NOW READY. THE HIDDEN PATH,

A Novel. By MARION HABLAND, OF RICHMOND, VA. One Elegant 12mo. Vol. 434 Pages, Price, $1 25. THE extraordinary success of Miss Harland's "Alone"-running through eaition after edition, with great rapidity -re-published in England with a still larger sale -- translated into the French and German languages with marked success—is perhaps the best evidence of the originality and popularity of her writings. In the language of an eminent critic-"She may henceforth take rank among the most successful novelists of the United

"Those who have read "Alone" - and those who have not, should - will be interested and gratified to know, that a new book by Virginia's gifted anthoress, entitled "The Hidden Path," is now ready. Beautifully as "Marion Harland" has woven the threads of life in other romance and song-she is a poetess of rare felicity-we are safe in predicting that her new work will surpass all her previous effor's in fine delineation, brilliance and power, and that Mr. Derby will be called upon to record it on his books as one of the most popular and successful of modern literary issues. Since reading "Alone." we shall impatiently await the appearance of "The Hidden Path."—N. Y. Evening Mirror.

"The author goes into an examination of the statistics of California to ascertain her actual value to the Country, compared with her cost He gives her full credit for her gold, examines her other resources, agricultural and commercial, and comes to the conclusion that, in spite of the treasure she has been pouring so liberally into the world's lap, she has not yet paid for herself. Much space is devoted to the question of her present solvency and her future prospects, and the views advanced are to us novel. A residence of three years in California, in which the author has, at different periods, dwelt in all its regions, from San Francisco up to the mines, has given him a right to speak upon it, and he utters no half way opin-ion. He is positive in his statements, and cop-ious in his citations of facts hearing upon them. There is a fair share of adventure in his volume. The author sees all the lions of the Eureka State, goes into the drinking and gambling saloons of San Francisco and gives us an account of their interior, witnesses a bull and bear fight and describes it very minutely, meets with Chinese, Digger Indians, and all the mixed nations that frequent the new State, works at the mines, both Northern and Southern, and gives in his experience, which, in one case at least, is very amusing, and, in short, presents a picture of the entire country as he saw it. We believe the book is destined to attract attention. There is a freshness and naivete about it which removes the class of common works of travel."-Southern Quarterly Review. "Aside from his own experience, the author advances a number of statistics and general facts in proofs of the trath and in vindication of the severity of his allegations. The book is very entertaining, and will be read with great interest by every body.

"The author is a North Carolinian. He has written his book in a very agreeable style, and relates many interesting incidents. "It is well written, and cannot be read but with wonder and amazement. The work must have a great run." " Mr Helper supports his inferences and deductions by an array of facts and figures which stand out in bold relief when contrasted with the statements sometimes made and believed that Californis is hardly sess than an earthly paradise. As we design shortly to give an extended notice of the book, we forbear more comment at the present time, farther than to say that we have also resided for several years in the "golden State," and know personally that most of the statements made in the book (dismal as they are) are briefly true. "It is a book of merit in point of ability, and of value in its facts and truthfulness."
