1. It saves the expense of milk, eggs, shortening, turing good yeast, -water only being necessary. 2. No time is required for the dough to rise before baking; consequently bread may be made in a few minutes. 3. A cook can always depends upon having light, sweet, tender and palatable bread and biscuit whether the flour be of the best quality or not.

4 Bread made by this process is much more nuritious, easier of digestion, better fitted for a weak stomach, sweeter, whiter and lighter, than when made with yeast. 5. The bread made by fermentation does no afford the same amount of nourishment to the ystem, that it does when made with this compound because the vegetable acid contained in fermented bread, prevents the proper action of the gastric fluid upon it, and consequently, a part only goes to nourish the body, while the acids tend to produce dyspepsia and its attendant evils. The article has been thoroughly tested, and is universally liked.
