Office over D. G. Murray's Store,
OPPOSITE THE POST-OFFICE,
OF all the causes which gradually reduce the human system to the final termination of life, few are more general, or more constant and effective than decay in the Teeth.
The Dental nerves are so connected with other important nerves which have an intimate relation to all parts of the human system, that the various organs of an suffer severely from nervous affections of the teeth. The science of Dental surgery, affords the most certain means of relief, and by timely application, teeth may be preserved for life. S. Babcock will perform all operations pertaining to Dentistry, with the greatest care and in a scientific manner.
Treatment of Children's Teeth in Different Condition, operations for diseased Gums, Ulcers and Tumors of the mouth. Artificial Teeth inserted from one to a full set, on Gold, Silver or Platina plates with or without gums
The greatest care will be taken to render the expression and peculiar natural harmony of the Teeth. Many persons fail in giving the natural character to the patient, in substituting the artificial Teeth, instead of harmonizing with the laws of nature, exhibit an unmeaning grandeur, expression frequently resembling the character of some other person than that for whom they were intended.—SANFORD BABCOCK, D. BAY LEAVES.—This delightful article, which has been used so extensively throughout the world for centuries past under the name of "Bay Rum," as a remedy for Nervous Headache, and for affections of the Head generally and for diseases of the Scalp and Hair, has at last been produced to that state of concentration which renders it a remedy worthy the attention of all. In its present state of concentration, which has been effected alone by a series of chemical experiments by the inventor, the Concentrated Extract of Bay Leaves is now presented to this entire city as a remedy unsurpassed in arresting the decay of the Hair, the removal of Dandruff, and of relieving by a few applications, that distressing itching which most generally precedes the falling of the Hair. The inventor, several years since, originally prepared it for a member of his family, (having no confidence in the nostrums usually sold) who had a most distressing decay of the hair and such were the decided effects that its reputation at once became established, and hundreds of calls have since been made for it, without any effort of puffing whatever. Such has excited the reputation of Sumner's Bay Leaves that the inventor has been induced to manufacture it upon an extensive scale, and he now offers it with the fullest confidence to the entire public.

SWAIM'S JUSTICE REVISED,
THE NORTH CAROLINA MAGISTRATE,
A practical Guide to the Laws of the State, and the decisions of the Supreme Court, defining the duties and Jurisdiction of the Justices of the Peace out of Court under the Revised Code 1854—56, together with full instructions and numerous new
FORMS AND PRECEDENTS,
BY
EDWARD CANTWELL, LL. B.,
COUNSELLOR AT LAW.
The above is the title of a work which has been recently published by the undersigned at the North Carolina Bookstore, Raleigh, N. C, and is now for sale in
One Vol. of nearly 600 pages, at the low price of $3 00. Postage to any part of the State, or of the United States, 50 cents. Upon the receipt of a free dollar N. C. Bank Bill the work will be mailed to address and the change enclosed in United State post office stamps.

RECOMMENDATIONS.
FROM THE [illegible] STANDARD.
We have examined the work with some care, and we take pleasure in saying that Mr. Cantwell has performed his compiling and preparing it, important and useful service to the Magistrates and people of this State. Justices of the peace will indeed find it not merely practical, but an almost indispensable guide in the performance of their responsible, and so often unrequired duties, while members of the bar and others interested in the law, will be aided in very many instances by the "cases cited," and the Forms and precedents which are given The work will no doubt, have as it deserves, a very general circulation. It is neatly printed and bound in good style.

FROM THE HON. DAVID L. SWAIN—PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA.
University of North Carolina, 17th October, 1856.
DEAR SIR:—Your note of the 24 ult., with the accompanying copy of the North Carolina Magistrate, was duly received.
My time has recently been fully occupied in the discharge of official duties, and by pressing private engagements. I have consequently had it in my power to give but little attention to your book—and it is so long since I retired from the profession, that though I retain some knowledge of legal principles, I am not very familiar with the details of the science, and am therefore not qualified to pronounce very confidently upon anything, but the general plan of the work—upon which I am very favorably impressed. I have at my command all the publications of a similar character, which have heretofore been published in this State. Dulie, Morton, Haywood, Potter and Swaim. Yours is truly stated to be an original work, is more systematic and scientific in its arrangement than any of its predecessors, is evidently the result of great labor, and if you shall be found, as I hope you will, to have attained the precise accuracy necessary in a treatise of this nature, you are entitled to the credit of having rendered an important public service.
To the Magistrate, such a guide to the proper discharge of his duties is indispensable, and to every intelligent man it may be useful on many occasions. It is very important for obvious reasons, that the Revised Code, which has so recently been placed in the hands of all the Justices of the peace in the State, shall be accompanied by an accurate exposition of the character of that to which your labors seem to have been so judiciously devoted.
Yours, very respectfully,
D. L. SWAIN
EDWARD CANTWELL, Esq.

FROM THE HON. RICHARD H. PEARSON, JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT OF NORTH CAROLINA.
Richmond Hill, November 20, 1856.
MY DEAR SIR:—During the Fall, I have had time to look over "Cantwell's Justice," and am gratified to be able to say, I was pleased with it. The style is good, the arrangement admirable, so as to entitle it to a better name than "Swaim's Justice Revised." It evinces a very commendable degree of pains-taking and labor, and will in my opinion be a useful work.
I would recommend it to every intelligent magistrate, and especially to every young lawyer—They are most apt to meet with questions of the kind you explain, and will be greatly in debt to you, for aid in respect to what are usually considered small matters, but which puzzles a young practitioner more than any other, for the reason that they are not treated of in the ordinary text-books.
Yours truly.
R. M PEARSON.

FROM THE HON. THOMAS RUFFIN—LATE CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT OF NORTH CAROLINA.
Raleigh, January 8th, 1857.
MY DEAR SIR:—I have with pleasure perused your "North Carolina Magistrate," as I have for a considerable time thought a work of that kind needed, and in my opinion, yours, in its plan and execution, is calculated to be very useful.—The Justices of the Peace form a numerous body, and though very responsible, and necessarily invested with high powers in many respects, are generally unlearned in the law, and their ministerial officers still less so; and your treatise seems to me to be such a plain, yet concise, compendium of the law, touching the powers, duties, rights, and responsibilities of Justices of the Peace and Constables, and of the forms of Process and proceedings by those officers, as cannot fail to render it highly instructive to those who may read it carefully, and useful for reference to almost every one in office
I am, Dear Sir, very respectfully
Your friend and obed't serv't,
THOMAS RUFFIN.
