and Navy of the United der it one of the most desirable estates in Eastern North Carolina.

The buildings, including a substantial residence, a large new and commodious Barn and stables. Overseer's house and extensive negro quarters, are in a thorough state of repair.

There are also attached two fisheries, one upon the Sound and the other upon the River, which have been operated successfully, and with small expense can be again put into operation.

Terms shall be made easy.

Pessession will be given on the 1st day of January, 1860, and the purchaser shall have the opportunity of raising as large a Wheat crop as he may desire immediately after the sale. The owner respectfully invites the Farming Public to the advantages which are herein truly set forth in regard to his farm, and can refer them to any citizen of this or adjoining counties for a confirmation of the same. He will also take great pleasure in giving all persons who will visit the premises a thorough opportunity of examining its advantages for themselves. CHARLES W. SKINNER, Jr.

This institution offers to Southern Students every facility for the attainment of a complete Medical Ed ucation. Through the liberality of the Legislature at its late session, in appropriating the sum of Thirty Thousand Dollars in aid of the College, these facilities will now be much extended. Large and important additions are being made to the Museum; the Chemical Apparatus and other means employed to illustrate the Lectures in the several departments. The College building is undergoing repairs and desirable altera-tions, and a new Hospital is in course of erection, in immediate proximity to the College, which will greatly enlarge the means of Chemical instruction. Ample facilities will be afforded for the prosecution of Practical Anatomy.

Instead of the single "Warren Prize" of One Hun-dred Dollars heretofore offered to members of the graduating class, two prizes of Fifty Dollars each arnow offered, one for the best Essay on any Surgical subject, and the other for the best Essay on any subject pertaining to the Theory or Practice of Medicine.
