OVER $800 RAISED HERE AT CARNIVAL HALLOWEEN NIGHT

The Halloween Carnival sponsored by the North Wilkesboro P.-T. A. was most successful this year in that a great many people attended and had a good time together, and in that the organization was able to realize a considerable amount of money with which to carry on its projects for the year.

Beginning at eight o'clock many children and adults began to gather in the school cafeteria where delicious foods donated by patrons were served by P.-T. A. members. Then the elementary building, offering quite a variety in amusement, was opened. In addition to good side shows expected at a carnival, there was presented a program of music and dance and a costume review. Mr. Ivey Moore, as master of ceremonies, auctioned off lovely pieces of furniture donated by local manufacturers. As a climax to the stage show, the winners in the popularity contest for pupils in the elementary building, Mary Frances Cashion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cashion, and Henry Absher, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Absher, were crowned queen and king of that part of the carnival.

At nine o'clock the gym was filled with people, many of whom participated in the dancing and cake walk. Mr. John Cashion, master of ceremonies, crowned during the intermission the king and queen from the high school building, Bobby Finconan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Finconan, and Patricia Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Caldwell.

Mrs. Ivey Moore, chairman of the carnival committee, and Mr. Dermont Smith, president of the P.-T. A., were delighted with the co-operation of parents, friends of the school, teachers, and pupils in making this another most successful school enterprise. More than eight hundred dollars was realized and will be applied to the P.-T. A. projects of improving grounds and play facilities and adding books to the elementary library.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ritchie returned to Rahway, N. J., today after spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. James Ritchie at Pores Knob, and other relatives in Wilkes. Mrs. W. T. Ritchie is the former Miss Elizabeth Blevins.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jones and Mrs. Jones' father, Mr. R. W. Kurfees, spent Sunday at Clemmons with Mrs. F. A. Jones and Miss Cora Jones. They went down especially to see Mr. M. S. Jones and son, Mr. Donald Jones, both of Rocky Mount, and Mr. A. B. Jones, of Portsmouth, Va., who were spending the week-end there in the Jones home.

"Grasp Opportunity" Rev. Mr. Young Says

Methodist Minister Speaks At Optimist Club Luncheon Tuesday

"Grasp the opportunity before it gets away from you," the Rev. Russell L. Young, pastor of the First Methodist church, told members of the Optimist club of North Wilkesboro at their luncheon meeting Tuesday noon at Hotel Wilkes.

Optimist James Harvey was in charge of the program and he presented Rev. Mr. Young to the club. The guest speaker opened his remarks by telling several humorous stories. His more serious vein of thought was centered about the theme, "This Is Your Day—and Mine." Rev. Mr. Young developed his address along the idea that all of us should take advantage of the opportunity that is offered us each day and do everything we can to take advantage of them. We should ask ourselves this question, Rev. Mr. Young stated: "What Are We Going to Do With Our Opportunities?" "And we should not overlook the opportunities to do something for our fellowman," Rev. Mr. Young continued.

Rev. Mr. Young expressed the opinion that the United States would have accomplished much more had representatives of enemy nations been called in to see the disastrous results of the use of the atomic bomb before it was used on the Japanese cities; "it was a golden opportunity to cease hostilities before so many lives were snuffed out," Rev. Mr. Young said.

In closing his most effective address, Rev. Mr. Young expressed this hope: "It Is My Hope That We Will Grasp The Opportunities About Us."

The Optimist luncheon opened with singing three verses of "America," followed by repeating the Optimist Creed and invocation by Rev. C. J. Winslow.

Guests at the luncheon included George Childers with Optimist D. T. Trivette; Coaches Tom Boyette and Lott Mayberry with Optimist E. R. Eller.

Optimist Trivette, national Optimist chairman for the local club, gave a splendid report on what had been done to bring about the observance of "Optimist Week—November 6-13th."

The next meeting of the club will take place on Tuesday, November 22nd.
