VOL III.

THE OXFORD EXAMINER,
Published Weekly, in Oxford, North-Carolina, on a super royal sheet, and with good type,
BY
ROBERT J. YANCEY, Jr.

TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents per annum, if paid within Ninety days from the time of subscribing, otherwise Three Dollars, demandable at any time after the expiration of Ninety days. This rule will invariably be adhered to.
No Subscription received for a less term than one year, unless circumstances shall render it inconvenient for the subscriber, in which case the charge will be at the rate of Three Dollars per annum, payable in advance, and no person will be allowed to discontinue, but by giving one month's notice before the expiration of the subscription year, and paying all arrears.
No person who will procure SIX New Subscribers, and become responsible for their payment, shall be entitled to a liberal deduction from those charges.

Advertisements, of the ordinary kind, are inserted three times for one dollar, and 25 cents for each time after—larger advertisements, in proportion. Persons sending advertisements will mark the number of insertions required; or they will be continued and charged accordingly.
Persons making a yearly contract for advertising shall be entitled to a liberal deduction from those charges.
All letters to the Editor must be post paid, or the postage will be charged to the writer.

Bicknell's Reporter.
COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR AND PRIES CURRENT.

The only journal of the kind issued in the United States.

The third volume of this publication will be commenced, in an enlarged form and otherwise improved, on the 30th of July, 1832. For it we solicit the patronage of merchants, banking institutions, brokers, keepers of hotels, farmers, mechanics, manufacturers—the man of family and the bachelor, for to each and to all these classes of society it is our desire and design to render the "Reporter" a valuable and an interesting journal.

The Reporter has been published in the city of Philadelphia for two years—From the moment the prospectus was issued until the present time, its patronage has been constantly and rapidly increasing and it now has a circulation in every town and village in Pennsylvania; indeed, there are few portions of the United States where it may not be found. As its subscribers have increased, its character for usefulness has advanced, until from its pages the vast quantity of various kinds of useful information it contains, it is without a competitor.

The leading features of this publication may be enumerated as follows:

The Counterfeit List.
This list, which now occupies twelve closely printed columns, is the only complete and accurate list of all the counterfeit and altered notes on various banking institutions in the United States that is published in this country. It is inserted in the Reporter once in each month, and is made up with great diligence and labour—it contains detailed descriptions of all fraudulent notes that are or have been in circulation in this country, and is in fact the only infallible Detector of Counterfeits. The editor is in correspondence with most of the principal brokers and cashiers of banks in the United States, and is therefore enabled to furnish the earliest information upon this subject.

Prices Current and Review of the market.
Every number contains an accurate statement of the prices asked and obtained for all the principal articles offered for sale in Philadelphia, together with a review of the market, in which farmers, mechanics, families and storekeepers, are interested. This statement is gathered from the actual sales that have taken place in Philadelphia during the week previous to the day on which the Reporter is issued, and therefore embraces the most authentic intelligence that can possibly be obtained on this head.

Bank Note List and List of Broken Banks.
Under this head we are enabled to give every week the rates of discount in Philadelphia on all solvent banks, as well as a correct list of all insolvent and broken banks, throughout the United States. The utmost confidence can be placed in the accuracy of this list, as it is under special control of the publisher.

Prices of Stocks—Gold and Silver.
This portion of the Reporter is devoted to an authentic table giving the prices of the various descriptions Bank, Rail Road, Canal, Insurance, and all other stock, with the value of gold and silver coin of all countries, and is corrected weekly by Messrs. Alexander Benson & Co., gentlemen who at present are, and have been for many years more extensively engaged in the purchase and sale of this description of property, than any other brokers in this section of the country.

Political.
We shall endeavor, without political bias, to give enough of all sides to inform the reader what is going on in the political world.

Foreign and Domestic News.

This department of the Reporter is not neglected. We are in the receipt of the New York Journal of Commerce and the N. Y. Courier & Enquirer, the leading papers in this country, for obtaining the earliest foreign intelligence, and those who will refer to our course for the past year will discover that the Reporter has generally been in advance of all other weekly newspapers in circulating advices from foreign parts. We make the same reference with regard to local news; if there is any thing wonderful or strange that occurs in any part of the United States the whole history of the affair is served up promptly through our columns.

