and Sammy Zimmerman. The troop was in charge of C. D. Coffey, III, acting scoutmaster, accompanied by R. S. Gibbs and R. N. Wooten. The hike completed the second class hiking requirements of all tenderfoot scouts making the trip. A brief but impressive religious service was held at the crest of the highest peak of the mountain—Bobby Wooten, Scribe.

District of Columbia Baptists have been in an evangelistic campaign. President Truman wrote Pastor E. H. Pruden of First Baptist Church, "Many times during the past decade the conviction has come to me with increasing force that a revival of the spirit of old-fashioned religion is what the world most needs."
