POULTRY PRODUCTION IS BECOMING VAST INDUSTRY IN WILKES PRODUCING AREA

Wilkes county commercial poultry area produced from 35 to 40 per cent of the poultry produced and marketed on commercial scale in North Carolina, Tom Jenrette, manager of the Wilkes Chamber of Commerce, stated recently in a radio address over station WKBC here.

In the address Mr. Jenrette was referring to the four basic industries in Wilkes county—timber, dairying, fruit growing and poultry.

Figures recently released by the North Carolina crop reporting service revealed that during the first ten months of this year twenty-four million eggs were set by commercial hatcheries in North Carolina, 35 to 40 per cent of which were set by the hatcheries of the Wilkes area.

The poultry industry in North Carolina, and particularly in the Wilkes area, is growing rapidly, Mr. Jenrette said. The state's commercial hatcheries during the month of October produced 3,291,000 chicks, which was the largest October output on record. This October production was 108 per cent larger than the October hatch of last year and 225 per cent larger than the 1943-47 average for the month.

On the basis of figures given by the crop reporting service, about one and one-quarter million chicks were hatched by hatcheries of the Wilkes area during the month of October.

Production of chicks for the first ten months of this year in the Wilkes area is estimated at approximately 20,000,000.

Estimate of the gross income of the poultry industry in the Wilkes area is difficult to achieve because it is impossible to get a complete record of production and marketing from hundreds of growers. But it is evident from the figures available that poultry production in income of many millions of dollars and a great volume of business in allied lines, particularly the sale and distribution of poultry feeds.

Growth of the poultry industry in this area is big business with a try in North Carolina, and particularly since the war, has been very rapid and substantial. A survey of poultry production made three years ago is already out of date and is worthless in trying to arrive at estimates of poultry production now.

Meanwhile, many poultrymen have improved and enlarged their facilities and are capable of increasing production at times when the trend is favorable for increased profits.

Christmas Gift Folders For Bonds

Christmas gift folders are available for U. S. Savings Bonds, Wilkesboro Postmaster M. F. Bumgarner, announced to shoppers today.

The folders, distributed by the Treasury Department to all bond-issuing agents, have a colorful cover showing a snowy mountain scene and carry a card with the Savings Bonds Christmas gift slogan: "The Present with a Future." Inside the folder is a die-cut page in which any denomination bond will fit, the Postmaster said.

In addition to the Christmas gift folders, the post office can supply United States Savings Stamps which parents and friends can purchase to complete children's stamp albums for conversion into bonds.

The Tar Heel pear crop was estimated at 130,000 bushels as of November 1. This compares with a crop of 209,000 bushels in 1943.

Christmas is around the corner. You will need many things that you can select from—the shelves and tables at your favorite store—The Goodwill—and that's not all, you won't be overcharged.

It is almost impossible for us to name prices on every item we carry in stock. Your best bet is to visit the store often. It pays and pays well.—The Goodwill Store. 12-19-2t