Literature &c.
Our literary department has not and shall not be neglected.

The terms of the weekly Reporter are 83 per annum. The semi-monthly 52, and monthly $1 25, Single copies 12 1/2 cents.

Notes on all solvent Banks in the United States, of a less denomination than five dollars will be received at par in payment for subscribers.

Orders from the country must be addressed to

Tin and Sheet Iron MANUFACTORY.

THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public that he continues manufacturing TIN & SHEET IRON WARE, in the store recently occupied by James M. Wiggins & Co. opposite Messrs. R. N. & D. C. Herndon's store; where will be found a complete assortment of Tin Ware, Sheet Iron Stoves and Stove Pipe. He would also inform the merchants of this and the adjoining counties, that they can be supplied with Tin Ware, by wholesale, as cheap as can be purchased at the North, and sent to their stores free of expense, if within 30 miles of his factory. All orders supplied with expedition, and the greatest attention paid to the quality of the ware.—Also, Tin Gutters and Conductors for Houses, made and put up in the best manner.

Old Copper, Brass, Pewter and Lead taken in exchange.

Accommodating Inn.

THE SUBSCRIBER,
Has leased for three years, the well known corner house called the Union Tavern, recently owned and kept by Mr. Parker F. Stone, and now the property of Gen. T. W. Norman, and has opened an Establishment for the entertainment of the public, equal in advantages to any similar house in this country, to be known in future by the name of the ACCOMMODATING INN. He has now possession, and by the first of February next will have his Stables all repaired and made comfortable, and will keep them in good order and well littered; they shall always be well furnished with Corn, Fodder and Oats, and attended by particularly selected, good, careful and attentive Ostlers. He will have room for between 50 and 75 horses.

His TABLE will always be well furnished with the best this country will afford—Also, good and comfortable Rooms, well furnished, and attended by honest and faithful servants, will at all times be ready for the accommodation of those who may call.

The BAR will be well supplied with the best selected and most choice domestic Spirits.

The Subscriber informs the public that he has engaged the services of Mr. and Mrs. MITCHELL, who have been for the last 20 years engaged in keeping Tavern in this place, and it is his design to give them the entire management of the business. They have come as near giving general satisfaction as any person ever did in the village. They also, feeling grateful for the many evidences of kindness bestowed upon them by this community, still pledge their best endeavors to please, and give the assurance that nothing shall be wanting on their part to render all comfortable and agreeably situated who may call. Their old friends and customers will find them as ready to wait upon them now as they were wont to do in better days.

In a word, the subscriber assures the public that no means shall be left untried to give general and entire satisfaction.

Coach Making

HARRIS WILLIAMS has taken the COACH SHOP, on Hillsboro' Street, formerly occupied by Stone & Williams, where he will carry on the above business in all its branches, on his own account. He tenders his thanks to his friends and the public for past favors, and respectfully solicits a continuance of public support. He will execute orders at short notice, and in the very best manner. His materials are good, and he has experienced workmen. He warrants all work done in his shop to endure well. Gigges, Carriages, Razees, &c. made to order, and all repairing promptly attended to.

MEACHAM & WHITE,

Tobacco Planters.

Publicly informs his friends and the public that he has removed to the House on Raleigh Street, recently occupied by Henry F. Ware, and formerly by John C. Palmer, where he still carries on the TAILORING BUSINESS, in all its departments. He tenders his grateful thanks for the patronage heretofore received, and solicits a future share of the patronage of the public. He deems it useless to speak of the manner in which he executes his work, as he has given satisfaction to those who have employed him, and the best test for others is to try him. He is determined to accommodate his prices to the exigencies of the times and he hopes his exertions will meet a liberal support.

TO TOBACCO PLANTERS.

THE Inspection of Tobacco is revived in the Town of Clarksville, situated on the Roanoke, one mile below Skipwith's Ferry, in the county of Mecklenburg.—The Warehouse is in complete repair, and ready for the Inspection of Tobacco. The Inspectors are believed to be well qualified for their business, and Tobacco Planters are invited to deliver their crops for Inspection and Sale. On Tuesday and Friday of every week the purchasers will attend the Inspection, and liberal prices will be given for Tobacco.

