SPORTS BRIEFS

Early in the basketball season we hear again that Traphill boys appear to be the class of Wilkes county basketball. They deserve all the more credit because of the handicap of having no gymnasium. Dean Edwards, Wilkesboro center, and Joe Eller, North Wilkesboro center, are two of the best basketball prospects in this community. Congratulations to the North Wilkesboro Optimist club for completing arrangements for the Wilkes county basketball tournament. Such a tournament well conducted will give sportsmanship a badly needed "shot in the arm" in Wilkes county. Eight teams of girls and an equal number of boys will make a well balanced tournament, and any team is capable of winning.

Mount Airy Graniteers of the Blue Ridge league lost two players in baseball draft this month. Pitcher Pistol Pete Treese and Outfielder Dub Atkins were called up by teams of a class C team in Texas. Radford's pitcher Israel Ten was also drafted to class C. The clubs get $750 each for drafted players. Mount Airy continues to have serious financial difficulties, but we predict Mt. Airy will be in there fighting again next season. Martinsville appears ready to get into the Blue Ridge league with some help from the Athletics, and Leaksville may join to make an eight-team league if no team in the Blue Ridge drops out. We have spent lots of time to bring within your reach many useful and desirable things suitable for all the family to make this Christmas a happy one without too much cost to you. Don't fail to see us and bring the kids. —The Goodwill Store. 12-19-49

LIBERTY THEATRE FOOTBALL TROPHIES PRESENTED TUESDAY

The Liberty Theatre football trophy presented annually to the team winning the North Wilkesboro-Wilkesboro game was presented to Wilkesboro football team in school assembly Tuesday morning.

Also presented were individual trophies to the player on each team selected by team mates as the best blocker. Jack Gaddy, of the North Wilkesboro Mountain Lions, and Dean Edwards, of the Wilkesboro Ramblers, received these trophies.

Wm. T. Long, Wilkesboro district superintendent, opened the program and explained the awards.

Roy W. Forehand, manager of Liberty Theatre, donor of the trophies, made a brief address, in which he emphasized the importance of clean living, sportsmanship and the desire to excel what produces champions. He also emphasized teamwork, and called attention to blockers as "unseen heroes" who clear the path for ball carriers who score the points.

Co-Captain Bobby Story accepted the winning team trophy for the Ramblers, who have won the trophy for the second consecutive year. Winning the trophy three straight years gives permanent possession. The blocker trophies are given each year and are the property of recipients.

Ramblers Coach Marvin Hoffman spoke briefly, thanking members of his team for the excellent effort put forth that won for the school the Highland conference title two years in a row without a conference defeat.

Ray Triplett, Wilkesboro all-state backfield ace, spoke briefly and reported on the Shrine Bowl game in which he participated in Charlotte, scoring a touchdown for the winning North Carolina team, and also spoke of the Greensboro Daily News All-State banquet which he attended with Coach Hoffman in Greensboro Monday night. Ray thanked team mates for the excellent play which enabled him to make a good record in high school football.

Jack Gaddy, Mountain Lions tackle who was voted the best blocker on his team, was accompanied at the presentation by his coach, Tom Boyette.

To give the occasion a football atmosphere, Wilkesboro cheer leaders lead the audience in three cheers during the program.

Ray Triplett And Coach Hoffman At All-State Banquet

Ray Triplett, Wilkesboro half-back selected to the Greensboro Daily News all-state football team, and his coach, Marvin "Red" Hoffman, were among the guests at the Greensboro Daily News and Greensboro Touchdown club's all state banquet held at the Plantation Club in Greensboro Monday night.

This banquet is one of the biggest events in the state for football players and coaches, and honors college and high school all-state selections. This year represented the first time that a player from this community has been selected for this coveted all-state honor.

More than 400 were in attendance, including high school and college coaches, college all-state players, high school all-state members and Touchdown Club members and invited guests.

F. G. (Fats) Heath, of Raleigh, a prominent Southern Conference official, was the principal speaker. Smith Barrier, Greensboro Daily News sports editor, presented the gold basketballs and certificates to college and high school all-state selections. Trophies for outstanding linemen were presented Tackle Louis Allen, of Duke, and Jerry Kincaid, of Salisbury, was named for the high school award. A number of coaches made brief talks.
