Hartsoe-Englebert Vows Exchanged In Home Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Selma Pearl Hartsoe, daughter of Mrs. S. A. Hartsoe and the late Mr. Hartsoe, of Fig, and John Clayton Englebert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Englebert, of Wilkesboro, was solemnized on Saturday afternoon, July 22, at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Rev. Graham Smith, Baptist minister, heard the vows at five o'clock before an improvised altar arranged in the living room with greenery, bouquets of white gladioli, and two seven-branched candelabra bearing white candles. Throughout the home were arrangements of white candles and white flowers.

Nuptial music was furnished by Miss Christine Glass, North Wilkesboro, pianist, and Miss Evelyn Englebert, sister of the bridegroom, as soloist.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white nylon over satin, made with sweetheart neckline, long fitted bodice and full skirt. Her fingertip veil, edged with lace, fell from a halo of carnations. She carried a white Bible showered with white gardenias, and white satin streamers falling to the floor, and her only ornament was a double strand of pearls.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Beshears, North Wilkesboro, Route One, attended the bridal couple as best man and matron of honor, and serving as ushers were Ronald and Hubert Englebert.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride's parents entertained at a reception, after which the bridal couple left for a short wedding trip. For travel the bride changed to a blue bemberg dress and pinned at her shoulder the gardenias from her Bible.

The groom, a graduate of the Millers Creek high school, is now employed at the Oak Furniture Company. For the present the couple are making their home with the Engleberts.

At the reception Miss Bobbie Jean Beshears finished cutting the cake after the bride and groom had cut the first slice. Mrs. C. Y. Dellinger assisted in the serving. The dining table, spread with a hand crocheted cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom clustered with greenery and white gladioli.

Mrs. Adams Fetes Trio Of Visitors

Mrs. J. Q. Adams entertained at a small "Come and Sit" tea at her home on F Street Monday afternoon honoring three visitors in the city, Mrs. E. M. Osborne, of High Point, and Mrs. F. C. Young, of Purcellville, Va., who are here visiting their daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Mark Phillips, and Mrs. W. M. McCulley, of Salisbury, who was here visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Eller. The three honorees were remembered with gifts by Mrs. Adams. The guests, which just included friends in the neighborhood, were served tempting refreshments during the tea hour, 3:30 to 4:30 o'clock. Mrs. Young, who is 88 years of age, four years ago received an orchid on the program, "Breakfast at Sardis," in Hollywood, California.

Handiwork Club Has Picnic Supper

Members of the Handiwork club, with members of their families and some other friends, enjoyed a picnic supper Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Buchanan on D Street. Approximately thirty-five were present for the occasion.

Mrs. Thompson Feted At Dinner Party

Mrs. W. C. Thompson, of Charlotte, who was here visiting with her mother, Mrs. James C. McDiarmid, was guest of honor at a dinner party given at the Wilkes Hotel Wednesday by members of the bridge club of which Mrs. Thompson formerly was a member. Covers were laid for nine, and the club members presented Mrs. Thompson with a gift.

Mrs. J. S. Zimmerman Entertains Her Club

Sans Soud members and some extra guests were entertained Friday evening by Mrs. J. S. Zimmerman at her home on D Street. The game of bridge, played at two tables, was preceded by a dessert course. Top score prizes for club members went to Miss Zelle Harris, for the visitors to Mrs. Charles C. McNeill, and the bingo award to Mrs. Ray Barnes.

Methodist Women Entertained Here

Mrs. H. B. Dodson and Mrs. C. A. Forester combined hospitality to the members of the Woman's Bible class and the Spiritual Life Group of the First Methodist church in their monthly meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the Dodson home. Mrs. Isaac Eller, Sr., presided for the business part of the meeting, and Mrs. Russell L. Young led an impressive meditation period. The hostesses served tempting refreshments during the social hour.

Oklahoma Beauty Relieved Indigestion with Hadacol

Found She Needed Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Niacin

Carol Jean White, of 3638 W. Park, Oklahoma City, sent us this letter:

"One of the luckiest days of my life was when I heard Bob Wills (radio star) tell about the wonderful blessings of HADACOL. My energy was down; I suffered from stomach distress and indigestion. I took HADACOL and am feeling better and better as I continue to take it."

Why don't you get that wonderful new HADACOL feeling everyone is talking about? HADACOL gives such amazing benefits because it treats the cause of stomach distress, gas, heartburn, aches and pains of neuritis, a general run-down condition due to vitamin B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, niacin and iron deficiencies. Continued use of HADACOL also helps prevent such miseries from returning. Any drug store. Trial size, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50.
