

DUTY OF SOUTHERN PATRIOTS IN THE PRESENT CRISIS.

We take this occasion, despite Democratic hostilities to the contrary, to reiterate the opinion that the contest in the Northern States is not only a national one, but essentially a Southern one.

Such being the actual facts, it is equally the duty of patriots of all parties in the present crisis? How can they best bestow their votes in order to defeat Fremont, and prostrate now and forever, the Republican sectionalism of the North?

It is the national question of the North-South, and we maintain that it is the solemn duty of the South to sustain the election of Millard Fillmore. And why? Because, to reply practically on our observations, Mr. Fillmore will carry the South, and will ensure his election, provided he obtains the vote of the South.

Mr. Fillmore's success would be placed beyond the reach of controversy; and if you give the united vote of the South to Buchanan, it is still possible for him to be elected, for the reason that he will be able to carry the requisite number of Northern States, should he be elected.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

A SOUTH CAROLINA ADVOCATE FOR MR. FILLMORE.

The Charleston News, which, a few days since, declared its preference for Mr. Buchanan, though it is now a decided champion of Mr. Fillmore, publishes a photograph of Mr. Fillmore, and a notice, announcing that a number of American members had resolved to continue their support of Mr. Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

THE DUTY OF THE SOUTH.

Mr. Fillmore is gaining steadily all over the North. There is not a non-slavery State which will not be controlled by him, and if we accept Wisconsin and Illinois, there is no doubt that he will carry the whole North.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

THE DUTY OF THE SOUTH.

Mr. Fillmore is gaining steadily all over the North. There is not a non-slavery State which will not be controlled by him, and if we accept Wisconsin and Illinois, there is no doubt that he will carry the whole North.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

THE DUTY OF THE SOUTH.

Mr. Fillmore is gaining steadily all over the North. There is not a non-slavery State which will not be controlled by him, and if we accept Wisconsin and Illinois, there is no doubt that he will carry the whole North.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

THE DUTY OF THE SOUTH.

Mr. Fillmore is gaining steadily all over the North. There is not a non-slavery State which will not be controlled by him, and if we accept Wisconsin and Illinois, there is no doubt that he will carry the whole North.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

It is a "hard fact" that Buchanan cannot be elected, and that the only man who can be elected is Fillmore. It is, therefore, of the first importance, if the South wishes to prevent the election of Fremont, that it should determine to support Fillmore.

CATHARTIC PILLS.

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal system to purify the blood and stimulate its vitality. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, and liver, and by restoring their regular action to health, correct whatever they meet, such as indigestion, flatulence, &c.

PHILIP RAHM, Cary Street, Between Pearl and 15th. Locomotive Engines, Tenders, Rail Road Cars, and all descriptions of Machinery, Steam Engines of any required power; also, portable Engines, with a decided improvement over any others heretofore made.

NOTICE. WAS committed to the Jail of Cumberland County, North Carolina, on the 11th inst. as a runaway, a negro man who says that his name is OSTER, and had been brought to this County, of Pitt County, and that he was in possession and at work with Mr. Henrath, of that County, at the time he ran away.

NOTICE. I have determined to remove South, I now offer my valuable tract of land for sale, containing FOUR HUNDRED ACRES, of which about one hundred and fifty acres are in a fine state of cultivation.

REWARD! RAN AWAY from the Subscriber, the 6th day of July, 1856, a negro man by the name of JACK, said negro is between thirty and thirty-five years of age, stout-built, and about five feet high; he has a down-cast, slow eye, spoken in a hoarse, guttural manner, and has a scar on his forehead, and a scar on his back part of his head, and has a scar on his leg, caused by the cut of an axe.

A MILLER WANTED. THE Subscriber wishes to employ a good Miller, who understands thoroughly the grinding of wheat. None need apply, unless they can be well recommended as to character, habits and competency as a Miller. Address: P. T. BORWOOD, W. H. HOBBES, No. 25, 1856.

Behold! THE Subscriber intending to remove to "Beaufort," at the close of the year, offers for sale the place, where he resides, admitted by all to be among the most delightful residences of the up-country, in the midst of a most fertile neighborhood, contiguous to good Schools, and unsurpassed for health; situated on the road leading from Beaufort to Tarboro, and to Raleigh, and about two miles east of the latter.

WYCHE'S CULTIVATING PLW. PATENTED 26TH FEBRUARY, 1856. (The Bladed Plow) awarded 20 dollars premium at the N. C. Fair, with cutting blades in the place of moldboard, cuts, divides and turns over the heavy, clumpy mass of soil, and turning over the soil, &c. on the surface. It is cheap, light and strong, and adapted to all purposes for which the plow is used.

ANDREW J. STEDMAN, ATTORNEY AT LAW. Having removed to Pittsburgh, N. C., will attend to the Courts of Chatham, Moore and Harriet Counties. Pittsburg, July 12, 1856.