An impressive roster of Wilkes county citizens will take a searching look at projects and activities underway on behalf of the county's children and youth at a meeting set for Sept. 1, at North Wilkesboro City Hall, 7:30 p. m.

In a grass-roots meeting preliminary to the Midcentury White House Conference on Children and Youth, similar to many now being carried on throughout the United States, civic and public officials and many interested individuals under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. R. Absber, will survey the facilities available for strengthening the lives of children and young people and discuss the still-unmet needs of the county in this field.

Mrs. W. R. Absber, was named to head the White House Conference Progress Report Meeting in this county by the North Carolina Conference for Social Service, which was designated by Governor Cherry in 1948 and has since been renamed by Governor Scott to co-ordinate the state's part in the nationwide Conference.

The White House Conference, slated for Washington the week of December 3, was called by President Truman and will be the fifth such conference held at 10-year intervals at the request of U. S. presidents since Theodore Roosevelt asked for the first one in 1909.

Local meetings, similar to the one planned in Wilkes county, are being organized by the North Carolina Conference for Social Service, under local leadership, all over the state. These meetings will feature reports on the projects and activities underway on behalf of children and youth by community groups and in view of these reports will decide on the further needs of the county in this regard and consider ways and means of filling these needs.

Invited to attend Wilkes county's White House Conference Progress Report Meeting are all members of the county government, all members of the county boards of education, recreation, welfare, and health, and members of the boards of similar private agencies, representatives of both men's and women's civic and professional and church groups, youth organizations, farm organizations and their youth divisions, and interested individuals from throughout the county. Other interested citizens will be welcomed.

Work has been underway for two years on the White House Conference, and the actual meeting to be held in Washington will in reality be for the purpose of reviewing what has been accomplished and planning for following up on the existing needs of children and youth. The meeting in this county will help to constitute the local report, which will be incorporated as a part of the North Carolina report at the Washington meeting.

Dean Guy Phillips of the U.N.C. School of Education is president of the North Carolina Conference for Social Service, and Mrs. Tom Grier of Raleigh is executive secretary. Dr. Ellen Winston, the state's Commissioner of Public Welfare, and immediate past president of the North Carolina Conference, is chairman of the White House Conference steering committee in this state.

RED CHINA DEFIES U. S. ON FORMOSA

Major Attack Is Expected Momentarily

Tokyo — The North Korean Reds massed 60,000 men tonight for a drive against Taegu, the South Korean Republic's emergency capital in the heart of the central warfront.

The big, imminently threatening force rallied near Waegwan, 12 miles northwest of Taegu. It was believed to be the most effective mass drawn from 15 divisions — 100,000 men — the Reds had shoved up to the long, curling battleline. And it greatly outnumbered anything the Allies have to oppose them.

A Red attack down the Taejon-Taegu mountain valley corridor was expected momentarily. Tuesday is the fifth anniversary of the liberation of Korea from Japan. Such anniversaries are likely occasions in oriental reckoning for demonstrations of strength.

As the Red thousands assembled west of the Nakdong River, American troops recaptured muddy slopes on the Allied eastern side of the stream from some of the 12,000 Reds who crossed the river at Changnyong, 23 miles south of Taegu.

The Communists have been trying to break out from their Nakdong River-crossing bulge for eight days. Their objective is Pusan, number one Korean port in the southeast 5 miles from Taegu.

The U. S. 24th Division, moving up behind 45-ton Pershing tanks, attacked the river-crossers at dawn Monday. They shoved the North Koreans back from 1,000 yards to a mile along a flaming six-mile-long sector on the Allied eastern bank of the river.

Many Special Values Quoted In Advertisements For Dollar Days Here

Wilkes Dollar Days, the event when the dollar will buy more than at any time in the year, will be observed here Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 17, 18 and 19, this week. Thirty stores, representing every line in the mercantile business, will offer outstanding values during dollar days. There will be many bargains at the price of one dollar. For less expensive merchandise there will be groups of items for one dollar. For larger and more expensive items there will be reductions of several dollars. Some firms which operate credit business are featuring a one-dollar-down offer on large purchases.

With prices rising on many lines of merchandise, Dollar Days are more attractive than ever to purchasers. In many instances merchants will sell bargains for a dollar that would be difficult to replace at that price from manufacturers.

Included in Dollar Days participation are department stores, clothing stores, furniture stores, appliances dealers, grocers, drug stores, hardware stores, jewelry stores, meat markets, auto accessory dealers and a radio and record shop. This newspaper carries the advertisements of many of the firms participating in Dollar Days observance. The readers' attention is directed to these advertisements, which quote many fine values representing substantial savings to customers.

Dollar Days are sponsored annually twice yearly by the Trade Promotion committee of the Wilkes Chamber of Commerce. Object of the event is to entice by special values additional customers to this community as well as give their regular customers advantage of the savings in the event.

Customers in former Dollar Days events have found values outstanding and have been more than pleased. With prices on the upward trend it is expected that the values will be even more welcome this week.

Episcopalians To Pray For Peace

Members of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Wilkesboro, began a novena, or nine-day cycle of prayer, for world peace on Monday, August 14. Each member of the parish will pray stated prayers each day for the nine-day period, asking for world peace, and for the guidance of the United Nations Organization, and the leaders of the nations of the world.

In addition to this program, public prayers are being offered at noon each day at St. Paul's, with the reading of the Litany, and the offering of special prayers for peace.

Inviting everyone to join in the effort, O. L. Lake, student minister at St. Paul's said: "The present world situation, with the fighting in North Korea is serious, but not so serious as to make it impossible to avoid total war. Prayer is the most powerful force in the world, more powerful than the atomic bomb. Perhaps if enough of us join our hearts and voices together in an effort to avoid conflict, another disaster may be forestalled."
