

Cotton Farmers To Vote Dec. 15 In Wilkes County

Cotton farmers are holding a referendum on Thursday, December 15th, to decide if marketing quotas will be used for the 1950 crop. Every producer who grew cotton in 1948, or had an interest in the crop, can vote on this important question. If growers approve cotton marketing quotas those who cooperate with the program will be entitled to 90 per cent of parity loans. If quotas are not approved, the price support to co-operators drops to 50 per cent of parity.

The polling places for Wilkes county have been announced by Maude S. Miller, secretary to the County PMA Committee, as follows: County PMA office, Wilkesboro; and Gus Myers' store in Somers township.

Mrs. Miller stated that it cost nothing for producers to cast their ballots, but that the price of not voting could be great.

Evangelist Keyes Attacked At Service

During a temperance meeting in Boone Sunday morning, being conducted by Evangelist "Sledgehammer Charlie" Andrew Keyes, Jr., the evangelist was attacked at the door of the church by a man. During the scuffle, Evangelist Keyes was hurt in one leg, and about the body. Several people who were attending services came to the rescue of the evangelist before he was cut with a knife. Charges were placed against Keaver Carnett of the Shulls Mills community, for assault with intent to kill, and disturbing religious services," Rev. Mr. Keyes reported.

Carnett was arrested and placed in Watauga county jail. His reason for attacking Evangelist Keyes, he didn't like the way he preached against whisky and beer, the evangelist said.
