

Gilreath News

Well it's "Sogrum" time once again on the Brushies. The juice has been dripping and the "lassies" rolling at the residence of Mr. R. S. Barnette. Mr. Barnette is a proud owner of a power mill, where the neighbors in this community gather to make their "sogrums."

The making of molasses has been in operation over three weeks. No wonder everyone is sweet and sticky. It's been a long, sweet sticky job.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weaver spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Eamit Jones at Clifton.

Mrs. Clyde Jordan, Mrs. James Mayberry, both of New Hope, and Mrs. Walter Barnette visited Mrs. Era Barnette last week. Mrs. Barnette was guest at dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Childress and children visited Mr. Childress' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Childress, of Pores Knob, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Davis, of Oakwoods, and Mr. Wintford Patrick, of Grayson, visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barnette Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Combs, of North Wilkesboro, visited Mrs. Combs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Barnette, Sunday.

An electric pump has been installed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Barnette.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Childress and family visited a few hours Sunday at Fairplains with Mr. Childress' aunt, Mrs. Lunda Brewer.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Chatham called at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Barnette and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnette Sunday.

The writer would like to correct a mistake in Thursday's paper. It was Mrs. Ruben Johnson, of Elkin, who entered Davis

Children Enjoy North Carolina Symphony Concerts

Free concerts by the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra have become a part of the lives of school children all over the state. The children learn about the concert music before they attend the program and they enjoy the Orchestra immensely. The children of North Wilkesboro will have the opportunity to hear the Little Symphony next spring through the efforts of the local Symphony membership drive now in progress. Memberships in the Symphony Society make possible the free children's programs.

Dellaplane News

A birthday party was held last Saturday night at the home of the new lady, Mrs. Davis, who has moved in the new little house below Mrs. Cothren's. Outdoor lights were provided. It was held in the park back of the house. Those present enjoyed games, sandwiches, and roasting weiners and marshmallows. Among the presents received were two yellow kittens.

Mrs. Vetra Boyd, of the Brier Creek neighborhood, has been very ill and was treated at the Elkin hospital. Something is wrong with her back.

Rev. R. R. Crater, a Mr. Holbrook, both of Ronda, and little Annie and Mary Anderson spent a few minutes with Miss Ruth Linney last Wednesday night. The men were en route to prayer meeting at Brier Creek. They walked over from Willie Anderson's and nearly fell in gullies washed out by water from George Johnson's field and almost as deep as Mr. Crater is tall. This is not the road we have been trying for years to have improved. There is only one house on it, but it was always used by neighbors in going to old No. 60, to Dellaplane, Roaring River, or Wilkesboro if they wished. People in this section own their farms, have electricity and other comforts and are as enlightened as the average. But they have no roads. Services were held at Oak Forest last Sunday.