E. White and Wm. Hagar,

RESPECTFULLY inform the Printers of the United States, to whom they have long been individually known as established Letter Founders, that they have now formed a copartnership in said business, and hope from their united skill and extensive experience, to be able to give full satisfaction to all who may favor them with orders.

The introduction of machinery, in the process of casting type by hand, long a desideratum by the European and American Founders, was, by American ingenuity, and a heavy expenditure of time and money on the part of our senior partner, first successfully accomplished. Extensive use of the machine cast letter, has fully tested and established its superiority in every particular, over that cast by the old process.

The Letter Foundry business will hereafter be carried on by the parties before named, under the firm of White, Hagar & Co. Their specimen exhibits a complete series from Diamond to 14 lines Pica. The book and news type being in the most modern and light style.

White, Hagar & Co. are agents for the sale of the Smith and Rust Printing Presses, which they can furnish to their customers at the manufacturers' prices. Charles, Cases, Composing Sticks, Ink, and every article used in the Printing Business, kept on hand, and furnished on short notice. Old type taken in exchange for new at 9 cents per lb.

N. B. Newspaper proprietors who give the above three insertions, will be entitled to Five Dollars in such articles as they may select from our specimen.

MISCELLANY

THE WIFE.

"Feel'st thou no joy, no quiet happiness,
No soothing sense of satisfaction, in Loving, and being loved? Is there a weight
Removed from the heart, in knowing
there is one To share all with thee! I soothe grief.—
Yea, to so soften away its human pain
By a superior love, the cup to temper
With words of consolation and sweet
hope,
That even its very bitterness shall seem sweet,
Forgotten in the love that offers it!
E. B. READE.

Woman's love, like the rose blossoming
in the arid desert, spreads its rays

of love, and its fragrance is felt

in every heart.

It rises more strengthened from the absence of every other charm. In no situation does the love of woman appear more beautiful, than in that of wife-parents, brethren and friends, have claims upon the affections; but the love of a wife is of a distinct and different nature. A daughter may yield her life to the preservation of a parent, a sister may devote herself to a suffering brother, but the feelings which induce her to this conduct are not such as those which lead a wife
to follow her husband of her choice thro'
every peril that can befall him, to watch over him in danger, to cheer him in adversity, and even remain unalterable at his side in the depths of ignominy and shame. It is an heroic devotion which a woman displays in her adherence to the fortunes of a hapless husband; when we behold in her domestic scenes, a mere passive creature of enjoyment, an intellectual too, brightening the family circle with her endearments, and prized for the extreme joy which that presence and those endearments are calculated to impart we can scarcely credit that the fragile being, who seems to hold existence
by a thread, is capable of supporting the extreme of human suffering; nay, when the heart of man sinks beneath the weight of agony, that she should maintain her pristine powers of delight, and
by her words of comfort and patience,
lead the distracted murmurer to peace &
resignation.

Man profits by connexion with the world; but woman never; their constitutions of mind are different,—the principles of thought and action are moulded variously, and where the character of man is dignified and ennobled, that of a woman is degraded and ennobled.

The one is raised and exalted by mingled associations, the purity of the other is maintained in silence and seclusion—
Woman was created by the great giver
of all good, as the help mate for man
formed in a superior, though more fragile and delicate mould—endowed with purer and better feelings,—stronger and more exalted affections to play a distinct character in the great drama of the created world—in fact, to reward the toil and labours of man. God made her not man's slave, neither to buffet the billow
of the troubled sea of life, the jarring elements of public duties; but to share his pleasures,—to console his troubled tho't—
—to joy with him in his joy and exult in his happiness by her participatio and to ameliorate his griefs by kindness and endearments. Connection with the world destroys those finer traits feeling. She beholds man in all his pects stalking broad—the creature evil—the slave of debased thoughts,—a destroyer of innocence, the despoiler
all that is bright and beautiful,—and scenes of guile, of fraud, and villain
that meet the eyes, glances at eve
turn, gradually stifle the kindly feelin
of woman, and at length destroy that sophisticated purity of soul, or if you w
those feelings of romance, which, all t
best, and the most productive of happi ness in the sex, which

"Heaven made to temper man."
