MISS MAMIE SOCKWELL — EDITOR

Woodie-Bishop Vows Are Spoken

Mr. and Mrs. Linzie G. Woodie, of Parlear, announce the marriage of their youngest daughter, Alice Louise, to Mr. Rollin Ernest Bishop, son of the late Mrs. Mattie Bishop, of Wilkesboro, Route one, on November twenty-sixth, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. A. W. Eller heard the vows at two o'clock in the afternoon, using the double ring ceremony.

The vows were spoken in the living room before the fire place banked with greenery and baskets of white gladioli and lighted candles.

The bride and groom entered together unattended. The bride's dress, a two-piece treet length light blue Jersey wool, was trimmed with rhinestones.

Her only ornament was a string of pearls, gift of the bridegroom, and at her shoulder she wore a corsage of red rose buds. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white heirloom lace handkerchief.

The Reception

Following the ceremony the parents entertained at an informal reception honoring the bride and groom and immediate members of the families. The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Around the cake were small bowls of mints. The note of green and white was carried out through the house.

After the bride and groom had cut the first slice, Mrs. W. A. Blackburn, sister of the bride, finished serving the cake and punch. She was assisted by Miss Reba Blackburn, of High Point, niece of the bride.

During the evening the bride and groom left for a wedding trip through South Carolina and Georgia. Upon their return they are at home in their apartment in North Wilkesboro.

Rev. Russell L. Young Addresses Club Meet

Rev. Russell L. Young, pastor of the North Wilkesboro First Methodist church, was guest speaker for the monthly meeting of the Garden club held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gwyn Gambill. The speaker, presented by Mrs. J. Q. Adams, program chairman, used for the basis of his talk the Bible Christmas Story. Mrs. H. G. Duncan, the president, presided for the usual business session. During the social hour Christmas Carols were heard on the record player, and the other hostesses, Mesdames F. C. Forester, Frank Blair, and Johnson J. Hayes, assisted Mrs. Gambill in serving refreshments. Fifteen members were present. The decorations for the home were in keeping with the Christmas season.

Miss Ghita Tuttle Bridge Club Hostess

Miss Ghita Tuttle was hostess to the members of her bridge club at the Smithey Hotel in Wilkesboro Friday evening. The game, played at two tables, was followed by a desert course. Mrs. Julius C. Hubbard received the prize for top score and Mrs. W. T. Long the bingo award. Mrs. James Phillips, the former Miss Lucille Scroggs, was an invited guest of the club and was remembered with a gift.

Church Groups Have Christmas Parties

Leading in social activities for the week have been the Christmas parties held by various church groups of the Wilkesboros on Tuesday evening. A round fifty members were present for the Euzellian Sunday School class party of the First Baptist church held at the Woman's clubhouse in North Wilkesboro. To begin the evening a covered dish supper was served, after which Mrs. Allie Hayes, president of class, presided for a short business session when plans were made to fix a box for a needy family. Miss Marcella Deal led a devotional period with prayer help offered by Mrs. J. Floyd Woodward. Mrs. T. O. Crowell, program chairman, presented Miss Martha Lou Frazier, who sang some Christmas carols, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Hayes, and some carols were also sung by the group. In the exchange of gifts "heart sisters" were revealed for the past year, and names were drawn for the new year.

The Community House in Wilkesboro was the setting for the party held by the Fidelis class of the Wilkesboro Baptist church with an attendance of thirty-four. While the guests were assembling carols were played on the record player. Mrs. George Parlier, the president, presided for the usual business session, and Mrs. W. D. Jester read a Christmas Story and directed some contests. Heart Sister gifts were exchanged. At the close of the evening the hostesses, Mesdames Charles McNeill, Fidelis Frazier, A. A. Sturdivant, and Nelson Porter, served a dessert course.

The Fidelis class members of the North Wilkesboro First Baptist church held their party at the home of Mrs. A. C. Chamberlain, other hostesses were Mesdames John T. Wayland, Cleve Beshears, Leona Pardue, and Miss Lunda Hendren. Twenty-five members were present. Mrs. Wayland told a Christmas story, this being followed by a recorded Christmas story. Contests directed by Mrs. C. E. Eller and Miss Lillian prizes were won by Mrs. Frank Tomlinson and Mrs. Pardue. The group, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Chamberlain, sang a number of carols. Each member brought a gift to be given to Mrs. Ella Shockey for her group of girls at the Mills Home Orphanage at Thomasville. Mrs. A. M. Church received a prize for having the most attractively wrapped package. The hostesses served Christmas goodies, cake and coffee at the close of the evening. Featuring the decorations for the home were poinsettias grown by Mrs. Chamberlain.

The Gardner and Johnston circles of the North Wilkesboro First Methodist church joined in their annual party, which was held in the educational building of the church. Each circle met separately for their business session, then came together for a Christmas program. A recording by Loretta Young of "The Littlest Angel", was followed by carols sung by the group with Mrs. Lawrence Hunt at the piano and Miss Nellie Gabriel directing. An exchange of gifts were made after which refreshments were served to approximately thirty members attending. Miss Rebecca Raper was an invited guest of the party, and Miss Virginia Day was welcomed as a new member in the Gardner circle.

A progressive supper was enjoyed by the Y. W. A. girls of the First Baptist church, going in order to the following homes,

Mrs. Robert Davis, Miss Ruby Pardue, and Miss Vivian McNeill. After the dessert course at the McNeill home a Christmas program was given, and an exchange of gifts made. The group presented to their counsellor, Miss Minnie Haire, a Christmas corsage.

For each occasion light Christmas trees, candles, seasonal greens, and other Christmas decorations added much to the festiveness of the parties.
